LOCAL ELECTION GREAT VICTORY WON IN POLICE COURT

The Vote in the Congressional and Other Contests

Col. Carmichael Beaten by Narrow Margin—Lost Most Heavily in Democratic Wards—Joseph L. Marin Gets Sweeping Majority in Lowell—Senators and Representatives Elected

THE ELECTED.

Col. Butler Ames, R, Fifth Congressional District.

Hon. Joseph H. Hibbard, R, Eighth Senatorial District.

Hon. Frank P. Bennett, Jr., R, Seventh Senatorial District.

Edward Fisher, D, 11th Representative District.

George H. Stevens, R, 14th Representative District.

Dennis A. Murphy, D, 15th Representative District.

Eugene F. Toomey, D, 16th Representative District.

Erson B. Barlow, R, and George E. Marchand, R, 17th Representative District.

Charles T. Killpatrick, R, 18th Representative District.

Thomas S. Cuff, D, 19th Representative District.

John J. Higgins, R, District Attorney.

John R. Fairbairn, R, High Sheriff.

Charles H. Richardson, R, County Commissioner.

The landslide that swept over Massachusetts yesterday landed broadside against Lowell and democratic candidates right and left carried the city. Here are some of the majorities and pluralities:

For governor—Foss, D., 34,222.

Lieut. Governor—Cassidy, D., 14,683.

Secretary of state—Martel, D., 19,111.

Congress—Carmichael, D., 30.

County commissioner—Whittemore, D., 981.

County commissioner—Fairbanks, D., 1,522.

Asso. Commissioner—Marin, D., 24,668.

Asso. commissioner—Colahan, D., 14,683.

District attorney—Irwin, D., 898.

Sheriff—Tuck, D., 915.

The most regrettable feature of yesterday's election in Lowell was the small majority of Col. Carmichael even if he did have a net gain of 1693 over Ames' vote two years ago, but of the congressional election more is said below.

The Gubernatorial Vote.

Lowell was a Foss city from the start and yet none dreamed how strong the returns would show it to be, except one, J. L. Chalfoux, who while riding with Mr. Foss in this city a few evenings ago ventured the prediction that Foss would carry Lowell by 3500. Mr. Foss was highly delighted but thought that Mr. Chalfoux was allowing his enthusiasm to run away with his judgment. Mr. Foss at that time said: "I feel confident that I will get a handsome plurality in Lowell for Lowell has been with me from the start. If I get two-thirds of what you predict, Mr. Chalfoux, I will consider that Lowell has done her full duty by me."

Mr. Cassidy, for lieutenant-governor, carried the city by 1489 and it is the opinion that he suffered throughout the state by being listed as a candidate on democratic nomination papers rather than as a regular democrat. The French-American voters paid a nice compliment to Mr. Charles J. Martel, democratic candidate for secretary of state, who carried the city by 1911.

Congressional Contest.

On Monday night Hon. Joseph J. Flynn said to a reporter of The Sun: "If Carmichael is defeated it will not be the fault of Lawrence, but of Lowell. I will guarantee you that Carmichael will carry Lawrence by at least 1500 votes. It remains for Lowell to do as well." Mr. Flynn made good his assurance for Lawrence gave Carmichael a majority of 1868; Lowell produced a majority of 32,987. Practically every country town gave Carmichael a net gain even to little Tyngsboro where

EUGENE N. FOSS, D., GOVERNOR ELECT.

By the Democrats in Electing Their Candidate by 32,987 Plurality

Yesterday's election in Massachusetts resulted in a sweeping democratic victory in the election of Eugene N. Foss for governor by a plurality of 32,987 and with large democratic gains all along the line. The democrats won two congressional seats and lost one.

Victor and vanquished sat down today with pencil and paper to figure out how they won and lost the state election yesterday, in which the democrats swept Congressman Eugene N. Foss into the gubernatorial chair, captured five out of 14 seats in the congressional delegation but missed securing control of the legislature by a narrow margin.

Revised returns for governor from the entire state were as follows:

Eugene N. Foss, 220,148.

Eben S. Draper, 187,161.

Foss' plurality, 32,987.

Louis A. Frothingham, 198,292.

Thomas F. Cassidy, 193,158.

Frothingham's plurality, 5,134.

The next legislature will stand as follows:

Senators: republicans 25; democrats 16.

House: republicans 128; democrats 111; socialists 1.

The new legislature will decide whether United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge shall be given another term and in the joint convention the republicans will have 153 to 126 votes for the democrats.

ELECTION IN THE STATE

BOSTON, Nov. 9.—Gov. Eben S. Draper, republican, was engulfed in the great democratic tidal wave that swept over the country yesterday and Eugene N. Foss, the democratic candidate for governor, was swept into office by a plurality of 32,000, almost equalling the vote of William L. Douglas, the last democrat to be elected to the governorship of Massachusetts in 1904.

The vote for governor was: Foss, 227,142; Draper, 194,204.

In almost any other state a plurality of the size given Gov. elect Foss yesterday would have carried the rest of the state along with it, but disorganizing republican Massachusetts always hesitates at voting for the rest of the democratic state ticket, although occasionally registering its protest against party policy or a nomination and voting for the democratic nominee. And this was true yesterday, when Thomas F. Cassidy, the democratic nominee for lieutenant-governor, failed of election.

Lieut. Gov. Louis A. Frothingham, republican, managed to ride the democratic tidal wave safely and landed for the third time high and dry with a plurality of about 5000.

The vote for lieutenant-governor: Frothingham, 208,841; Cassidy, 197,951.

Thayer Defeats Washburn

The democrats didn't increase their congressional delegation as much as they expected. They captured the 3d or Worcester district, where John Alden Thayer defeated Congressman Charles G. Washburn for reelection by about 512 votes, giving them four congressmen in the next house, the others being William F. Murray in the 5th who won by 1614 plurality; James M. Curley in the 10th, who defeated Calvin by 3452; and Congressman Andrew J. Peters in the 11th, who was reelected, defeating W. Dudley Cotton, Jr. by about 5200.

Officer Rourke Shows Leniency to Prisoner Who Assaulted Him

Martin Curtin appeared before Judge Hadley in police court this morning on complaints charging him with drunkenness and assault upon Patrolman Michael Rourke. Through his counsel, Daniel J. Donahue, pleas of guilty were entered and the leniency of the court requested. Inasmuch as the defendant has a wife and two children dependent upon him the officer did not care about pressing the assault charge and agreed to have the matter continued for one week in order that Curtin might make restitution for his loss of time, medical expenses and damage done to his clothing.

Monday night while Patrolman Rourke was passing through Agawam street Mrs. Curtin and her two children met him and the woman informed him that her husband was drunk and after threatening to do them bodily harm put them out of the house. The officer went to the Curtin house only to find that Curtin had left. He remained in the vicinity for about 15 minutes and was about to leave when Curtin entered the yard and after using vile language asked the officer what he was doing there.

Patrolman Rourke told Curtin that a complaint had been made and that unless he behaved himself he would be sent to the station. As the officer turned his back on Curtin to leave the yard the latter struck him over the head, breaking his helmet. Then followed a rough and tumble fight in which the guardian of the peace got the better of the argument without resorting to any excessive use of force.

Curtin was brought to the patrol box at the junction of Agawam and Lawrence streets. While Patrolman Rourke was attempting to put in a call Curtin grabbed his right hand and getting three of the officer's fingers in his mouth chewed them severely. A blow on the side of the face caused Curtin to let go but he still continued to fight and the officer in spite of his injured hand got the better of his man and finally landed him at the police station.

When the case was called in court yesterday it was continued till this morning. When the patrolman stated his side of the case to the court the latter said that he had a right to prosecute the man if he wished to do so, but Patrolman Rourke said that on account of the man's family he would not wish to see the man go to jail.

Drunken Offenders

Mary Mann, charged with being drunk, was ordered to pay a fine of $5. Two first offenders were fined $3 each while two simple drunks were released.

"PETE" FISHER

Westford Democrats Carries 11th Dist.

The democrats of the 11th representative district had cause for great rejoicing for they elected Edward Fisher, a democrat, in a district composed of six republican towns. Mr. Fisher, who is familiarly called "Pete," is a son of the late Alvah Fisher, who in life was one of Westford's foremost citizens. He is a brother of Judge Frederick Fisher and is associated with him in the practice of law. In this city Mr. Fisher's campaign was ably managed by Ex-Secretary James P. Dunham of North Chelmsford.

The vote of the district was as follows:

Fisher, D.	Wilkins, R.
Acton	105	228
Ayer	249	145
Carlisle	34	51
Chelmsford	315	258
Littleton	193	51

THE NEXT CONGRESS

May be in Control of the Democratic Party

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—While the retrains indicated that the next house of representatives would be democratic, many of the republican leaders who are serving in the present congress will continue in the next house as members of the minority.

A number of the most prominent republicans went down to defeat. These included Representative Mann of Illinois, one of Speaker Cannon's closest lieutenants and the father of the railroad bill, passed in the closing days of the last session. Representative Tawney of Minnesota, chairman of the house committee on appropriations, had been already defeated for re-nomination and his young successor at the primaries, Sidney Anderson, was elected yesterday. Speaker Cannon, republican floor leader, Sereno Payne, and republican "whip" Dwight, both of New York; Walter E. Smith of Iowa, and W. E. Oats of Ohio, were among those who would have been candidates for speaker in the event of republican success; John Dalzell, of Pennsylvania, a member of both the ways and means, and rules committees, all of these being regular republicans close to the speaker, were returned to the next congress.

Some of the more conspicuous losers to the republican side are Madden and Moxley of Chicago, the last named holding the seat formerly filled by United States Senator Lorimer, and Herbert Parsons of New York, and William S. Bennett, who for a while this year was groomed for the republican nomination for governor of New York, prominent in the house "insurrection" was reported at midnight to have been defeated.

Caleb Powers of Kentucky, a conspicuous figure in the prosecution following the shooting of Governor Goshel, will be one of the interesting figures of the next congress.

Republicans recovered the thirty-second New York district, which was lost only a year ago to the democrats when James S. Havens caused a sensation by wresting it from Republican Leader Aldrich. Yesterday that district elected a republican, Henry C. Danforth, who, with Barr, of the 10th Pennsylvania district, scored the only two certain republican gains in the house up to a late hour.

Early returns foreshadowed the defeat of William W. Cocks of the Oyster Bay district in congress and known as "President Roosevelt's intimate personal friend."

One of the surprises in up-state New York was the defeat of Charles S. Millington, of the 27th district congress, a member who did not like any conspicuous part in the house, but who commanded interest as represented Vice President Sherman's home town. Millington was beaten by Charles A. Talcott.

Many of the original insurgents are left in the house, including Henry A. Cooper, whom Speaker Cannon deposed from the insular affairs committee and who in the famous scene of last March excoriated the speaker from the "floor." Irvine L. Lenoir, of Wisconsin, conspicuous as United States Senator La Follette's representative in the lower branch of congress, Murdock and Madison of Kansas, Gardner of Massachusetts, and Kusterman of Wisconsin, at whose instigation the ship subsidy investigation was made last spring and summer.

The socialist gain expected by some of the Wisconsin members resulted in sending to congress Victor L. Berger of Milwaukee, in place of William H. Stafford, a lieutenant of Representative Mann in the railroad bill fight. Stafford had not been re-nominated.

The shift of power from the republicans to the democrats in the next house, following out the strenuous predictions of minority leader Champ Clark, who is not only an open candidate for the speakership, but has been often mentioned as a possible democratic candidate for president, in all probability will result in the republicans forcing through as much legislation as possible at the coming short session. The present congress expires on March 4.

FAIR WAS OPENED

In Vestry of St. Paul's Church

A three nights' fair opened in the vestry of St. Paul's church last night under very auspicious circumstances. There was a large attendance of parishioners and friends, an excellent entertainment program was carried out, the place was decorated in a beautiful and artistic manner and the different booths did a rushing business.

A feature of the evening was the banquet, an excellent menu being served.

The pastor, Rev. Hiram W. Hook had general charge of the affair and his guests during the evening were Rev. P. K. Stratton, Rev. and Mrs. L. W. Staples, Rev. George B. Dean and his sister, Mrs. Williamson, Rev. J. T. Carlson and Rev. C. E. Fisher. The supper was provided by the Ladies' Aid society. The Germania orchestra played.

Tonight the T. M. T. M. club will furnish the entertainment, which is entitled "The Sweet Family." On Thursday night there will be a "Fair Drift" by the children.

The fair will be open at 4 o'clock p. m.

One of the chief features of the fair is a country store and postoffice, with Miss Edith Hinchcliffe in charge of the latter, and with the following committee of men running the store: B. V. Searle, chairman; V. E. Meisler, A. L. Macrae, Fred Brooks, Geo. Searlett, George H. Hinchcliffe, Garfield Horn, Walter Boynton, Charles Drew,

JUDSON HARMON

Was Re-elected Governor of Ohio

CLEVELAND, Nov. 9.—The democrats yesterday swept Ohio and in addition to electing Judson Harmon for a second term as governor have undoubtedly elected the remainder of their state ticket and a majority of the legislature. In consequence Senator Dick, republican, will be succeeded in 1911 by a democrat.

Sufficient returns this morning show that Harmon's plurality over Harding, republican, is the largest ever given by Ohio to a democrat. The latest estimates give Harmon a margin of 60,000.

Two hundred and ten precincts out of 360 in Cuyahoga county, which includes Cleveland give Harmon. 27,026 and Harding 15,486, against Harmon's 23,876 and Harris, republican, 27,316 in 1908. If carried out, this would give Harmon a plurality of 16,000 in Cuyahoga county. Hamilton county was given Harmon large gains over his vote two years ago.

The new Ohio congressional delegation will contain 13 and possibly 15 democrats out of the 21 as Congressman Goshel in the second district and Fawcett in the sixth are being hard pressed by their democratic opponents.

JOHN K. TENER REV. E. C. RAMETTE

Elected by Plurality of About 20,000

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 9.—John K. Tener, a plurality for governor of Pennsylvania may be as low as 20,000 or even much less when complete figures are in. Estimates for 65 of the counties give the republican candidate a lead of about 28,000 and the missing counties, Elk, Northampton, Pike and Snyder, are expected to show pluralities for William M. Berry, the Key-stone party candidate. Webster Grim, the democratic gubernatorial candidate, ran far behind his two opponents. Philadelphia gave Tener a greatly reduced plurality, he carrying the city by 45,254 votes over Berry. Estimates show that Berry, democrat, polled sufficient independent votes to carry the state outside of Philadelphia.

Congressman Reynolds, republican, for lieutenant governor, and Henry Houck, republican, for secretary of internal affairs, were elected by pluralities about the same as Tener's.

The Pennsylvania congressional delegation, according to the latest figures, stands: republican 22, democrats 3, with two districts doubtful, as compared with the present delegation of 27 republicans and 5 democrats.

New Pastor Installed Last Night

Rev. Edward C. Ramette, the new pastor of the French Baptist church in Centralville, was installed last night and given a reception of welcome by the parishioners. There was a large attendance including representative members of the Baptist churches throughout the city.

Rev. S. W. Cummings of the First Baptist church acted as chairman, and extended the welcome of the Baptist community to Rev. Mr. Ramette. The welcome from the church was tendered by Deacon Isai Laporte, while the welcome was made by Nelson Belanger and that of the Sunday school by George Desforges.

The following clergymen were also present to extend greetings to Mr. Ramette: Rev. A. P. Wedge, of the Western Street Baptist church; Rev. Oliver Brullette, of the Salem French Baptist church and formerly pastor of the Lowell church; Rev. Asa R. Dilts, of the Calvary Baptist church; Rev. Lester Macdonald, of the First Street Baptist church, and Rev. B. H. Harris.

of the Paige Street Baptist church. Other greetings were extended by H. C. Fuller and Deacon Warren L. Lloyd of the First Baptist church, and Emile Palmer. Written greetings were also read from Rev. A. P. Blouin of the Central M. E. church; J. M. Williams of Providence, former secretary of the Home Mission society; and the Chelmsford Street Free Baptist church. At the close of the evening Mr. Ramette responded feelingly to all the friendly tributes which had been so kindly extended him, and which gave him, he said, much encouragement in the taking up of his work.

Besides the speeches, there was a delightful program of music. The church orchestra played. Miss Louise Desforges sang charmingly first in English, "The Golden Gate," and then as her second number, in French, a composition by Mr. Ramette himself, and entitled "Nem de Jesus." There was also singing by the congregation. Miss Emma Desforges played the organ.

During the latter part of the evening refreshments were served under the direction of Mrs. D. H. Laporte, president of the committee. Assisting Mrs. Laporte were: Mrs. J. B. Menard, Mrs. Nelson Belanger and Mrs. Tellesphore Desforges.

Mr. Ramette and his wife are both natives of France, where their marriage took place, and came to America 26 years ago. Mr. Ramette has been in the ministry 20 years, having filled two pastorates during those years the first of nine years in Providence, and the second and last, of 11 years in Woonsocket. He is a graduate of Newton Theological seminary.

A GRAND MEDICINE

For Coughs and Colds

"I think DR. GRADY'S PURE MALT AND RYE is a grand medicine. I have taken three bottles, and I think it is just what is required in every home. One night my wife coughed so long, I thought she would die. At last I thought of half a bottle of DR. GRADY'S PURE MALT AND RYE that I had in my medicine chest. I also got some hot water and put two spoonfuls of this grand medicine in a half glass of hot water and sweetened to taste. She went to sleep, and I don't think she ever coughed since that night. I am also taking DR. GRADY'S LIVER PILLS for sour stomach and liver trouble, and am glad to say that they have helped me more than anything that I have ever tried."

Have You Tried?

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? We can furnish positive proof that it has made many remarkable cures after all other means had failed.

Women who are suffering with some form of female illness should consider this.

As such evidence read these two unsolicited testimonial letters. We guarantee they are genuine and honest statements of facts.

Cresson, Pa.—"Five years ago I had a bad fall, and hurt myself inwardly. I was under a doctor's care for nine weeks, and when I stopped I grew worse again. I sent for a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, took it as directed, and now I am a stout, hearty woman."—Mrs. Ella E. Ailkey, Cresson, Pa.

Baird, Wash.—"A year ago I was sick with kidney and bladder troubles and female weakness. The doctors gave me up. All they could do was to just let me go as easily as possible. I was advised by friends to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier. I am completely cured of my illness, and I am nearly sixty years old."—Mrs. Sarah Leighton, Baird, Wash.

Evidence like the above is abundant showing that the derangements of the female organism which breed all kinds of miserable feelings and which ordinary practice does not cure, are the very disorders that give way to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Women who are afflicted with similar troubles, after reading two such letters as the above, should be encouraged to try this wonderfully helpful remedy.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

LYNCH NEGROES SOUGHT DEATH

Two Hanged to the Same Pole Youth Was Told What Cough Meant

MONTEZUMA, Ga., Nov. 9.—Two negroes, instead of one as first reported, were hanged from a telegraph pole, Monday night, in Flint river swamps, less than a mile from the center of the city.

William Barnes and John Walker were held for the murder of Night Policeman Bush of Montezuma. Walker was forcibly taken from the jail at Oglethorpe by a mob. Barnes was arrested Monday and after being taken to Oglethorpe was brought back to the workhouse here. He is said to have made a full confession.

At 9 o'clock Monday night people here heard a number of pistol shots, and investigating found the body of Barnes dangling from the telegraph pole and riddled with bullets. At midnight more pistol shots were heard, and yesterday morning the body of Walker was seen hanging from the same pole.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—The fragile figure of a half-grown lad sat huddled on an open bench opposite the Twenty-third street ferry house late last night. A chill wind from off the Hudson cut through his thread-bare clothes and a big policeman noticed that the boy's big brown eyes glowed with the light of fever. As the policeman strolled away there was a shot.

"Let me die," the boy was telling the policeman. "I'm too tired to live. I'm sick. I have nothing to live for."

The bullet had only grazed his head. They said of 15-year-old Sam Sabornia at Bellevue yesterday that he came to America to escape the dull poverty of his little Italian home and obtain an education. The Italian boy went to work in a "sweat shop." The long days of toil were followed by nights of study. His chest became hollow, his voice husky and then the cough came. A physician told him what it meant and last night the lad tried to end it all in the hospital. Yesterday he had the first care and comfort he had known since he landed an ambitious new-comer to America over a year ago.

STETSON SHOT

Received Full Charge From Friend's Gun

DAMARISCOTTA, Me., Nov. 9.—Abner Stetson of this town, while hunting rabbits in the neighboring woods yesterday morning, was the victim of a shotgun wound made by his friend and companion, Charles Sherman.

While the accident happened so suddenly that even Sherman is unable to give a complete account of it, it appears that Stetson was some 20 feet in the lead and both raised their guns evidently to fire at the same animal.

Stetson fired and Sherman believes that in his excitement he suddenly stepped to one side just at the moment to catch in his right shoulder the full force of the fire from Sherman's gun.

The wound caused Stetson to faint away. Sherman bandaged the wound as best he could, then made Stetson comfortable and went in search of help to get the young man home.

A surgeon later removed more than 20 pieces of shattered bone from the shoulder, besides a quantity of shot. It is not believed the wound will prove fatal although Stetson will be likely to suffer from its effects for many months.

Sherman was grief-stricken over the affair, but his friends do not hold him responsible for the accident.

MILLS DESTROYED

Loss Is Estimated at $10,000

BRUNSWICK, Me., Nov. 9.—The second big fire loss for the week occurred last evening when the stocking factory of the Brunswick Knitting mills was destroyed.

The fire was discovered by Arthure Belanger, Jr., a Western Union messenger boy, who gave the alarm from box 61 at 7:05 o'clock. The fire was first seen on the roof and was caused by sparks. It is said, from the evening train to Lewiston on the Maine Central railroad.

When the firemen arrived the flames had a big start and as the three-story wooden building was as dry as tinder they were unable to save the mill or the boiler room, although a portion of the old part of the mill, in which there was no machinery, remains standing, although damaged.

The officers of the Brunswick knitting mills are Turner C. Hutton, president and John P. Winchell, treasurer.

The mill had just been overhauled and was running on full time with orders on hand which would keep it busy all winter. The loss is between $10,000 and $11,000 with 90 per cent. insurance.

A NEW DECREE

Has Been Issued By the Vatican

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—The Herald prints today a special cable dispatch dated at Rome, yesterday, as follows:

A decree of the utmost importance to all bishops and priests in the United States has been issued by the consistorial congregation. Up to the present the bishops have been the sole arbiters in determining the removal of rectors of parishes, of which there are about 8000 in the United States. The new decree completely changes this system and establishes a rigorous procedure, regulating all such removals.

In the first place, the number of causes which can justify the removal of a rector against his will are clearly specified under nine heads, including perpetual insanity, grave physical or mental incapacity, loss of reputation, imminent danger of scandal, rooted hostility of the people, bad administration, gross neglect of parochial duties and confirmed disobedience, but even when any of these causes is obviously present the bishop cannot remove the offending rector on his own initiative.

In every case a number of examiners and consultants must be appointed. When a case of removal is to be discussed the bishop must call the two senior examiners, and with them institute a formal examination of the case. Then the bishop and the two examiners vote, if a majority of two is in favor of removal, the rector is formally invited to resign.

If he declines he has the right of presenting evidence to show that the decision was wrong, and the tribunal of three examines all the evidence he can bring. Then they vote again with the obligation of conscience not to decide his removal unless convinced of his justness on this necessity. A majority of two again is necessary.

If this formal decision is again in favor of removal the rector may appeal. The bishop then summons the two senior consultants of the diocese and with them constitutes a new tribunal, before which the rector may present evidence. If his removal is eventually decreed the bishop makes suitable provision for him.

The present decree is to apply to the entire church. It constitutes the first installment of the new code of ecclesiastical law which is to govern the Catholic church in all countries. It greatly diminishes the powers of bishops in such matters, and grants rectors of parishes a right of tenure and a legal guarantee which they have never before enjoyed. At the same time it will be welcomed by the bishops as relieving them of a very grave responsibility.

The decree also is most important as indicating the character of the new code of Canon Law which is the first complete attempt ever made to codify the legislation of the church. A commission of cardinals and 46 consultants, chosen from among the most learned experts in canon law in the whole world, has been at work on this gigantic undertaking for seven years, and has only now completed its work.

At the beginning of the new year the first draft of the new code will be sent, with the strictest obligation of secrecy, to all the bishops in the world. They will be required to study it and suggest such changes as they may think advisable. Three months will elapse before the final draft is ready.

When all the copies of the draft, with the subjoined observations, are returned to Rome, the pontifical commission for the codification of the canon law will examine and revise the entire work. The promulgation of the code will take place early in 1912, unless unforeseen events prevent it. There was some idea of reopening the vatican council for the solemn promulgation and the settlement of various important questions connected with the Scriptures, but this plan has been definitely abandoned.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

A few more days and Gertrude Elliott (Mrs. Forbes-Robertson) comes to the Opera House to accomplish the easy task of making the same deep and lasting impression with her portrayal of Glad, the wife of London's slums in "The Dawn of a Tomorrow," that she has made with it here and wherever else she has appeared in Mrs. Burnett's splendid play. The task is an easy one, for in "The Dawn of a Tomorrow" Miss Elliott possesses a truly remarkable vehicle, as fine a thing as its justly celebrated author ever wrote. Not only is the play one of unusual and extraordinary merit, but the young artist's part therein is entirely worthy of her acknowledged creative powers. Miss Elliott's Glad is as finely executed a stage picture as may be found anywhere upon the boards today, and being as it is, part and parcel of a performance noteworthy in many another respect, there is small wonder the attraction has proven one of the most popular of the month. The date here is Friday, Nov. 11th.

SOUSA AND HIS BAND
Next Sunday afternoon at the Opera House, Sousa and his famous band are scheduled to appear for one performance. This famous bandmaster is now on a farewell tour of the United States previous to a long European trip which is to begin in January. The band will give a concert here in the afternoon and at the Boston theatre at night and the same excellent program will be heard here as in Boston. Seats for the engagement are now on sale and the demand for tickets indicates an unusual interest in the engagement.

NEW OPERA COMPANY
The management of the Opera House has been receiving an unusual number of inquiries concerning the forthcoming appearance here of the New Opera company. This company, which is now on a limited tour in connection with its New York and Chicago seasons, is composed of an unusually distinguished list of grand opera singers. Among them is Christian Hansen, the tenor who opened the new Boston Opera House last season and also appeared at the Metropolitan Opera House in New York. Another is Francisco Hewitt, baritone, soprano prima donna, an American widely known for her work at the Paris Opera-Comique. William A. Kienan, tenor, is the man who created the role of Robin Hood with the Bostonians, one of the best known men on the American operatic stage. Vera Robson, contralto, is another American woman who has won hard-earned operatic victories abroad, especially in Cologne, Vienna and Danzig.

Adams Sawyer, the essential features of Charles Feltton Pickett's famous New England novel of the same name have been followed, and they are said to have been handled to extremely clever advantage. It is a distinctly enjoyable piece, both in itself and in the ingeniously natural work of the people presenting it. The production is to be seen here soon. There is a laugh almost everywhere despite the tender seriousness pertaining to Alice Pettigrew's pathetic figure as the much loved blind girl and to her value as the central figure of the love story. It is a most entertaining picture of rural life, and presented on quite a different plane from any other bucolic drama. Its features and typical characters are said to be exceptionally well presented. The engagement here is for next Monday and Tuesday, with daily matinees.

JACK JOHNSON COMING
Jack Johnson, the undisputed heavy weight champion of the world, whose appearance in every city is the signal for the suspension of all work, appears at the Opera House Wednesday, Nov. 16. The company with which he will visit Lowell is the same which will accompany him on his tour of the world, beginning next January. Special prices for the engagement will prevail.

THEATRE VOYONS

Today will afford Lowell people the last chance to see the great boy scout picture at the Theatre Voyons, and all interested in this great movement should avail themselves of this opportunity. It will also be the last day of the showing of "Riders of the Plains," depicting the daily life of the members of the Royal Mounted Police of the Canadian Northwest. This picture is a thrilling and instructive one, taken near Clengary, and the actors are genuine members of this great body of troops. Tomorrow the feature will be "The Great Civil War Picture Ever Shown," introducing as one of its principal characters the martyr president. The accompanying bill is exceptional in every way and not one weak number appears on it.

HATHAWAY THEATRE

You won't be satisfied with one trip to Hathaway's theatre this week. The show is so good, there are so many really, tip-top points to it, that a second visit will really be needed to see everything. Take, for instance, the musical comedy, "The Silver Bottle," which Pauline Perry and company are giving. It's a real musical mixture, pretty girls, comedians, stunning costumes and catchy music. Miss Perry possesses an excellent voice and her appearance is calculated to please the most fastidious.

Other acts on this wholly good bill are: "Electric Night," very funny sketch, featuring John J. MacConnell; the Alexandroff troupe of Russian folk dancers; H. T. MacConnell and others.

In a side-splitting act, the Skatells, a scale dancers, Miss Ford, a pretty, charming comedienne, the Coventrys, English musical artists, and the Hathacope.

It's surely a big show. Performances will be given every afternoon and evening during the remainder of the week, with special seats for women at the matinees.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

For just a straight couple of hours of amusement of the sort to appeal to everybody, one wants to pay a visit to the Merrimack square theatre this week, for there if anywhere, such a bill is being presented.

There are for instance, Miss Gerlie LeClaire and her pickaninies appearing for the first time in this city. Miss LeClaire is herself a singer and dancer of unusual ability, and her little army of dandies do some of the snappiest dancing and singing you ever saw. They have all the latest hits in their repertoire and their act is a medley of songs and steps which will make a sure-fire hit.

The Scenic Stock company is presenting a delightful little farce in "The Village Widow." This is an intensely amusing bit from the pen of a well known playwright, presented in a clean public manner. It is well worth seeing.

Miss Bijou Russell is the sand dancer of the vaudeville stage, with emphasis on the "the." She is really a wonderful dancer, and besides her abilities in this line, is a singer of unusual accomplishments. Miss Russell presents an appealing act which everybody is sure to like. The Willands, two young men, present a really unusual exhibition of athletic stunts on the horizontal bars. There is a subdued vein of comedy in the act which makes it extremely amusing aside from its other delightful qualities. Harry Thomas is a baritone singer of popular songs whom everyone will want to hear. Excellent moving pictures are interspersed on the bill.

A continuous performance will be presented daily from 1 until 10.30 o'clock.

EMPIRE THEATRE

Owing to the many requests of our patrons the Moulin Rouge Orchestra which proved to be the chief attraction last week, will remain at the Empire for three more days. Very seldom in the history of popular vaudeville, has it been noted that an act has been kept for more than a week, but this wonderful organization of expert musicians, rendering a program of wide range and excellence, did not afford all who were desirous of hearing them an opportunity of doing so, as the house was packed to the doors at every performance, consequently the music loving public must avail itself of this last opportunity as the engagement will positively close on Wednesday.

Our new features will consist of Shaw and Everts in a comedy skit, "The Captain and the Tar," Crawford and Patterson a refined singing and dancing duo, Brooks and Kingman novelty acrobats, and the latest moving pictures.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

There will be an entire change of bill at the Academy tomorrow, which will include the three Dancing Mitchells with the Black Prince, Mr. and Mrs. Lavande in a comedy sketch entitled "Hubby's Dream," and Adams & Mack, comedy magicians, also new moving pictures. Admission 5 and 10 cents. Amateurs tonight. Watch for bargain day at the Academy.

he made a net gain of 18 votes. But he went awfully bad in wards two, four and five of this city, the three democratic wards and there was where his defeat came from. In each of the three democratic wards Carmichael received a smaller vote than Flynn received two years ago.

The net gains made by Col. Carmichael in Lowell by wards are as follows:

Ward one, 272; ward two, 97; ward three, 318; ward four, 25; ward five, 13; ward six, 331; ward seven, 253; ward eight, 244; ward nine, 140; total, 1693. It will be noticed that Carmichael's net gain in wards two, four and five together was less than in any one of the other wards. The total gain in these three wards was 135, while ward nine, Col. Ames' own ward, did better than the three democratic wards with a net gain of 140. The congressional result was in doubt until the last returns were in. With Dracut and precinct three of ward one to be heard from the Ames' forces were claiming victory by about 300. The final certified figures gave him a plurality of 664. His plurality two years ago was 5679, showing a remarkable change in sentiment even if victory did pause on the threshold. The Ames people particularly Secretary Legare, received the surprise of the campaign when they looked over the vote in ward six. "The French vote will save him," said a well known republican at city hall when the result appeared to be in doubt. Col. Carmichael carried ward six by 122, while Senator Hibbard carried it by 84. In ward seven Ames' carried it by 147, by 29, while Hibbard carried it by 147. Col. Carmichael's greatest net gain, 331, was made in ward six. A large proportion of the French-American voters reside in these two wards. Col. Ames carried his own precinct in ward nine by 8 votes. Col. Carmichael carried his own precinct in ward seven by 143. Frothingham carried Col. Ames' precinct by 41 votes while Cassidy carried Col. Carmichael's precinct by 121.

The County Votes

Every democratic county candidate carried the city by a substantial majority, while Joseph L. Marin, the democratic candidate for associate commissioner, although he was a stranger to politics, received a remarkable vote, carrying the city by 2460, running second to Mr. Foss in this city. It is evident from the vote for district attorney that Mr. Higgins, the present incumbent, received a considerable amount of democratic support.

The Senatorial Contests

Mr. Philip Kieley of Lynn was defeated by Senator Bennett in the seventh district, which included two wards of Lowell, one ward of Lynn and the Lord knows where else, but he certainly made Senator Bennett realize that he had been in a fight. Mr. Kieley carried ward five by 809 and ward nine by 1197, total in Lowell of 928, while he carried ward six of Lynn by 848. But the way stations between 15 of them, watching from Ayer Junction to the Court House, stronghold at Bennett and Egg Rock, did the business and Kieley went down by the comparatively narrow margin of 205.

In the eighth district Senator Hibbard carried the seven wards in Lowell, which are in his district, by 789, and the entire district by 1375. The district is estimated to be 1800 republican, and hence Hon. Fisher H. Pearson, the democratic candidate, made a good showing although defeated.

Rogers Came Strong
The republicans received a shock in the 14th district where James H. Rogers, the democratic candidate for representative, brought way down the vote of Rep. Stevens. Republican headquarters men laughed at the idea of Rogers coming anywhere near Rep. Stevens, but he did and Stevens got by with only 187 to the good.

In the 15th, 16th and 18th districts there were practically no contests, for the caucuses decided the election. In the 17th what looked to be a battle-royal before the votes were counted was on with Rep. Barlow and Stephen Monahan and Thomas F. Golden on the democratic. The results showed the republicans to be winners by increased majorities.

Cuff Increases Majority

That the voters of the 19th district were satisfied with the record of Rep. Thomas S. Cuff during the past year was evidenced by the fact that although opposed by a strong candidate in Frederick P. Marble he won out by an increased vote. During the year Rep. Cuff got the ball to roll in the Tewksbury and other towns having state institutions for their loss of taxes, a bill which means money annually to Tewksbury, and the town rewarded him by giving him 90 large votes against 58 last year. Rep. Cuff carried the district by 197, an increase over last year.

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilote, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1910. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

THE CONGRESSIONAL CONTEST

The city of Lowell is responsible for the defeat of Colonel Carmichael, who made such a splendid run outside Lowell against Congressman Ames. It is rather a peculiar commentary upon our local democracy that Colonel Carmichael lost most heavily in the democratic wards. He carried Lawrence by a majority of 1000, and his own city only by 93. The contrast is striking. It may be mentioned also that most of the other democratic candidates carried the city by large majorities.

On the whole, however, Colonel Carmichael is to be congratulated upon his splendid fight, and upon his vote outside of Lowell.

THE ELECTION OF FOSS

The election in the state of Massachusetts was next to New York, the most important to be decided throughout the entire country. Eugene N. Foss for many years has been a strong tariff reformer, and especially an advocate of Canadian reciprocity by which the cost of living can be reduced and a great many advantages secured to the people of this country. His election yesterday by a sweeping majority has served notice to the republican party throughout the country that the people of this state are discontented, and are in open revolt against republican misrule.

As governor of Massachusetts Mr. Foss will be a prominent figure in the eyes of the nation for the next year, and it would not be at all surprising to find that he may also be prominent as a candidate for president in 1912.

The other results throughout the state show strong democratic gains, although the democrats have been disappointed in having added but one to their congressional delegation.

THE STATE COTTON STOREHOUSE

The state of Louisiana is building a great cotton storehouse at New Orleans, the purpose of which is to afford the cotton producers a place in which they can store their cotton in safety and relieve them from the extortion of private storehouses.

There is a good deal of discussion over this new departure by the state, as some of the opponents of the movement are claiming that it is socialistic, and that the state has no right to provide storage for merchandise in that way.

The state intends, however, to go right along with the project, and to issue certificates for the cotton held in storage that will be negotiable financially just as a government bond would be negotiable. The enterprise seems to be one that will commend itself to other states as a means of helping certain industries and protecting them against imposition by speculators.

In regard to fire-proof cotton storehouses we might mention that one of the largest in the state will soon be completed in this city by the Massachusetts Manufacturing company. It is of reinforced concrete construction, and will undoubtedly hold enough cotton to last the mill for several years. In this way it will protect the company from the fluctuations of the cotton market without paying the cost of storage as heretofore.

The other large general storehouse recently erected in Lowell will serve in a similar way for general merchandise, and will thus be a great benefit to the traders of the city.

We do not see any reasonable objection to either public or private storehouses. If wealthy manufacturing concerns can erect large storehouses of their own, it is but reasonable that the state should provide for concerns who cannot build their own storehouses, and who do not wish to pay exorbitant prices for the cost of storage.

SEVERE REBUKE TO ROOSEVELT

The election results of yesterday while not indicating a general democratic sweep brought sufficient reverses to the republican party to convince even the most unbending standpatter that the people of this nation resented the party's misrule in regard to the tariff, the special privileges for certain interests, and the general policy of sacrificing everything to perpetuity in office.

The results of the election show that the next house of representatives will be democratic, and that the republican strength in the senate will be reduced.

But perhaps an equally important result of yesterday's voting was the severe rebuke to Theodore Roosevelt, the self-constituted political boss and national dictator of republican policies. Practically every contest in which he figured was won by the democrats, and in the state of New York where he had staked his prestige upon the result the democrats swept the state, electing their candidate by a plurality of 100,000, and thus administering to Mr. Roosevelt one of the worst rebukes of his political career.

Indeed it might reasonably be expected that the results of yesterday's election would relieve the country of this dangerous public agitator who seems to imagine that the country will go to smash unless everybody does just as he directs.

The people of this country have taken steps to convince Mr. Roosevelt that they will not submit to any dictatorship from him, and the result of this election will probably settle the question of his candidacy for president in 1912.

When asked on Monday what the result would be in New York state he said: "We will knock them through the ropes." Mr. Roosevelt himself, to use his own slang phrase, has not only been knocked through the ropes, but "beaten to a frazzle."

SEEN AND HEARD

Appreciation among British collectors of the genius of Edgar Allan Poe is on the increase, as shown by the record price of $455 paid recently at a London auction for a copy of the first edition of "The Raven" and other poems, published in New York in 1846. Its high value is doubtless due to the fact that it has an autograph inscription from Poe to Mrs. Elizabeth Barrett Browning, the distinguished English poet, previous to her marriage to Robert Browning.

The inscription reads: "To Miss Elizabeth Barrett, with the respects of Edgar A. Poe." The American record is higher still, $610 having been paid at the Thomas J. McKee sale in 1900 for a presentation copy of the same work from Poe to Sarah Helen Whitman, who wrote a small work defending Poe against the savage attacks made upon his character. This McKee copy also contained a presentation inscription of Sarah Helen Whitman to C. Fiske Harris.

The latest London price for a Poe rarity is far above what similar things have fetched in the British market in former years. In the Crompton Library sale in 1891, a presentation copy from Poe to M. L. Houghton of a copy of "The Raven" brought only $7.50. At a sale in 1907, however, another copy realized $150. The price now paid is thrice that amount, but is accounted for by the association of the names of two such distinguished authors as Poe and Mrs. Browning.

INDIAN SUMMER
A flood of gold and crimson sweeping across the sky. And a touch of mystic sweetness lingers where the brown leaves lie; Illumined hills and meadows Half veiled in tender haze, The crown of dear November These "Indian Summer" days.

How sweet the fading glory, And I fancy love again, The Indians loved the beauty Of this strange departing glow; And suddenly a lecture comes, Repeating olden tales, Of ruddy fires and dwelling camps, Dotted the sunny vales.

Perhaps 'tis but a vague romance, Yet who, indeed, can tell? We only know these "Indian" days Hold an enchanting spell—White clouds above the amber sky, Soft mists upon the sea, And a touch of wistful wonders, And shadowy mystery.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Miss Mary Lois Kissell has started on an extended trip among the Indians of the southwest, where she will study basketry on its native haunts. She is the first woman ever sent out by the American Museum of Natural History for purposes of original research. The museum has a fine collection of Indian baskets, of all shapes and sizes and uses, covered with intricate designs in significant colors. Some of the facts of their construction are known, but the scientists are aware of many mysteries which await solution. "Mere Man" at these secrets, he cannot get at them. He tries and the taunting old squaw mutters, "Me no know." Mere man discovers that the Indian woman is bound by rules of religious observance not to discuss her work with men. Even the braves of

ADVICE ABOUT THE SKIN

In the treatment and cure of eczema, and other skin diseases, two conditions are necessary. One is to exclude dust, germs and air from the diseased parts, and the other is to set up the healing process at the same time. The new medical compound, Cadum, accomplishes both these results so effectively that the itching is stopped soon after it is applied, and the sore parts heal up quickly. Cadum is just as effective in the cure of pimples, blotches, acne, herpes, eruptions, chafing, psoriasis, sores, etc. 10c and 25c per box.

A RASH BECOMES MASS OF HUMOR

On Baby's Face, Head and Shoulders—Parents Decided He Could Not be Cured—Cuticura Made His Skin Perfectly Clear.

"Our boy was born in Toronto on Oct. 13, 1908, and when three months old a slight rash appeared on his cheek. What appeared to be a water blister, would form. When it broke, matter would run out, and the child would be left with a mass of scabs and you could not see a particle of clear skin. Other parts of his body were affected, but not to such an extent. We did not know what to do, for him and tried about every advertised remedy without avail. Indeed some of them only added to his suffering and in particular, the ointment almost put the infant into convulsions. The family doctor prescribed for him and told us to keep him in a buttermilk. This did not do any good, so we took him to a hospital. He was treated for a week and he got worse, if anything. We then called on another doctor and inside of a week the boy was, to all appearances, cured and the doctor said his work was done. But the very next day it broke out as bad as ever.

"We decided that it could not be cured and must run its course and so we just kept him in buttermilk to keep him from getting his flesh. We did not know what to do, but we decided to try Cuticura. Remedies were recommended. We started using them May 1, 1910, and the cure was complete. You would not think he was the same child for Cuticura made his skin perfectly clear and he is entirely free from the skin disease. There has been no return this time. We still use only Cuticura Soap for baby's bath. Robert Mann, Fructer, Minn., May 3, 1910.

Then I shall take my 'kittling work' maybe and go to spend the afternoon with one of my neighbors. Two or three others will drop in, and we'll all sit and chat as we work. THE INDIAN TO DISPOSE OF TREASURES.

Miss Kissell's field will be the Pima-speaking tribes of Arizona, the largest encampment being near Tucson. But a trip of sixty miles farther down toward Mexico may be necessary. She will go alone, fearing nothing. If possible she will have a woman interpreter. In many of the tribes the women do the marketing and carry on the family business so they have picked up considerable English or Spanish. It is said by some travelers that the women become much more fluent and acquire a wider vocabulary than the men. So Miss Kissell is hoping "higher education" has penetrated to her Indians and that she will find a woman who can speak both Pima and English.

Samuel Johnson's house in Gough square, London, is not the only historic English residence to be offered for sale at this time. Pitt House, or Whitcombe, as it was originally called, is shortly to go under the hammer. It was to this mansion, on Hampstead Heath, then the property of Lord North, that the Great Commoner retired in August, 1766, within a few days of his double elevation to the premiership and the coronation of Charles III. It was here that he remained in that more or less mysterious seclusion that bore no good for either England or America. Pitt's apartments are said to be as they were, with the rugs made by the wheels of his invalid chair showing in the floors. The oak cupboard in which he kept his state papers is also preserved.

THE MUNICIPALITIES

NEWS OF INTEREST TO STREET BUILDERS
SYRACUSE, Nov. 9.—The first experiment in treating Syracuse streets with oil emulsion to permanently lay the dust was made Aug. 12, under the directions of Arthur R. Thompson, deputy commissioner of public works, North Geddes street, from West Genesee street to the Lakeside boulevard, and the Lakeside boulevard, from this point to the new boulevard at Hinwadia avenue, is the stretch selected for the experiment. Mr. Thompson said that he believed this stretch of well-traveled thoroughfare would afford a thorough test of the efficacy of the oil for dust-laying purposes. If the practical test proves successful oil will be extensively used here on macadam and dirt streets to the exclusion of daily sprinkling with water.

WANTS FEDERAL GOV'T TO PAVE
TACOMA, Wash.—Commissioner Owen Woods, of the department of public works, is at a loss to know how to persuade the United States of America to pave the streets surrounding the new federal building. The officials to whom he has written tell him that the federal government claims that it derives no benefit from a pavement or a street as persons who go to it have to go anyway. The commissioner would be glad to hear the arguments used by any city that has succeeded in getting the government to pay.

READY TO LAY WOOD BLOCKS
PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—It was expected that there would be some delay in delivering sufficient quantities of wood blocks to push the repaving of Market street from Sixteenth to the Schuylkill river, without interruption, the special inspector for the department of public works, Robert J. Hicks, has received a telegram from the United States Wood Block Preserving company, at Norfolk, Va., announcing that its plant is ready to proceed with the cutting and treatment of the blocks, and that there will be no delay. About 35,000 yards of the new blocks will be required in the section now under construction. About 57,000 yards of blocks were used in the section from Delaware avenue to Sixteenth street.

STREETS PAVED WITH GOLD
PORTLAND, Ore.—Oregon has two cities whose streets are paved with gold, and neither lays claim to being the New Jerusalem, either. Medford and Jacksonville are the towns with the expensive pavements. Sand used in the cement sidewalks of Jacksonville is taken from the tailings of the gold and not all the gold was extracted from them. The tailings were piled up before the construction of a cyanide plant and not all the gold was extracted from it. The tailings will run $1 to the ton in free gold. The same material was used in paving the Medford streets. It is estimated that Medford pavements have more than 320,000 contained in them, exclusive of the cost of these improvements to the municipality.

GREAT SWEEP

JOHN A. DIX
Elected Governor of New York

JOHN K. TENER
Elected Governor of Pennsylvania

JUDSON HARMON
Elected Governor of Ohio

Was Made by the Democrats Throughout Country

BOSTON, Nov. 9.—The election of Dix in New York, Harmon in Ohio, Baldwin in Connecticut, Foss in Massachusetts, Wilson in New Jersey, and the probable election of a democratic majority in the house of representatives, and the probable triumph of the "rest" of the republican ticket.

That is the result of the election of 1910 as indicated by the returns compiled early this morning.

Political leaders construe the result as a national rebuke to Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, as the democrats won in every state except New Hampshire, where the colonel spoke for the republican candidate.

It is the most humiliating and crushing rebuke ever suffered by a man who essayed, as Colonel Roosevelt has, the national leadership of his party.

In each of the states of Ohio, New York and Connecticut, where he made personal and humble appeals for the candidates for governor, the answer of the voting public was a crushing defeat for his candidate.

His complete humiliation was effected by the defeat of his pet representative in congress, Herbert Parsons of New York city, and by the defeat in his own election district in Nassau county by his neighbors and home folks of his own candidates for whom he had appealed.

Best figures obtainable at midnight indicated that John A. Dix would be elected by a plurality in the state of approximately 60,000.

Early figures showed that he might have 100,000 but New York's great east at the last moment rallied to the support of the republican ticket and Mr. Dix's plurality which the democrats fully expected he would get in this county, was reduced to something like 60,000. Brooklyn gave an avalanche of votes for Dix. His plurality was slightly more than 25,000.

Protest Rooseveltism

Everywhere throughout the state the business men rallied to the support of Dix. They registered their protest to

SIMEON E. BALDWIN
Elected Governor of Connecticut

Rooseveltism just as they had threatened to do and the tremendous plurality which the republicans said Colonel Roosevelt would develop up state did not appear. The counties which made the best showing for him were those in which old guard leaders held sway and with whom, it has been assumed by politicians, he made late day agreements in the hope of saving his ticket.

At midnight the indications were that all the democratic ticket would be elected. In New York city, for instance, with 1600 out of 1700 districts heard from Mr. Dix was running about 12,000 ahead of the rest of his ticket. But in state the disparity in the vote was much larger and the best deductions which could be made from the figures obtainable was that the "rest" of the ticket would run something like 40,000 to 50,000 behind and would probably get through.

With 1900 out of 2000 up state districts in Colonel Roosevelt's candidate for governor had an estimated plurality, based on the total vote of 12,000 with which to meet an estimated plurality in New York city of 104,000 which meant that he would win if the ratio kept up by about 60,000. Those who seemed to be blowing against the republican ticket however, and it appeared that the plurality of the head of the ticket would be nearer 50,000 than 60,000.

Woodruff Machine Buried

One of the surprising and from the republican view point, startling developments was the defeat of every republican candidate for congress in all the districts of the entire city of New York. There are at present seven representatives. William S. Bennett, was beaten by Henry George and Mr. Parsons by Jefferson M. Levy. In Brooklyn the big republican districts which the Woodruff machine always swung, were buried in the ruins.

Another feature of the election which caused worry and astonishment to the republicans was the election of democratic assemblymen and senators in many parts of the state, making it possible, but not likely that there will be a democratic majority in both houses.

This would mean the election of a democratic senator to succeed Chauncey M. Depew. At midnight it was certain that the republicans had gained 13 members of assembly and two senators.

Representative J. Sloan Fassett ("Fighting Fassett"), who went down to defeat as candidate for governor in the last democratic clean-up in 1891, which defeated him for congress in the Chemung district, was also defeated. He is one of the Roosevelt school, and his defeat adds to the sting of the Roosevelt defeat.

Cannon Gets By

Speaker Cannon squeezed through in Illinois by a small margin.

The indications from early returns were that the house would surely be democratic by a margin possibly of 20 or 12. There were mixed gains reported from Illinois, where Cook county was swept by a democratic hurricane. Five or six new democratic representatives to replace republicans were indicated by the returns from here. In New York city the gains promised to be seven. There were almost certain indications that there would be a gain of one democratic in Connecticut, three or four in New Jersey and quite a few in other western states.

It was a matter of note, and perhaps significance, that no returns were obtained which were in any way definite on congress in Missouri, Ohio, Indiana and Iowa, where hot fights were being waged. The general tidal wave of democracy which overtook the country, however, led to the belief that there would be strong democratic gains in those sections.

Beveridge Out of Race

The final defeat of Senator Albert J. Beveridge, the "Insurgent" for whom Colonel Roosevelt fought for weeks, for whom he made a personal tour of the state, is insured by the election in Indiana of a republican legislature. This is but one of a score of rebuffs which were accorded to the Roosevelt activity on the result of the general result in Ohio at midnight, but the best estimates of the Harmon plurality were 30,000 with the loss of the "rest" of the ticket and the election of a republican legislature. This means that Charles Dick, present United States Senator from Ohio may be returned. It at least assures the return from Ohio of a republican to the senate.

Conceded Baldwin's Election

The election of Judge Simeon E. Baldwin in Connecticut was conceded by his opponent, Charles A. Goodwin, early in the evening and a message of congratulation was sent to the successful nominee. The defeat of the republican ticket in Connecticut is attributed by both republicans and democrats to the attacks made upon the democratic nominee by Colonel Roosevelt. These bitter assaults upon the judicial record of Judge Baldwin, who is regarded as perhaps the chief barrier of the Nutmeg State, reacted heavily, and in the estimates of the democrats and republicans, changed several thousand votes. It was in Connecticut that the democrats invited Colonel Roosevelt to "speak again in Connecticut to insure beyond question the election of the democratic ticket."

It was estimated at midnight with most of the returns in that Judge Baldwin's plurality would be about 6000.

Certain of Wilson

With the polls in New Jersey remaining open until seven in the evening it was difficult at a late hour to get any accurate line on the vote, but it was the belief of all the democrats and most of the republicans that Woodrow Wilson would be elected by from 15,000 to 20,000. The bare election of Mr. Wilson would mean that a landslide swept Jersey, because while Governor Fort, republican, was elected by only 5000 the state is normally republican by 40,000 to 50,000.

"Cowboy" Jas. Dahlgren was elected governor of Nebraska despite the opposition of William J. Bryan. Iowa and Kansas gave their usual republican plurality. Tennessee went republican by a small margin. A republican governor was elected in Minnesota and Mr. Bass, republican, was elected governor of New Hampshire.

Fear for 1912 Campaign

That the chief issue which brought about the democratic victories was anti-Rooseveltism, a fear that victory by the Oyster Bay resident would immediately start him on a campaign for the presidency was the belief among politicians. Second in importance was believed to be the high cost of living issue.

The results in New York state and in Ohio and of vital importance inasmuch as both will have their effect on the next presidential canvass two years hence. The defeat of the republicans in Ohio must be interpreted as not favoring the political fortunes of President Taft. The election of Harmon also means that he will very likely be the next democratic nominee for president. In New York the result is important because as New York goes so goes the nation on occasions and the republicans have admitted that the loss of the state this fall would spell hard times in 1912.

TAMMANY LEADER

SAYS VICTORY IS A TRIUMPH FOR DECEY

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany hall, gave out the following statement at the wigwag last night when Mr. Dix's election was assured:

"The election of the entire Democratic ticket in the state is a signal triumph for decency and common sense. It marks the return to sanity and healthy conditions in our public

"I hope they may not greatly disturb each other there in deciding history themselves which was the more responsible for their memorable defeat.

"The victory is decisive enough to be shared by all decent citizens and places upon the democratic party a responsibility to which I feel assured they will respond in a manner to satisfy the best interests of progressive and good government in New York state."

BARRY ELECTED

The Democrats Made Sweep In Nashua

NASHUA, N. H., Nov. 9.—A democratic landslide is the result of yesterday's election in this city. The republicans lost their entire ticket in all but the first two wards.

Besides a good majority for Carr the indications, with two wards missing, are that William H. Barry, democratic candidate for mayor, has been elected by a majority of about 650 over Albert J. Field, republican.

This is the largest majority ever accorded a democratic candidate in Nashua.

General Jason E. Tolles, democratic major several years ago, had a majority of 595, which is the nearest approach to this year's figures.

Mr. Barry will have with him 21 of the 27 members of the city councils, which means a complete reline of city officers.

Wards 1 and 2 are the only ones to elect republican ticket. Of the 20 representatives from Nashua, 15 will be democrats.

F. J. Gaffney was the only republican elected representative outside of wards 1 and 2. In ward 6 Edward H. Wason, chairman of the republican city committee and a candidate for speaker of the house, was defeated by George F. Shedd by 16 votes.

In the county fight Patrick H. Sullivan of Manchester, candidate for county solicitor on the democratic ticket, was accorded a good majority over Harry Spaulding in this city. With several towns and two wards to hear from, it is believed that Alvin J. Lucier, democratic, is elected senator in the 20th district over Lotie L. Minard, republican.

Nashua has gone license by about 700 majority.

BASS REELECTED

His Plurality Is Close to 7000

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 9.—Practically complete returns from yesterday's state election slightly amplify the extent of the republican victory. The revised figures give Bass, the republican nominee for governor, a plurality of very nearly 7000. With 280 out of 290 towns and wards in the state heard from the result stands:

Bass, republican, 42,603.

Carr, democratic, 35,549.

Currier and Sullivan, both republican, have been returned to congress.

The next legislature will be overwhelmingly republican. In the senate the republicans will have 16 members and the democrats 8. The lower house will contain a large preponderance of republicans, although a slight democratic gain is shown.

DR. JAS. B. FIELD

Addressed the Ladies' Aid Association

The regular sewing meeting of the Ladies' Aid association of the Lowell General hospital was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. Trier Stevens, there being about 160 present.

A feature of the gathering was the reading of a paper on "Antitoxins" by Dr. James B. Field. In opening he traced the history of the practice of inoculation for smallpox, which originated in China as early as the 15th century, was imported into Turkey, and afterward introduced into England.

In 1798 Edward Jenner made known his discovery of vaccination with cowpox for the prevention of smallpox. The practice was introduced into this country the following year by Benjamin Waterhouse, first professor of medicine at Harvard university.

Considering the subject of hydrophobia, or rabies, the doctor said that notwithstanding the fact that there is occasionally a spurious hysterical attack in nervous people who have been bitten by a dog, yet there is such a thing as rabies, as has been demonstrated by the post mortem findings in the spinal cord. On being bitten by a dog, the victim should have the dog examined by a veterinary surgeon. If hydrophobia is present, the preventive treatment discovered by Louis Pasteur should at once begin upon the patient.

Dr. Field spoke of the cure of diphtheria by antitoxin and the possibilities of similar treatment in tetanus and serum treatment in infantile paralysis. He also dwelt at considerable length on bacterial vaccines.

In conclusion, he said: "You must have noticed that nothing mentioned in this paper would have been possible without animal experimentation. To those of us who are bound to others by the ties of love and affection, the death of many animals would not seem too great a price to pay for the life of one we love. The antivivisectionist as a rule is woefully misinformed and looks at but one side of his subject."

"No profession has made such rapid strides of progress in the last 25 years as has the profession of medicine. Until recently the surgical side of our calling has given the most striking results. Preventive medicine and the purely medical side of our practice are now forging to the fore. With the prolongation of life, which is sure to come, may we and our descendants prove ourselves intellectually and morally worthy to receive it."

SAILOR BURKE

Given the Decision Over Bill McKinnon

BOSTON, Nov. 9.—Sailor Burke of Brooklyn was given the award over Bill McKinnon in their 12-round bout at the Aquarium A. A. last night. Frank Klaus of Pittsburg was to have been Burke's opponent, but being indisposed he would not risk going against such a fellow as the sailor. The Pittsburg man was introduced in the ring and explained his reason for not boxing.

When the referee gave his decision there was the usual howl, some claiming it should have been called a draw, others figuring McKinnon as the winner and many conceding that the decision was right.

For seven rounds McKinnon did well, using a left jab and hook that landed quite often on the sailor's face and jaw. In the second round he put the sailor down with a short left hook on the jaw. The sailor landed some stiff left jabs and rights on the face, but McKinnon always came back and generally landed a stiff counter on the face.

After the seventh round McKinnon appeared to have shot his bolt and he boxed poorly. Burke, during the last four rounds, sent some hard rights to the body and jaw. Though tired, McKinnon kept trying and landed some lefts on the face and rights on the side of the head. Several times he caught Burke in the face and on the jaw with back handed blows. In the break each caught the other with his guard down and landed stiff punches on the face and jaw.

It was a fast, hard fought contest, and proved to be better than the fans expected.

PORTER ARRESTED

He is Charged With the Larceny of $38,800

BOSTON, Nov. 9.—Isaac H. R. Porter, treasurer of the Massachusetts Hide corporation, was arrested by officers of police headquarters yesterday afternoon, charged with the larceny of hides and notes to the value of $38,800.

William P. Brown, representing Brown Bros. & Co. bankers, at 60 State street, was the complainant in the case.

Immediately following the arrest on a warrant, Porter appeared before Judge Bolster in the municipal court, and his case was continued until next Tuesday. Porter was admitted to bail in the sum of $25,000, which was furnished by his wife, Mrs. Carrie Abbott Porter of Somerville, his sister, and Joseph Bridge of Newton, a leather merchant of this city.

Porter, for a number of years has been treasurer of the Massachusetts Hide corporation of 13 High street. He is 51 years old and lives with his wife at the Hennebury Chambers.

The warrant alleges four different counts within a period of a little more than three months, between May and August of this year. As a commission man Porter went to England and other places in Europe, where he purchased, through the assistance of Brown Bros. and their London office of Brown, Shipley & Co., thousands of calf skins, which were brought to this country. They were held until purchasers were found by Porter, according to the police.

When prospective buyers were found Porter, it is alleged, reported the facts to Brown Bros. and through them obtained the release of the number of skins wanted. In order to do this, Porter is said to have signed an agreement, as a result of which he was to turn the proceeds over to the banking house. In several instances, it is charged, Porter received the money, which he diverted to his own use, or procured notes and placed the skins in storage, to be used as collateral. The warrant charges that no settlement was made in any of the four cases involved.

PILES BRING DESPAIR

TAKE COURAGE! INTERNAL TREATMENT WILL CURE

Piles make life unhappy and ruin the best disposition. Most sufferers have been bitterly disappointed by many failures to find a cure. QUARTERBACK'S DUTIES ARE INCREASED UNDER NEW RULES

By TOMMY CLARK.

Those who have been worrying about what is to become of the quarterback can now rest easy. The duties of the field general are more comprehensive this season than at any time since the inception of football. Take, for instance, the defensive quarterback. He can do more to stop the attack of an opposing eleven than any other man on the team. Under the old rules the defensive quarterback could play comparatively close upon the line without fear of being tricked into a play. This year he has to drop back much farther. Quick thrusts, outside tackle and forward passes directly over the line of scrimmage are some of the plays he must confound.

Quarterback Has Plenty to Do.

The duties of the quarterback are so many and so arduous that the light man of the Fishion type is a thing of the past. The big teams, the elevens that fight for championships, have no further use for him. He must be a fairly heavy, fast and strong man with all kinds of endurance.

And the new rules put such a premium on a diversified attack that he is really called upon to do more quick thinking in planning plays than he ever was under the old rules, where a team could make its distance by pounding away at the line. In short, he's a combination of all that was hardest in the old quarterback and a great deal of the old fullback.

The defensive quarterback is in a position to know just where plays will be sent when the opposing eleven is about to score. He should know where the plays were sent which gained most ground farther out in the field, for it is an assured fact that a good quarterback will use some of these to place the oval across the line. If the defensive quarter is wise enough he will concentrate his defense about these points instead of allowing it to be scattered about in positions where it is absolutely useless to a team.

When an offensive eleven shifts a player from one side of the line to the other the defensive quarter is the one who orders his line to shift a position, and the sooner this order is given the better chance the defensive team has of checking the attack. The secret of such an attack is to start the play the moment the shifted player gets into position, as the object of the play is to hit the spot before the defense is set to meet the attack.

If the defensive quarter is an observing player it will be possible for him to ascertain an opponent's attack by watching the opposing backs closely. It only is natural for a halfback to look in the direction of the play if his signal is called, or he may even turn his feet or head in the direction of the play. In this way the defensive quarter can direct the defense accordingly.

With deception one of the secrets of a team's gridiron success, the defensive quarter now must be on the alert for everything. He should play at least five yards back of the line of scrimmage, and he should be constantly informing his teammates of the possibilities of the attack. On every formation he must be sure to scan the side lines to see if a player is out there to receive a forward pass. He never should fail to see that the opposing team does not take any advantage of the rules by not having seven men on the line of scrimmage, and he must be certain to see that on every forward pass the proper player has caught the oval.

In many other ways he can be of the greatest assistance to a team on the defense, but a player in his position should know the game thoroughly and possess those two great football qualifications, experience and intuition.

Few Good Ones This Season.

There are so few really good quarterbacks this year that it will not be much of a job from present indications to dig one up for the All America team next fall. Howe of Yale is rated a good man, but he has been out of it for some time on account of injuries. Ballou of Princeton is a good runner, a hard, sure tackler, has a good eye for distance and handles punts cleanly. He's a shifty dodger and a rattling good kicker.

At Cambridge they have Wigglesworth, whose only fault has been that he is none too hardy and particularly susceptible to injury. At Pennsylvania they have been experimenting with a number of men, none of whom has been altogether satisfactory. In the middle west Johnny McGovern of Minnesota outshines them all.

This is just the time when Walter Eckersall and Walter Steffen, the old Chicago university stars; Tad Jones of Yale and Johnny Cutler of Harvard and Heston of Michigan would be wonders. They were all just built for just such a job as the present day quarterback has.

The Two Greatest Back Fields of 1910 Season.

Since the season opened all the leading coaches have been doing their level best to develop a great array of men to shoulder heavy back field responsibilities that the new rules impose under the new code. Speed is necessary in the back field on account of the unlimited use of the forward pass and the rule which permits the man first receiving the ball from the snapper back to advance it at once. In the "reformed" rules which were in effect from 1906 to this season the speedy man became more of a star than ever before in the history of the game, while under the further improved code this will be even more of a requisite.

Aside from speed, the runner will have to be stronger than before, and so will be forced to take on weight. The days of the featherweight back and end are over, for under the rule prohibiting assistance to the runner the man with the ball will be forced to "go it alone."

Harvard and Minnesota have the two greatest back fields of the season. At the start Coach Haughton was splendidly equipped with veterans, and as the season lengthened the men improved until now the Crimson eleven has the most powerful in the east. Minot, Wigglesworth, O'Flaherty, Corbett, Frothingham and Leslie compare favorably with any Harvard back field that ever appeared on the gridiron.

In the west Minnesota has a wonderful back field. Its speed, precision and team work in many cases this season were superb. They have a heavy line and a comparatively light speedy back field. The combination seems to give them an attacking power that is sweeping everything before it. The stars of the back field are Captain Johnson, fullback; Rosenwald, left halfback; Stevens, right halfback, and McGovern, quarterback.

TWO CENTS FOR A MINOR LEAGUE PLAYER.

How John Somerlott Managed to Obtain His Release From Fort Wayne.

Whether John Somerlott, who was purchased from the Terre Haute club of the Central league by Jimmy McAler for a try at the first base job with Washington, makes good in the majors or not he will wear the rather unique distinction of having purchased his own release during his minor league career for 2 cents, which represented his entire capital and surplus at the time he negotiated the deal.

In 1906 Somerlott signed as an infielder with a club that represented Fort Wayne in a league known as the Interstate.

Salary day in Fort Wayne was an event. It rolled around regularly, but there was seldom money enough in the treasury to pay the players, and few of them ever collected their whole salaries, and the majority of them got only that part of it that they could squeeze out of the management at the rate of $1 at a time.

Jack Hardy, until recently one of the catchers on the Washington team, was manager of the Fort Wayne club, and he had a worthless court judgment to represent about $200 due him when the blow off came. He didn't like Somerlott, and Somerlott didn't just exactly hanker after his manager, and the friction grew as money became scarce.

Most of the players roomed at a cheap hotel and ate when they had the price, and one day after the team had played a good game to empty stands Somerlott came down out of his room thoroughly disgusted with baseball as it was played and paid for in the Interstate.

"Tell you what I'll do, Jack," he said to the manager. "I'll give you every cent I've got for my release."

"You're on," was the reply. He searched his clothing and allowed the manager to do the same, and the total output was two pennies. He handed the cash to Hardy and got his release. This is a true story.

When Somerlott makes good in the majors, and he will some day, he can thank his overlasting tenacity for it. He is generally supposed to be a Michigan boy, because he has played so much baseball in that state. But his home is at Angola, Ind., and before he got into the Central league he played with a number of independent clubs in that state and for several seasons in the Southern Michigan league, where he learned the difference between independent ball and the professional kind.

OLYMPIC GAMES EVENTS.

English A. A. A. Shaping Program For Big Meet of 1912.

The general committee of the English Amateur Athletic association held a meeting recently, and among other business the program of the Olympic games for 1912 came up for discussion. From what transpired it is evident that the Englishmen are having nearly their own way in shaping the list of contests, although the ambidextrous conditions with regard to the javelin, discus and shot have been included. The hammer will not be thrown according to the ambidextrous rule. In the original draft of the program the standing high and standing broad jumps were not included, but they are in the new plan of the program drawn up by the Englishmen.

Some of the track events seen on the London program two years ago have been omitted and some new ones put on instead. Those left off are the 200 meters flat and the 400 meters hurdles, and a new one is a five mile cross country race. The discus will be thrown three ways—that is, free style with one hand and the free style with the right and left hands and from the pedestal "as at Athens" one way. The javelin will be thrown two ways—that is, with one hand and with the right and left hands, but in both these contests the javelin will have to be grasped in the middle. There will be two all around contests. One will be the same as at Athens in 1906 and made up of five events, and the other one will include ten events. In the program as it now stands the events are as follows:

One hundred meters flat, 400 meters flat, 800 meters flat, 1,500 meters flat, 5,000 meters flat, 10,000 meters flat, Marathon race (26-3/4 miles), hurdle race (30 meters), 10,000 meters walk, five miles (about) cross country race.

Team Races.—Relay race, 1,600 meters (teams of four, each to run 400 meters); relay race, 3,000 meters (five to run, three to count).

Jumping.—Standing high jump, standing broad jump, running high jump, running broad jump, hop, step and jump, pole jump.

Throwing and Putting.—Discus (free style), best hand; discus (as at Athens), left hand; javelin (with the javelin held in the middle, Swedish way of holding it), best hand; javelin (with the javelin held in the middle, Swedish way of holding it), right and left hand; putting the weight, best hand; putting the weight, right and left hand; throwing the hammer; tug of war.

Pentathlon, comprising in following order: Broad jump, discus (free style), running (200 meters), javelin (best hand), running (1,500 meters), points to score according to place in each event; lowest points to win.

Decathlon, comprising in following order, divided on two days: First day, running (100 meters), broad jump, putting the weight (best hand), high jump, running (400 meters); second day, hurdle race (300 meters), discus (best hand), pole jump, javelin (best hand), running (1,500 meters).

McCormick; American Trainer, Likely to Take Charge.

James H. McCormick, the American trainer of race horses, who has just completed a successful season abroad, is slated to become the head of the Gratz stables, owned by the German government and commonly known as the Kaiser's stable. Negotiations for McCormick's services next season have been opened recently by those in charge of the Gratz stables.

Murphy Signs Five Year Contract.

Mike Murphy, trainer of athletes, has signed a contract for five more years in connection with the University of Pennsylvania. During the years he has been at Pennsylvania his teams have won the intercollegiate championship six times.

"Lajoie the Greatest Batter."—COBB.

"Cobb's Equal Cannot Be Found."—LAJOIE.

Ty Cobb, the champion batter of the country, and Larry Lajoie, the runner-up, are now throwing bouquets at each other. Cobb won the automobile offered to the man who had the highest batting average from Lajoie by one-thousandth of a point. The race was so close that the automobile firm presented Lajoie with exactly the same kind of a car as Cobb's. This smoothed matters, and now Cobb says Lajoie is the most wonderful batter of recent years, while Lajoie says Cobb is the greatest ever. Below are a few choice things handed out by the pair:

"A wonderful eyesight and a wonderful physique are principally responsible for Lajoie's success as a batsman," says Ty Cobb.

"Today you see in Lajoie one of the few remaining members of the old school—the school of sluggers. They have been passing fast, giving way to a new school that depends on a 'chop' instead of slugging."

"I do not mean this as a discredit to Larry. He deserves the more credit for it. He stands today as one of the greatest batsmen the game has produced, running up a high average against the new school, slugging the ball while they are chopping it."

"The pitching today is far different from what it used to be, but Larry is still able to wage war against modern pitching with old fashioned batting methods. And there is no one coming out of the new school who looks to be his equal."

"Cobb is a natural hitter," retort Lajoie.

"Cobb has the natural gift of meeting a ball. Hitters are like poets—you can't make them. Cobb hit from the start of his career. I'll admit I also hit him right off the reel. It came easy to me."

"Then Cobb has good eyesight. No matter what you say to the contrary, a man with poor eyesight can't be a good hitter. You have to see a ball before you can meet it."

"He also has speed. He gets many hits because of his speed, beating out grounders. He relies on this speed to a certain extent. If he would be slower he would probably still bat at a high figure, for he would hit them out more."

"Another thing—he outguesses pitchers. He thinks quickly, and he moves fast. I don't think he tries to place the ball. I know I don't. He just meets them. It's like the old fellow who once told me, 'Just go on and do the best you can.'"

Savage's Powerful Harness Racing Stable

M. W. Savage of Minneapolis, at present conspicuous as the man who is running a corner in two minute pacers, is unique in the history of the harness racing game. He enjoys the distinction of paying more "long prices" for famous horses than any other two men, and he has not yet bought a "gold brick."

When the Minneapolis man bought Dan Patch for $60,000 his friends shook their heads, and it was whispered that "another good church member had gone crazy over fast horses." In fact, it is thought the men who sold Dan were not entirely sure but that they had "unloaded" something.

At the time of the purchase Dan Patch had a record of 1:59 1/2. He showed improvement the first year of the new ownership, and his successive reductions of world's records until he placed the harness horse mark for the mile at 1:55 are well known in turf history. Besides, the "Black Whirlwind" paid for himself the first two years and since that time has earned many times that amount. An offer of $100,000 has been refused for the horse, and Mr. Savage will not sell him for any price.

Minor Heir came next. His meteoric career of 1903 made him the most talked of harness horse in the world, next to Dan Patch. Mr. Savage bought him for $40,000. He then had a record of 1:58 1/2, and many thought he had reached the limit of his speed. After a careful wintering the great son of Heir at Law showed improvement. In 1909 he reduced his record to 1:59 1/2, covering the quarters as follows: 0:29, 0:30, 0:30 and 0:30 1/2. He was the only horse to pace a mile under two minutes last year.

This year his performances have put him in a class by himself. He has not only reduced the world's unplaced mile record to 1:55 1/2, thus going a faster mile in the open than any other horse ever went, but he has lowered the world's record four times and has won three races the time of which averages better than two minutes.

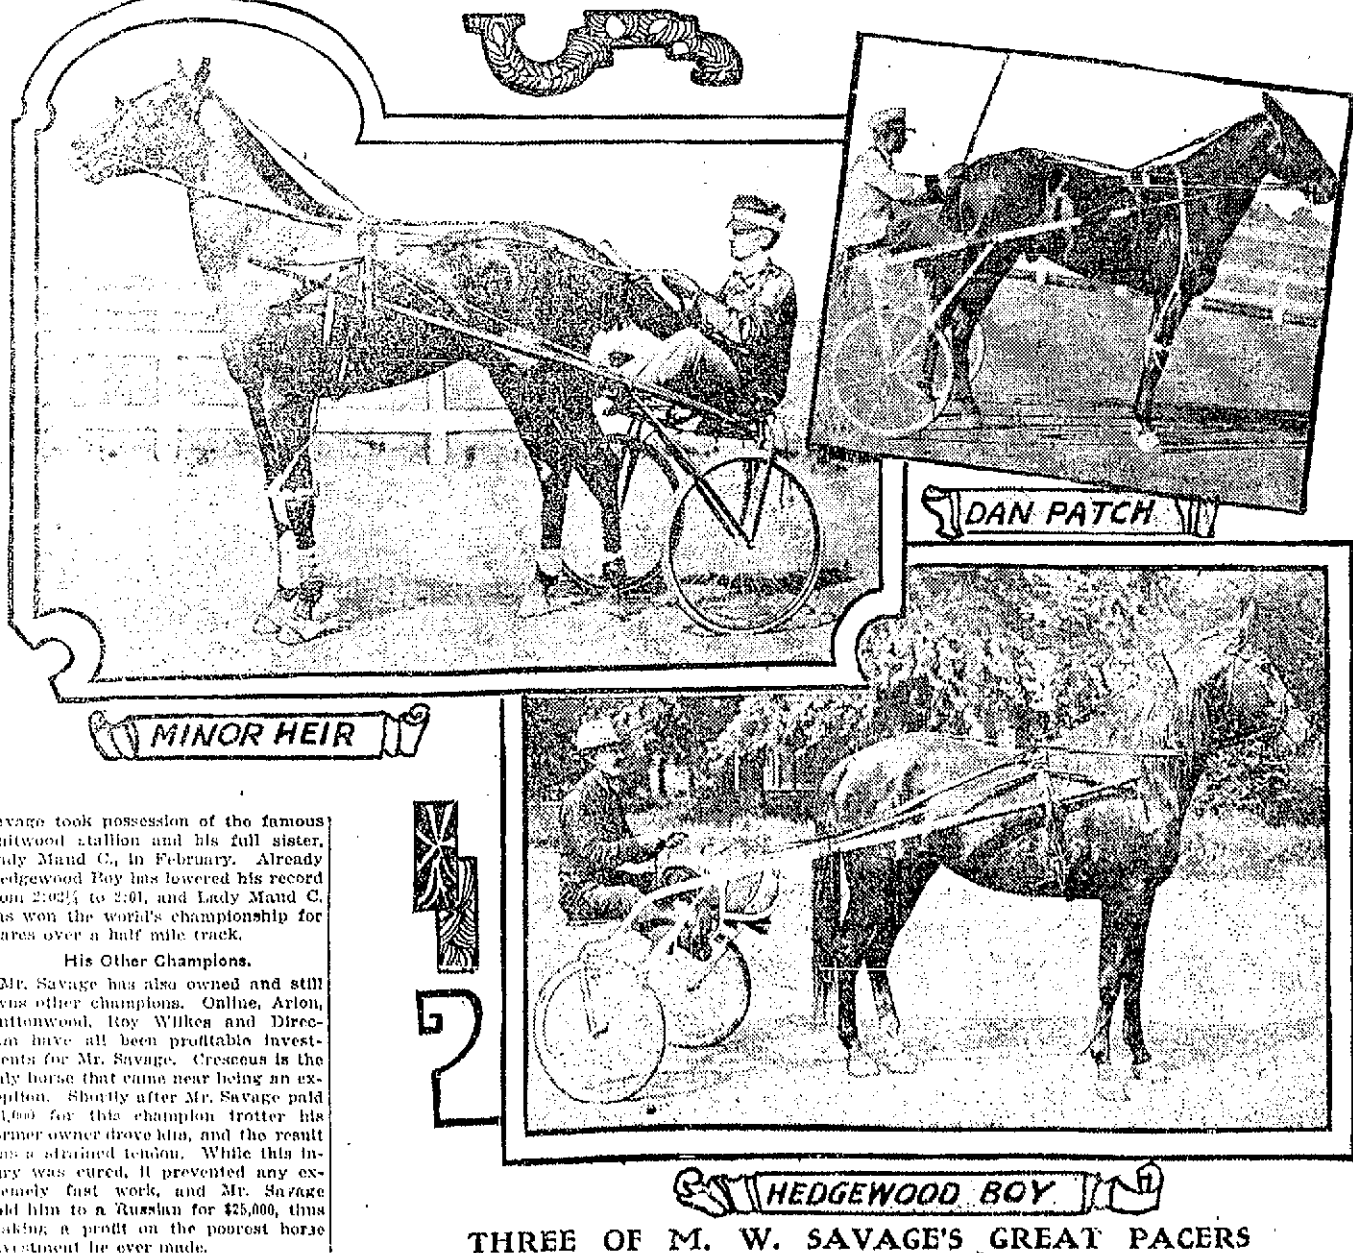

George Hano was the next star added to the Savage stable. He was the champion money winner of 1909. He had a mark of 2:05 1/2 when Mr. Savage paid $50,000 for him last winter. Although he has been performing under the Savage banner but two months he has already lowered his record one second and a half and was separately timed in a race in 2:00.

Hedgewood Boy is no exception. Mr.

Savage took possession of the famous Chitwood stallion and his full sister, Lady Maud C., in February. Already Hedgewood Boy has lowered his record from 2:02 1/2 to 2:01, and Lady Maud C. has won the world's championship for mares over a half mile track.

His Other Champions.

Mr. Savage has also owned and still owns other champions. Onlie, Arlon, Buttonwood, Roy Wilkes and Directum have all been profitable investments for Mr. Savage. Crescens is the only horse that came near being an exception. Shortly after Mr. Savage paid $21,000 for this champion trotter his former owner drove him, and the result was a strained tendon. While this injury was cured, it prevented any extremely fast work, and Mr. Savage sold him to a Russian for $25,000, thus making a profit on the poorest horse investment he ever made.

FOSS IS ELECTED

Continued

All the republican nominees in the other districts, Lawrence in the 1st, Gillett in the 2d, Wildor in the 4th, Ames in the 5th, Gardner in the 6th, Roberts in the 7th, McCall in the 8th, Curley in the 9th, Galvin in the 10th, Peters in the 11th and Green in the 12th got by with vanishing pluralities.

In the 14th district Judge Robert O. Thacher, republican, defeated Thomas C. Thacher, democrat, by a plurality of only 156. Here, too, a recount will be asked for and may change the result.

Wildor in the 4th district where Mitchell, the democrat, was expected to run, is credited by the returns with 117 plurality, the voting being Wildor 16,586, Mitchell 16,934. A recount will undoubtedly be asked for by Mitchell.

In the 2d district Congressman Gillett's plurality is only 418 the vote being Gillett 14,423, McKechnie 14,005.

Butler Ames' plurality dwindled from 5000 of two years ago to a mere handful of 500 votes yesterday.

Democrats Gain in House

The election of yesterday swept a number of democrats into legislative seats and at midnight had increased their representation in the house by about 30 additional members over last year, but not enough to control the legislature, and unless republicans decide to repudiate Senator Lodge, the chances are that he will be re-elected.

Next year's state senate will have an increased number of democrats in it over last year. Democrats were elected to the house of representatives yesterday in districts that have in some cases never sent democrats to the legislature.

The democrats gained six senators from Suffolk county, where they elected eight out of the nine candidates, George Holden Thinkham of the Back Bay-Brighton district being the only republican senator elected in Suffolk county.

This gives the democrats 17 out of the 40 senators in the senate.

Among the new democratic members of the next senate elected yesterday are Roger Sherman Hoar of Concord, who defeated Representative Bayley of Lexington; John H. Mack of North Adams, who defeated Senator William Tuttle of Pittsfield in the Berkshire district; Michael J. Murray of Ward 24, who defeated both Sweet and Mulrany by a rousing plurality in the 9th Suffolk district; Martin P. F. Curley who defeated Harry H. Ham in the Dorchester-Roxbury district; and Dr. Edward J. Granger of Winthrop, who defeated Edward B. Newton of the same town.

GOV.-ELECT. FOSS

SAYS VICTORY VOICES MASSACHUSETTS PROTEST

BOSTON, Nov. 9.—Gov.-elect Foss gave out the following statement:

"This victory voices the protest of Massachusetts against the Payne-Allen act, the present high cost of living and the broken pledges of the republican party. This was the issue which won the fight in the 14th congressional district last spring, Massachusetts, the supposed chief beneficiary of this ultra-high tariff, repudiates it. She demands from the incoming congress an immediate downward revision of the tariff in untaxed food supply, free raw materials and real reciprocity with Canada. I deeply appreciate the great honor and realize the responsibility which it brings. It is a vote of confidence on the part of the people of this commonwealth. We must make good. I shall endeavor to do my part and I ask the cooperation of every citizen."

GOVERNOR DRAPER

CONGRATULATES MR. FOSS ON HIS VICTORY

BOSTON, Nov. 9.—Gov. Draper last night gave out this statement:

"In a very large vote Mr. Foss seems to have been elected by a substantial plurality. I congratulate him on his election, and sincerely trust his administration will be a good one for Massachusetts and a credit to him."

"I desire to thank the people of the commonwealth who have supported me so loyally, and especially the state committee and Mr. Hatfield, the chairman, and Mr. Groves, the secretary, who did as much and as good work as any men could."

"I shall cheerfully return to the avocations of private life among the best people in the best state in the Union."

NIGHT EDITION A TIDAL WAVE THE DEMOCRATS TAFT DISAPPOINTED Because the Democrats Have Control of Congress

Democratic Victory Greater Than at First Expected

The sweep of the political tidal wave which rolled over the country yesterday is further emphasized by additional returns and revised figures at hand today. The democratic majority in the house of representatives will be at least 42 and possibly more as compared with the present republican majority of 34. The morning returns showed the republican majority of 26 in the United States senate rapidly approaching the vanishing point, although the republicans are reasonably assured of 48 seats. The democratic majority in the house is more than the necessary majority with a number of states still in doubt. The most notable changes in the figures presented last night are summed up as follows:

In Ohio a democratic legislature has been elected, insuring a democratic successor to Senator Dick, republican, and the plurality of Gov. Harmon is increased to 60,000.

The West Virginia legislature is democratic and will elect a democratic senator to succeed Senator Scott, republican.

In Indiana the legislature, which chooses a successor to Senator Beveridge, is in doubt with the democrats claiming a majority of 12 and the republicans maintaining that Beveridge will have a small margin.

Iowa is still uncertain with both sides claiming the governorship.

The Pennsylvania legislature is safely republican and will elect a republican senator.

Washington has a republican legislature which appears to insure the election of Miles Poindexter, to the senate.

The Utah legislature which elects a United States senator is also republican, while that of Montana is in doubt.

Indications point to the election of the republican candidate for governor of California, Hiram Johnston, by a heavy plurality.

Incomplete returns from Oregon indicate the election of the democratic candidate for governor by a small majority.

The Missouri legislature is believed to be safely democratic.

Aside from these main developments today results already announced remained practically unchanged. The plurality of John A. Dix, democrat, elected governor of New York, approximates 66,000. Mr. Dix carried the entire democratic state ticket with him to victory. The plurality of Woodrow Wilson, democrat, in New Jersey, is now placed at 30,000 and of Judge Baldwin, democrat, in Connecticut, at 3,500.

EUGENE N. FOSS, D., GOVERNOR ELECT.

Won a Great Victory in the Elections Held Yesterday

Yesterday's election in Massachusetts resulted in a sweeping democratic victory in the election of Eugene N. Foss for governor by a plurality of 32,987 and with large democratic gains all along the line. The democrats won two congressional seats and lost one.

Victor and vanquished sat down today with pencil and paper to figure out how they won and lost the state election yesterday, in which the democrats swept Congressman Eugene N. Foss into the gubernatorial chair, captured five out of 14 seats in the congressional delegation but missed securing control of the legislature by a narrow margin.

Revised returns for governor from the entire state were as follows: Eugene N. Foss, 220,148; Ebon S. Draper, 187,161. Foss' plurality, 32,987. Complete returns for lieutenant-governor give: Louis A. Frothingham, 198,292; Thomas F. Cassidy, 193,168. Frothingham's plurality, 5,134. The next legislature will stand as follows: Senate: republicans 25; democrats 15.

House: republicans 128; democrats 111; socialists 1. The new legislature will decide whether United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge shall be given another term and in the joint convention the republicans will have 153 to 126 votes for the democrats.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Feeling keenly the blows dealt by the voters to the great political party of which he is the head, President Taft returned to Washington this morning from Cincinnati, where he cast his ballot in a lost cause. He had no comment to make on the result and went directly to the White House, where it was stated that probably he would not break his silence concerning political affairs until after his return from Panama, whither he starts tomorrow.

Disappointed as is the president at the loss of the house of representatives to the democrats, his political advisers are pinning their hopes to the fact that a three months' session of the present republican majority in both branches of congress is about to begin. It is known that into that brief period the administration intends to crowd as much of its legislative program as seems to have the remotest chance of enactment.

Much of the proposed legislation which will be urged upon congress in the president's forthcoming message will be of a progressive character and it is here that the prospects are excellent for harmony in the republican ranks. Interesting as promise to be the events of the short session the assembling of the new congress and its conduct—with a democratic house and a republican senate serving under a republican president—will attract far wider attention. The first session of the new congress, which will convene in a little more than a year hence, is practically committed to tariff revision by reason of yesterday's results.

601: Thacher, d., 15,483. Harris' plurality, 112.

ELECTION IN THE STATE

BOSTON, Nov. 9.—Gov. Eben S. Draper, republican, was engulfed in the democratic tidal wave that swept over the country yesterday and Eugene N. Foss, the democratic candidate for governor, was swept into office by a plurality of 33,000, almost equalling the vote of William L. Douglas, the last democrat to be elected to the governorship of Massachusetts in 1904.

The vote for governor was: Foss, 237,142; Draper, 194,204.

In almost any other state a plurality of the size given Gov. elect Foss yesterday would have carried the rest of the state along with it, but discriminating republican Massachusetts always hesitated at voting for the rest of the democratic state ticket, although occasionally registering its protest against party policy or a nomination and voting for the democratic nominee. And this was true yesterday, when Thomas F. Cassidy, the democratic nominee for lieutenant governor, failed of election.

Lieut. Gov. Louis A. Frothingham, republican, managed to ride the democratic tidal wave safely and landed for the third time high and dry with a plurality of about 8000.

The vote for lieutenant governor: Frothingham, 205,641; Cassidy 197,081.

Thayer Defeats Washburn

The democrats didn't increase their congressional delegation as much as they expected. They captured the 3d or Worcester district, where John Alden Thayer defeated Congressman Charles G. Washburn for reelection by about 512 votes, giving them four congressmen in the next house, the others being William F. Murray in the 4th who won by 1615 plurality; James M. Curley in the 10th, who defeated Galvin by 5452, and Congressman Andrew J. Peters in the 11th, who was reelected, defeating W. Dudley Cotton, Jr. by about 6900.

KILLED HIMSELF

Popular Young Man Committed Suicide

BALTIMORE, Nov. 8.—Lying at the roadside on Hollins avenue, between Lake avenue and Lake lane, at Lake Roland, the dead body of Frederick R. Smith, a well known young member of the Baltimore social set and a prominent member of the Mount Washington club was found yesterday with a .33 calibre bullet hole in his right temple. A coroner's jury rendered a verdict of death by suicide.

There was nothing about the young man to indicate the reason for taking his life. It was a mystery.

Mr. Smith was a brother of Miss Julia Elizabeth Smith and Shaler G. Smith of New York. He was also closely related to the Rev. Dr. J. S. B. Hodges, Rector Emeritus of Old St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church, and was connected with many prominent families in this city. That he should have taken his own life is the last thought that would have occurred to his family and friends, as he was of an especially light hearted and genial disposition.

He was a staunch member of the Mount Washington club and was especially an admirer of Lacrosse, which he followed closely in this city and he often acted as umpire at one of the goals. He belonged to the Junior Collingwood club and was very popular among the younger set. He was unusually small in stature and this fact together with his genial manners, made him interesting.

Members of the family could assign no definite reason for Mr. Smith taking his life, but it is believed that he may have worried over the fact that he had been out of regular employment for some time, although he had independent means.

EX-TAX COLLECTOR SENTENCED

SALEM, Nov. 9.—Frederick Stanton, former tax collector of the town of Wenham, was sentenced to two years in the house of correction on a charge of embezzlement by Chief Justice Aiken in the superior court here today. Stanton was arrested last spring and indicted by the grand jury charged with the embezzlement of $5400 which it was alleged he had taken while acting as the town's tax collector. Following his arrest Stanton pleaded not guilty but last week he changed his plea in two of the counts to guilty. It was on one of the counts for larceny of $900 that he was sentenced today.

RECOMMENDS CAPITAL PUNISHMENT

TOKIO, Nov. 9.—The finding of the special court organized to try the plotters against the life of the emperor was announced today. Twenty-six persons were found guilty, including the ringleader, Kotu, and one woman, the wife of Kotu. The court recommends the severest penalty under clause 76 which provides capital punishment for plotters against the imperial family.

TAX TITLE CASES

City Solicitor William W. Duncan today filed an appeal in the tax title cases against the city of Lowell, and now the matter will go before the full bench of the supreme judicial court. The cases were three in number, namely, Denis E. Connors against the city of Lowell, Edward F. Connors, against same and Joseph Walsh against same.

Several months ago the cases were heard in the superior court and the judge found in some instances for the plaintiffs and in others for the defendant. The plaintiffs have also filed appeals on all the deeds that they lost.

A TIDAL WAVE

THE REPUBLICANS
WON A GREAT VICTORY IN CALIFORNIA

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—The republicans won a decisive victory in California yesterday. Owing to the length of the ticket and much scratching, the count is proceeding slowly but indications point to a heavy plurality for Hiram Johnson, the republican gubernatorial candidate, over Theodore Bell, democrat. Joseph Wilson, socialist candidate for governor, developed surprising strength in the large cities.

William Kent, republican, appears to have been elected to congress from the second district, and Julius Kahn and E. A. Hayes, republican incumbents from the fourth and fifth districts respectively, have been returned to the lower house. The Panama-Pacific exposition tax and the San Francisco fair bond amendment were ratified. The republicans made gains in both branches of the legislature.

IN MISSOURI

BOTH PARTIES MAKE CLAIM TO VICTORY

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 9.—Republican and democratic managers this morning claim to have elected their state tickets yesterday. Latest returns indicate substantial increases for the republicans and point to possible success of their candidates for supreme court justices, superintendents of schools and railroad commissions.

St. Louis gave its largest majority in recent years, nearly 30,000 in some cases and the democrats failed to elect a single officer, according to present returns.

The defeat of prohibition by 140,000 is still claimed. In the senatorial contest the democrats nominated James A. Reed of Kansas City over David R. Francis of St. Louis. John C. McKinley is the republican senatorial nominee.

The legislature is believed to be safely democratic.

IN ILLINOIS

REPUBLICANS HAVE SLIGHT LEAD IN LEGISLATURE

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 9.—Late returns changed the drift in the election so that the republicans were assured of a small majority in the legislature. That United States Senator Beveridge would be re-elected to the claim of Chairman Lee of the republican state committee, announced this morning.

Senator Beveridge said he believed he had defeated John W. Kern, democrat, by a small margin.

UTAH ELECTION

STATE-WIDE PROHIBITION WAS REJECTED

SALT LAKE, Utah, Nov. 9.—Utah yesterday elected Joseph Howell, republican, to congress and rejected state-wide prohibition as demanded by the democratic platform.

State returns are incomplete but it seems that Howell will have a total plurality of more than 10,000 against 18,000 two years ago. The legislature is republican, which means the return of George Sutherland to the United States senate.

EARTHQUAKE TREMORS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Earthquake tremors were recorded on the seismograph at Georgetown university early today. The earthquake was estimated to have occurred 3500 to 4000 miles northwest of Washington.

THREE DEMOCRATS

WERE ELECTED TO CONGRESS FROM WEST VIRGINIA

WHEELING, W. Va., Nov. 9.—Revised returns from all counties in West Virginia give the following unofficial pluralities for congressmen: First district—John W. Davis, dem., 3,271.

Second district—W. G. Brown, dem., 3,360.

Third district—Adam Littlepage, dem., 4,757.

REPUBLICAN ELECTED

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 9.—Although the returns from the fifth congressional district were still incomplete this morning, the election of Thomas Farran, republican, is conceded. The remaining five districts went democratic, a gain of two seats for that party.

DELEGATE TO CONGRESS

HONOLULU, Nov. 9.—J. K. Kalanienale was re-elected delegate to congress from Hawaii.

FOSS ELECTED

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—The reports that in the elections in Illinois George E. Foss was defeated for re-election were overturned later when the complete unofficial figures were compiled. The complete returns gave Foss 16,608 and Richard Finnegan, Dem., 15,166.

REPUBLICAN VICTORY

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 9.—The republicans of Washington won a sweeping victory in yesterday's election, choosing five supreme court justices by a plurality of about 50,000 and electing all three congressmen, William E. Humphrey, Stanton Warburton and William Larollette. The republican majority in the legislature will be more than 100, insuring the election of Miles Polindexter as United States senator.

COL. ROOSEVELT

Will Not Discuss the Election Result

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Nov. 9.—Theodore Roosevelt had not a word to say today as to the results of the election. It was said at Sagamore Hill that he had nothing to say and that no statement was forthcoming, at least for an indefinite period.

Col. Roosevelt has shut himself off from the outside world. When an attempt was made to reach him today he sent out word that he would see no reporters at Oyster Bay.

Colonel Roosevelt said several days ago that he would stay at home to rest for some time and that he would not go to New York until Nov. 17.

GREAT VICTORY

Scored by the Democrats in Illinois

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—The result of the election in Illinois furnished one of the greatest surprises in the country yesterday. Although pictured as one of the best states in middle west from a republican standpoint, nowhere was the democratic landslide more pronounced. The democrats made a clean sweep in Cook county. For the first time in fourteen years the party reigns supreme here. With pluralities ranging from 15,000 to 25,000 the democrats captured county offices. For the first time in its history a democrat was elected to the board of review. Local republican leaders were staggered by the results. The election also was immensely important to the democrats as indicating their chances of electing a mayor of Chicago next spring.

JUDGE PARKER

May be Elected United States Senator

ALBANY, Nov. 9.—On January 3 next in John A. Dix, New York state will have what it has not had since the election of Roswell P. Flower in 1891—a democratic governor. The chief executive will have a legislature safely democratic in both branches and democratic associates in the various elective state offices. One of the most important duties of the new legislature will be to elect a successor to U. S. Senator Chauncey M. Depew, whose term expires on March 3 next. Alton B. Parker, ex-chief justice of the court of appeals, Edward M. Shepard, Thomas M. Osborne and John B. Stanchfield are among the names suggested here today as possible candidates. According to returns at present available the senate will have thirty democrats, twenty republicans and one independent republican, 28 votes being necessary to control. The last senate had 35 republicans and sixteen democrats.

Seventy-six members are needed to control the assembly. The democrats elected eighty-seven and the republicans sixty-three. The last assembly numbered 84 republicans, 54 democrats, one United Citizens league member and 1 elected by the Independence league.

The White Store is selling out.

MAJORITY OF 25

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—Democrats elected 221, republicans elected, 167. Socialist elected, 1. Missing 12. Total, 391.

Gain by democrats, 55; gain by republicans, 6. Net gain for democrats, 49.

Number necessary to control, 196. Present democratic membership, 122. Working majority for democrats, 25.

LOCAL ELECTION IN POLICE COURT

The Vote in the Congressional and Other Contests

Col. Carmichael Beaten by Narrow Margin—Lost Most Heavily in Democratic Wards—Joseph L. Marin Gets Sweeping Majority in Lowell—Senators and Representatives Elected

The most regrettable feature of yesterday's election in Lowell was the small majority of Col. Carmichael even if he did have a net gain of 1893 over Ames' vote two years ago, but of the congressional election more is said below.

THE ELECTED

Col. Butler Ames, R, Fifth Congressional District.

Hon. Joseph H. Hibbard, R, Eighth Senatorial District.

Hon. Frank P. Bennett, Jr., R, Seventh Senatorial District.

Edward Fisher, D, 11th Representative District.

George H. Stevens, R, 14th Representative District.

Dennis A. Murphy, D, 15th Representative District.

Eugene F. Toomey, D, 16th Representative District.

Ernest B. Barlow, R, and George E. Marchand, R, 17th Representative District.

Charles T. Kilpatrick, R, 18th Representative District.

Thomas S. Cuff, D, 19th Representative District.

John J. Higgins, R, District Attorney.

John R. Fairbairn, R, High Sheriff.

Charles H. Richardson, R, County Commissioner.

The landslide that swept over Massachusetts yesterday landed broadside against Lowell and democratic candidates right and left carried the city.

Here are some of the majorities and pluralities:

Lieut. Governor—Cassidy, D., 1,489.

Secretary of state—Martel, D., 1,011.

Congress—Carmichael, D., 93.

County commissioner—Whittemore, D., 981.

County commissioner—Fairbanks, D., 1,522.

Asso. commissioner—Marin, D., 2,466.

Asso. commissioner—Colahan, D., 1,458.

District attorney—Irwin, D., 398.

Sheriff—Tuck, D., 913.

WOMAN SUES

FOR COSTLY FURNISHING IN HER HOUSE

MONTCLAIR, N. J., Nov. 9.—Mrs. W. C. Stewart, who was elected from her home, 208 South Mountain avenue, on Sept. 26 last, has begun a suit in the county court to recover practically all the furnishings in the house. The value of the furnishings is said to be about $60,000. A writ has been served on Mary Kennedy, in whose charge the mansion has been left by the legal representatives of Mrs. W. B. Leeds, stepdaughter of Mrs. Stewart, the owner of the house.

Mrs. Stewart gives a detailed list of the articles in the house which she says belong to her. The enumeration of the list takes up sixteen typewritten pages. Mrs. Stewart at the time of her eviction from the house said that a large part of the furnishings were purchased in New York stores, where Mrs. Leeds directed that she have carte blanche in ordering articles for the rehabilitation of the interior of the mansion which the widow of the tinplate man had bought for the use of her father, W. C. Stewart, and his wife.

Judge Adams of the Essex county court has directed that service in the replevin suit of Mrs. Stewart be made on Mrs. Leeds by mail. It is said that Mrs. Leeds is in Trouville, France.

MAYOR MEEHAN

By an oversight in the brief notice of the Monday night rally for Carmichael in yesterday's Sun, the name of Mayor Meehan was omitted in the list of speakers. His Honor made a strong appeal in support of Col. Carmichael's candidacy.

LASKER DEFEATED JANOWSKI

REHLMAN, Nov. 8.—Dr. Emanuel Lasker, holder of the world's championship, beat Dr. Janowski, French champion, in the first game for the chess championship of the world, played at the Kerkau palace in this city yesterday. The match is a contest of eight games up, draws not counting.

THE STRIKE RIOTS

CARDIFF, Nov. 9.—The dramatic action of the authorities in rushing troops and London police to the mining district where strike riots occurred last night overpowered the strikers and the situation appeared to be well under control.

KILLED IN DRUNKEN ROW

CLINTON, Ind., Nov. 9.—Turchi Petrini, 25 years old, shot and instantly killed Turchi Gaetano, 30 years old, in North Ninth street, Clinton, at 6 o'clock yesterday morning. The police are looking for the slayer. The two men are Italian miners. The cause of the shooting is not known. Brevary agents shipped scores of cases of beer into this quarter of Clinton for free distribution Monday night, and there was much drinking preceding the shooting.

O. M. I. CADETS

CASE DISMISSED

When the case against Ernest P. Parsons was called in police court an explanation was made to the court and the case was promptly dismissed.

Mr. Parsons states that during his absence from the city, a check which he had given overdraw his account, and the cashier of the bank which honored the check, not being acquainted with him, proceeded against him. As soon as he knew that his account was overdrawn he rectified the matter, and yesterday the court took immediate action when the circumstances were presented. Mr. Parsons was represented by lawyer James P. O'Donnell.

DIVIDEND DECLARED

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—The directors of the Sloan Steel & Iron company today passed a dividend on the common stock which has been at the rate of 1 1/2 per cent quarterly.

INQUEST ORDERED

McFADDEN

NEWPORT, R. I., Nov. 9.—Medical Examiner Ercyrd today ordered an inquest into the death of Private Thomas McFadden of the 109th coast artillery, who was found dead in bed in a room at the Army and Navy Y. M. C. A. earlier in the day. It is believed, however, that death was due to natural causes. McFadden was 29 years old and enlisted from Haverhill, Mass.

A NOVEL FEATURE

LONDON, Nov. 9.—Sir Vasey Strong, London's first prohibition lord mayor, was inducted into office today, the civic pageant including one novel feature. The procession from the guildhall through the streets of the city to the law courts where the oath was administered and thence back to the Mansion house was devoted to the representation of four scenes from Shakespeare connected with important events in the history of London.

DR. ELLIOTT DEAD

BALTIMORE, Nov. 9.—Dr. Marshall Elliott, doctor of romance languages at Johns Hopkins university and one of the foremost scholars of the world in that field of literature, died here today, aged 64. Dr. Elliott had been a member of the faculty of Johns Hopkins university since its founding in 1876.

MANY APPLICANTS

ARE SEEKING AID FROM THE CITY

The number of applicants for relief from the board of charities is on the increase. As a general rule the influx of people for aid commences about this time of the year and continues until the latter part of the spring.

There are many who have been securing aid from the city for years and they are considered "regulars" and then there are a number of new applicants who appear at the office at city hall.

As is usual there is a considerable demand for wood and coal owing to the cold weather and also an increase in the demand for provisions.

PRIZE OF $500

BALTIMORE, Nov. 9.—Besides the regular program of hourly distance, duration and altitude flights scheduled for this afternoon at the aviation meet, it is announced that there will be an attempt for the grand altitude prize of $500 offered by the Baltimore American and Star. A seven mile breeze was blowing this forenoon and the thermometer registered 49 degrees.

CASE DISMISSED

When the case against Ernest P. Parsons was called in police court an explanation was made to the court and the case was promptly dismissed.

Mr. Parsons states that during his absence from the city, a check which he had given overdraw his account, and the cashier of the bank which honored the check, not being acquainted with him, proceeded against him. As soon as he knew that his account was overdrawn he rectified the matter, and yesterday the court took immediate action when the circumstances were presented. Mr. Parsons was represented by lawyer James P. O'Donnell.

LYNCH NEGROES SOUGHT DEATH

Two, Hanged to the Same Pole

MONTEZUMA, Ga., Nov. 8.—Two negroes, instead of one as first reported, were hanged from a telegraph pole Monday night in Flint river swamps, less than a mile from the center of the city.

William Barnes and John Walker were held for the murder of Night Policeman Bush of Montezuma. Walker was forcibly taken from the jail at Oglethorpe by a mob. Barnes was arrested Monday and after being taken to Oglethorpe was brought back to the workhouse here. He is said to have made a full confession.

At 9 o'clock Monday night people here heard a number of pistol shots, and investigating found the body of Barnes hanging from the telegraph pole and riddled with bullets. At midnight more pistol shots were heard, and yesterday morning the body of Walker was seen hanging from the same pole.

NEARLY DROWNED

MAN WAS CAUGHT IN A FLOOD OF MILK

MIDDLEBURY, Vt., Nov. 9.—Marcus Carr, employed as manager of the local milk station of the Boston Dairy company, had a narrow escape from being drowned in milk Monday, when a truck load of filled cans fell into him.

He had loaded the truck with cans containing 450 gallons of milk preparatory to loading them into the car. The truck broke down, throwing Mr. Carr to the ground. The cans fell on top of him and the covers of every one of them came off, deluging him with the milky fluid intended for the breakfast cereal and coffee of the residents of Boston.

Mr. Carr was gasping for breath when rescued by bystanders. Aside from his drowning, his chest and legs were bruised by the heavy cans.

YOUTH WAS TOLD WHAT COUGH MEANT

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—The fragile figure of a half-grown lad sat huddled on an open bench opposite the Twenty-third street ferry house late last night. A chill wind from off the Hudson cut through his thread-bare clothes and a big policeman noticed that the boy's big brown eyes glowed with the light of fever. As the policeman strode away there was a shot.

"Let me die," the boy was telling the patrolman. "I'm too tired to live. I'm sick. I have nothing to live for."

The bullet had only grazed his head. They said of 15-year-old Sam Schurman at Bellevue yesterday that he came to America to escape the dull poverty of his little Italian home and obtain an education. The Italian boy went to work in a "sweat shop." The long days of toil were followed by nights of study. His chest became hollow, his voice husky and then the cough came. A physician told him what it meant and last night the lad tried to end it all. In the hospital yesterday he had the first cure and comfort he had known since he landed an ambitious newcomer to America over a year ago.

STETSON SHOT

Received Full Charge From Friend's Gun

DAMARISCOTTA, Me., Nov. 9.—Abner Stetson of this town, while hunting rabbits in the neighboring woods yesterday morning, was the victim of a shotgun wound made by his friend and companion, Charles Sherman.

While the accident happened so suddenly that even Sherman is unable to give a complete account of it, it appears that Stetson was some 20 feet in the lead and both raised their guns evidently to fire at the same animal. Stetson fired and Sherman believes that in his excitement he suddenly stepped to one side just at the moment to catch in his right shoulder the full force of the fire from Sherman's gun.

The wound caused Stetson to faint away. Sherman bandaged the wound as best he could, then made Stetson comfortable and went in search of help to get the young man home. A surgeon later removed more than 20 pieces of shattered bone from the shoulder, besides a quantity of shot. It is not believed the wound will prove fatal although Stetson will be likely to suffer from its effects for many months.

Sherman was grief-stricken over the affair, but his first duty held him responsible for the accident.

A NEW DECREE

Has Been Issued By the Vatican

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—The Herald prints today a special cable dispatch dated at Rome, yesterday, as follows:

A decree of the utmost importance to all bishops and priests in the United States has been issued by the consistorial congregation up to the present the bishops have been the sole arbiters in determining the removal of rectors of parishes, of which there are about 5000 in the United States. The new decree completely changes this system and establishes a rigorous procedure, regulating all such removals.

In the first place, the number of causes which can justify the removal of a rector against his will are clearly specified under nine heads, including perpetual insanity, grave physical or mental incapacity, loss of reputation, imminent danger of scandal, rooted hostility of the people, bad administration, gross neglect of parochial duties and confirmed disobedience, but even when any of these clauses is obviously present, the bishop cannot remove the offending rector on his own initiative.

In every diocese a number of examiners and consultants will be appointed. When a case of removal is to be discussed the bishop must call the two senior examiners and with them institute a formal examination of the case. Then the bishop and the two examiners vote. If a majority of two is in favor of removal, the rector is formally invited to resign.

If he declines he has the right of presenting evidence to show that the decision, and the tribunal of three examiners all the evidence he can bring. Then they vote again with the obligation of conscience not to decree his removal unless convinced of its justification and necessity. A majority of two again is necessary.

If this formal decision is again in favor of removal the rector may appeal. The bishop then summons the two senior consultants of the diocese and with them constitutes a new tribunal, before which the rector may present fresh evidence. If his removal is eventually decreed the bishop makes suitable provision for him.

The present decree is to apply to the entire church, and the first instalment of the new code of ecclesiastical law which is to govern the Catholic church in all countries. It greatly diminishes the powers of bishops in most English-speaking countries and grants rectors of missions fixity of tenure and a legal guarantee which they have never before enjoyed. At the same time it will be welcomed by the bishops as relieving them of a very grave responsibility.

The decree also is most important as indicating the character of the new code of Pius X, which is the first complete attempt ever made to codify the legislation of the church. A commission of cardinals and 45 consultants chosen from among the most learned experts in canon law in the whole world, has been at work on this gigantic undertaking for seven years, and has only now completed its work.

At the beginning of the 'new year' the first draft of the new code will be sent, with the strictest obligation of secrecy, to all the bishops in the world. They will be required to study it and suggest such changes as they may think advisable. Three months will be allowed for this work.

When all the copies of the draft, with the subjoined observations, are returned to Rome, the pontifical commission for the codification of the canon law will examine and revise the entire work. The promulgation of the code will take place early in 1912, unless unforeseen events prevent it.

There was some idea of reopening the Vatican council for the solemn promulgation and the settlement of various important questions connected with the Scriptures, but this plan has been definitely abandoned.

BIG VOTE FOR DIX

He Defeated Stimson for Governor by 65,000

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—By the verdict of the voters of New York state, rendered at the polls, John A. Dix, democrat, will take the governor's chair at Albany on Jan. 1 next, the first democrat to carry the state for the governorship since 1807.

Mr. Dix defeated Henry L. Stimson, the republican candidate, by a plurality of approximately 65,000 in yesterday's election, carrying with him to victory all the democratic candidates for state offices. A democratic legislature was also elected, assuring the election of a democrat to succeed Chauncey Depew as United States senator from New York.

The voting everywhere was marked by a pronounced falling off of the republican vote, with a sufficient increase in the democratic totals to reverse the plurality of 64,423 given to Governor Hughes two years ago and to change the complexion of the whole state government, as well as making such inroads on the republican representation in congress from New York as to turn the delegation over to the democrats, who gained eleven members, electing 22 representatives against 15 for the republicans. Not a single republican congressman was elected in New York county, and Representative Cocks from the district in which Mr. Roosevelt lives, was defeated by Martin W. Littleton, democrat. Dix's plurality in New York city was 105,562. Two years ago Chandler, democrat, for governor, carried the city by 59,904. Manhattan and the Bronx gave Dix a plurality of 67,469 against a Chandler plurality of 42,233 in 1908, while Brooklyn gave Dix 25,534 in comparison with 4234 for the democratic candidate two years ago.

Against the more than 100,000 plurality for Dix in New York city the up-state territory returned approximately a plurality of only 40,000 for Stimson.

Returns for the offices below governor on the state ticket were slower in coming in, but with approximately 80,000 plurality for Conway, democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, in New York city, and a vote proportionally about as large for the other democratic nominees for state offices it was apparent that the entire democratic ticket had been elected. Analysis of the vote shows that republicans were in many sections as large in the rural districts as in the big towns and cities. Reversals of political allegiance occurred in county after county.

New York's impending contribution to the democratic membership of the United States senate is by no means the only one in prospect. With returns from Nevada and Iowa still missing, there is good reason for the belief, early this morning, that the next national senate will be composed of 48 republican and 42 democratic members.

The democratic majority in the next national house of representatives will be at least 42, judging from the returns of this morning.

GOV.-ELECT DIX

TO TAKE A REST IN THE ADIRONDACKS

THOMSON, N. Y., Nov. 9.—"The will of the people has been heard. The triumph of democracy will tranquillize conditions and bring business peace."

That was what Gov.-elect Dix said he believed would be the result of the great democratic landslide just before he left here this morning for a week's rest in the Adirondacks.

His Plurality is Greatly Reduced

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 9.—Elected a year ago by the heaviest plurality ever accorded a candidate for governor in Rhode Island, Gov. Aram J. Pothier, republican, was re-elected for a third term yesterday by one of the smallest votes ever known in the history of gubernatorial contests in the state.

Governor Pothier defeated his democratic rival, Lewis Waterman, by 993 votes. The total vote was: Aram J. Pothier, R. 33,492.

Lewis A. Waterman, D. 32,595. The remainder of the republican state ticket was elected by a larger plurality than the governor received.

The democrats emerged from the contest with one congressman, George F. O'Shaughnessy, formerly of New York, and a larger representation in the general assembly than ever before, though not a majority. The next general assembly will be deadlocked over the election of a successor to Senator Aldrich, republican, who refused to run again.

There will be 25 republicans and 13 democrats in the next senate, a gain of 5 democrats. In the house there will be 61 republicans and 38 democrats.

This is a gain of 28 for the democrats.

In Providence Mayor Henry Fletcher, republican, was re-elected for a third term by 1500 plurality, defeating Joseph E. Cole, democrat, by 1300 votes.

Former Gov. Utter, republican, secured the election in the second congressional district.

JUDGE BALDWIN

Was Elected Governor of Connecticut

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 9.—Judge Simon E. Baldwin, democrat, was elected governor of Connecticut by a plurality of about 5500 over Charles A. Goodwin, republican, but the lieutenant-governor, state treasurer, secretary of state, comptroller, and attorney-general are republicans.

Congressman-at-large Tilson was re-elected by a plurality of 7000 in place of over 41,000 two years ago and Congressman Henry in the first district has only 1300.

Congressman Higgins in the third district a bare margin of 834 instead of his previous 5700, and Congressman Hill of the fourth district has 2,800 plurality in place of 28,000 in 1908.

In the second district Thomas Reilly, democrat, who has won the seat so long filled by N. D. Sperry, has about 5000 margin.

The democratic victory is more impressive in its local contests, the gain

THE NEW STANDARD BEARER IN MASSACHUSETTS

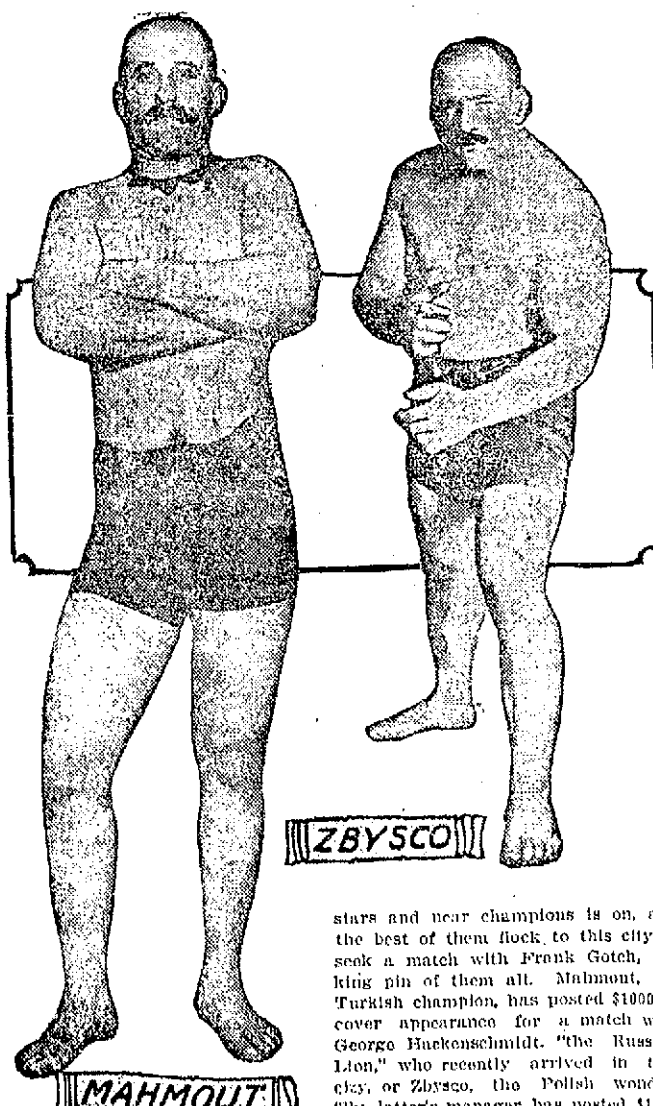

THE MORNING AFTER THE BATTLE

being 57 seats in the house and 10 in the senate. Democratic sheriffs were elected in four of the eight counties.

The complexion of the legislature remains republican and the prediction is made that ex-Governor McLean will win the contest for the United States senatorship from Senator Bulkeley as the latter suffered quite severely in defeat of candidates for the house who were known to favor the senior senator.

TWO FOREIGN GRAPPLERS SEEK MATCH WITH CHAMPION GOTCH

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—Wrestling fans here are promised a season of interesting and exciting sport for the winter. The annual invasion of foreign mat stars and near champions is on, and the best of them flock to this city to seek a match with Frank Gotch, the king pin of them all. Mahmout, the Turkish champion, has posted $1000 to cover appearance for a match with George Hackenschmidt, "the Russian Lion," who recently arrived in this city, or Zbysko, the Polish wonder. The latter's manager has posted $1000 in Buffalo for a challenge for Frank Gotch. Mahmout is trying to arrange a series of elimination matches between Hackenschmidt, Zbysko, and himself to determine who shall have the right to challenge Gotch.

BOWLING SCORES

Some Interesting Contests Last Night

The local alleys were well patronized by the bowlers last night and some very interesting league games were played. There were also a number of games played between picked teams.

There were two games played in the Manufacturers League, the Boot defeating the Lowell Machine shop in one while in the other the Bigelow trounced the Lawrence team.

The game between the Y. M. C. I. and Belvideres in the Catholic League was a walkover for the former team which won all three points and captured the total by a margin of over 100 pins.

In the Odd Fellows League Merrimack Valley defeated Excelsior lodge and Integrity lodge trimmed Wamsit lodge.

STRUCK BY TRAIN

Lowell Boy Was Killed at Winchester Yesterday

James Morin, aged about 18 years, who resided with his sister near the United States Bunting Cricket club in South Lowell, was struck by a train and instantly killed while walking on the railroad tracks at Winchester yesterday noon.

Morin and a friend of his, Edgar Searle, aged 18 years and residing at 5 Watson avenue, left Lowell about 7 o'clock this morning for Boston, where they were going to try to enter the United States navy. The amount of cash they had was very small and they decided to walk.

Shortly before noon, while walking along the railroad tracks in Winchester they heard a train approaching and turning around found that it was coming down the same track on which they were walking. Both jumped over to the next track, but evidently Morin was not as speedy as his companion, for, coming up on the other track was an express train which struck Morin and buried him about 50 yards. Death must have been instantaneous.

The train was stopped and Morin's body was taken to the Winchester station and the medical examiner notified. The local police were notified and Searle came back to this city.

In conversation with a representative of The Sun this afternoon Searle said that neither he nor Morin noticed the approach of the train which struck the latter. He is of the opinion that some protruding part on the front of the engine struck Morin for the latter was not between the rails when he was struck.

and therefore a democrat will be elected to the United States senate to succeed John Keen, republican, on March 4th next.

WILSON'S PLURALITY MAY BE INCREASED TO ABOUT 30,000

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 9.—Latest election figures make Woodrow Wilson's plurality for governor 25,000 with a possibility that final returns may increase it to 30,000.

The returns from the fourth congressional district show that Ira W. Wood, republican, was elected by a plurality of about 500. This, as returns now stand, will give the republicans three of the ten New Jersey congressmen, an exact reversal of the present representation of seven republicans and three democrats.

Every possible doubt seems to have been removed as to the democrats controlling the legislature on joint ballot and therefore a democrat will be elected to the United States senate to succeed John Keen, republican, on March 4th next.

Y. M. C. A. BUILDING NEWPORT, R. I., Nov. 9.—Impressive civic and military services attended the laying of the corner-stone of the Newport Army and Navy Young Men's Christian Association by U. S. Senator George P. Wetmore today. The exercises were participated in by the officers of the army and navy and the bands from the fort and naval stations played patriotic airs. Chaplain Frank Thompson, U. S. N., and Rev. George Quick and E. H. Porter, D. D., of Newport assisted in the ceremonies. An American flag and a testament from Helen Miller Gould were placed in the corner-stone.

The new building is located in the heart of the city and faces the old courthouse in which many of Rhode Island's governors were inaugurated, while Newport was a sister capital of Providence. The ground and building cost about $250,000.

LOCAL ELECTION

he made a net gain of 13 votes. But he went awfully bad in wards two, four and five of this city, the three democratic wards and there was where his defeat came from. In each of the three democratic wards Carmichael received a smaller vote than Flynn received two years ago.

The net gains made by Col. Carmichael in Lowell by wards are as follows:

Ward one, 272; ward two, 97; ward three, 319; ward four, 35; ward five, 13; ward six, 331; ward seven, 253; ward eight, 244; ward nine, 140; total, 1698. It will be noticed that Carmichael's net gain in wards two, four and five together was less than in any one of the other wards. The total gain in these three wards was 385, while ward nine, Col. Ames' own ward, did better than the three democratic wards with a net gain of 140. The congressional result was in doubt until the last returns were in. With Dracut and precinct three of ward one to be heard from the Ames' forces were claiming victory by about 200. The final corrected figures gave him a plurality of 654. His plurality two years ago was 5573, showing a remarkable change in sentiment even if victory did pause on the threshold. The Ames people particularly Secretary Legare, received the surprise of the campaign when they looked over the vote in ward six, "The French vote will save him," said a well known republican at city hall when the result appeared to be in doubt. Col. Carmichael carried it by 147. In ward seven Ames carried the ward by 93, while Hibbard carried it by 147. Col. Carmichael's greatest net gain, 331, was made in ward six. A large proportion of the French-American voters reside in these two wards. Col. Ames carried his own precinct in ward nine by 3 votes. Col. Carmichael carried his own precinct in ward seven by 143. Frothingham carried Col. Ames' precinct by 41 votes while Cassidy carried Col. Carmichael's precinct by 121.

The County Votes
Every democratic county candidate carried the city by a substantial majority, while Joseph L. Marin, the democratic candidate for associate commissioner, although he was a stranger to politics, received a remarkable vote, carrying the city by 248, running second to Mr. Jones in this city. It is evident from the vote for district attorney that Mr. Higgins, the present incumbent, received a considerable amount of democratic support.

The Senatorial Contests
Mr. Philip Kieley of Lynn was defeated by Senator Bennett in the seventh district, which includes two wards of Lowell, the ward of Lynn, and the Lord knows where else, but he certainly made Senator Bennett realize that he had been in a fight. Mr. Kieley carried ward five by 809 and ward nine by 119, a total in Lowell of 928, while he carried ward six of Lynn by 848. But the way stations between, 15 of them stretching from Ayer Junction to the sea and narrowly escaping Henry Cabot Lodge's stronghold at Nahant and Egg Rock, did the business and Kieley went down by the comparatively narrow margin of 206.

In the eighth district Senator Hibbard carried the seven wards in Lowell, which are in his district, by 789, and the entire district by 1875. The district is estimated to be 1800 republican, and hence Hon. Fisher H. Pearson, the democratic candidate, made a good showing although defeated.

Rogers Came Strong

The republicans received a shock in the 14th district where James H. Rogers, the democratic candidate for representative, brought way down the vote of Rep. Stevens. Republican headquarters men laughed at the idea of Rogers coming anywhere near Rep. Stevens, but he did, and Stevens got by with only 167 to the good.

In the 15th, 16th and 18th districts there were practically no contests, for the caucus decided the election. In the 17th what looked to be a battle between Rogers and Stevens was counted was on with Reps. Barlow and Marchand on the republican end and Stephen Monahan and Thomas P. Golden on the democratic. The results showed the republicans to be winners by increased majorities.

Cuff Increases Majority

That the voters of the 19th district were satisfied with the record of Rep. Thomas S. Cuff during the past year was evidenced by the fact that although opposed by a strong candidate in Frederick F. Marlow he went out by an increased vote. During the year Rep. Cuff got through the bill to reimburse Tewksbury and other towns having state institutions for their loss of taxes, a bill which means money annually to Tewksbury, and the town rewarded him by giving him 39 large votes against 58 last year. Rep. Cuff carried the district by 197, an increase over last year.

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

The sworn daily average circulation of The Lowell Sun for the year 1909 was

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilotte, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1910. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

This is by far the largest average circulation of any newspaper in Lowell.

THE CONGRESSIONAL CONTEST

The city of Lowell is responsible for the defeat of Colonel Carmichael, who made such a splendid run outside Lowell against Congressman Ames. It is rather a peculiar commentary upon our local democracy that Colonel Carmichael lost most heavily in the democratic wards. He carried Lawrence by a majority of 1900, and his own city only by 93. The contrast is striking. It may be mentioned also that most of the other democratic candidates carried the city by large majorities.

On the whole, however, Colonel Carmichael is to be congratulated upon his splendid fight, and upon his vote outside of Lowell.

THE ELECTION OF FOSS

The election in the state of Massachusetts was next to New York, the most important to be decided throughout the entire country. Eugene N. Foss for many years has been a strong tariff reformer, and especially an advocate of Canadian reciprocity by which the cost of living can be reduced and a great many advantages secured to the people of this country. His election yesterday by a sweeping majority has served notice to the republican party throughout the country that the people of this state are discontented, and are in open revolt against republican misrule.

As governor of Massachusetts Mr. Foss will be a prominent figure in the eyes of the nation for the next year, and it would not be at all surprising to find that he may also be prominent as a candidate for president in 1912.

The other results throughout the state show strong democratic gains, although the democrats have been disappointed in having added but one to their congressional delegation.

THE STATE COTTON STOREHOUSE

The state of Louisiana is building a great cotton storehouse at New Orleans, the purpose of which is to afford the cotton producers a place in which they can store their cotton in safety and relieve them from the extortion of private storehouses.

There is a good deal of discussion over this new departure by the state, as some of the opponents of the movement are claiming that it is socialistic, and that the state has no right to provide storage for merchandise in that way.

The state intends, however, to go right along with the project, and to issue certificates for the cotton held in storage that will be negotiable financially just as a government bond would be negotiable. The enterprise seems to be one that will commend itself to other states as a means of helping certain industries and protecting them against imposition by speculators.

In regard to fire-proof cotton storehouses we might mention that one of the largest in the state will soon be completed in this city by the Massachusetts Manufacturing company. It is of reinforced concrete construction, and will undoubtedly hold enough cotton to last the mill for several years. In this way it will protect the company from the fluctuations of the cotton market without paying the cost of storage as heretofore.

The other large general storehouse recently erected in Lowell will serve in a similar way for general merchandise, and will thus be a great benefit to the traders of the city.

We do not see any reasonable objection to either public or private storehouses. If wealthy manufacturing concerns can erect large storehouses of their own, it is but reasonable that the state should provide for concerns who cannot build their own storehouses, and who do not wish to pay exorbitant prices for the cost of storage.

SEVERE REBUKE TO ROOSEVELT

The election results of yesterday while not indicating a general democratic sweep brought sufficient reverses to the republican party to convince even the most unbending standpatter that the people of this nation resented the party's misrule in regard to the tariff, the special privileges for certain interests, and the general policy of sacrificing everything to perpetuity in office.

The results of the election show that the next house of representatives will be democratic, and that the republican strength in the senate will be reduced.

But perhaps an equally important result of yesterday's voting was the severe rebuke to Theodore Roosevelt, the self-constituted political boss and national dictator of republican policies. Practically every contest in which he figured was won by the democrats, and in the state of New York where he had staked his prestige upon the result the democrats swept the state, electing their candidate by a plurality of 100,000, and thus administering to Mr. Roosevelt one of the worst rebukes of his political career.

Indeed it might reasonably be expected that the results of yesterday's election would relieve the country of this dangerous public agitator who seems to imagine that the country will go to smash unless everybody does just as he directs.

The people of this country have taken steps to convince Mr. Roosevelt that they will not submit to any dictatorship from him, and the result of this election will probably settle the question of his candidacy for president in 1912.

When asked on Monday what the result would be in New York state he said: "We will knock them through the ropes." Mr. Roosevelt himself, to use his own slang phrase, has not only been knocked through the ropes, but "beaten to a frazzle."

SEEN AND HEARD

Appreciation among British collectors of the genius of Edgar Allan Poe is on the increase, as shown by the record price of $646 paid recently at a London auction for a copy of the first edition of "The Raven" and "Other Poems," published in Nov. 1839 in 1845. Its high value is doubtless due to the fact that it has an autograph inscription from Poe to Mrs. Elizabeth Barrett Browning, the distinguished English poetess previous to her marriage to Robert Browning.

The inscription reads, "To Miss Elizabeth Barrett, with the respects of Edgar A. Poe." The American record is higher still, $610 having been paid at the Thomas J. McKee sale in 1900 for a presentation copy of the same work from Poe to Sarah Helen Whitman, who wrote a small work defending Poe against the savage attacks made upon his character. This McKee copy also contained a presentation inscription of Sarah Helen Whitman to C. Fiske Harris.

This latest London price for a Poe rarity is far above what similar things have fetched in the British market in former years. In the Crompton library sale in 1891, a presentation copy from Poe to M. J. Haughton of a copy of "The Raven" brought only $7.50. At a sale in 1907, however, another copy realized $150. The price now paid is three times that amount, but is accounted for by the association of the names of two such distinguished authors as Poe and Mrs. Browning.

INDIAN SUMMER

A flood of gold and crimson
Sweeping across the sky,
And a touch of mystic sweetness
Lingers where the brown leaves lie;
Illumined hills and meadows
Half veiled in tender haze,
The crown of drear November
These "Indian Summer" days.

How sweet the fading glory,
And I fancy long ago,
The Indians loved the beauty
Of this strange departing glow;
And suddenly a lecture comes,
Repeating olden tales,
Of rudely fires and circling camps,
Dotting the sunny vales.

Perhaps, 'tis but a vague romance,
Yet who, indeed, can tell?
We only know these "Indian" days
Hold an enchanting spell—
White clouds above the amber sky,
And a touch upon the sea,
And a touch of wistful wonders,
And shadowy mystery.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Miss Mary Lols Kissell has started on an extended trip among the Indians of the southwest, where she will study basketry on its native heath. She is the first woman ever sent out by the American Museum of Natural History in New York for purposes of original research. The museum has a fine collection of Indian baskets, of all shapes and sizes and uses, covered with intricate designs in significant colors. Some of the facts of their construction are known, but the scientists are aware of many mysteries which await solution. "Miss Mary"—even a scientific name—cannot get at these secrets. He tries, and the taciturn old squaw mutters "Me no know." Mere man discovers that the Indian woman is bound by rules of religious observance not to discuss her work with men. Even the braves of

ADVICE ABOUT THE SKIN

In the treatment and cure of eczema and other skin diseases, two conditions are necessary. One is to exclude dust, germs and air from the diseased parts, and the other is to set up the healing process at the same time. The new medical compound, Cadum, accomplishes both these results so effectively that the itching is stopped soon after it is applied, and the sore parts heal up quickly. Cadum is just as effective in the cure of pimples, blotches, acne, herpes, eruptions, chafings, psoriasis, sores, etc. 10c and 25c per box.

A RASH BECOMES MASS OF HUMOR

On Baby's Face, Head and Shoulders—Parents Decided He Could Not be Cured—Cuticura Made His Skin Perfectly Clear.

"Our boy was born in Toronto on Oct. 12, 1908, and when three months old a slight rash appeared on his cheek. What appeared to be a water blister would form. When it broke, matter would run out, starting new blisters until his entire face, head and shoulders were a mass of scabs and you could not see his eyes. His skin was so itchy that he would scratch himself. Other parts of his body were affected, but not to such an extent. We did not know what to do for him and tried about every advertised remedy without avail. Indeed some of them only added to his suffering and pain. In the end, the doctor, almost the infant into convulsions. The family doctor prescribed for him and told us to bathe the baby in buttermilk. This did not do any good, so we took him to a hospital. He was treated as an out-patient twice a week. He was cured, but his work was done. But the very next day it broke out as bad as ever."

"We decided that it could not be cured by the usual skin treatments, so we tried Cuticura. We left Toronto and shortly after our arrival in Dubuque, the Cuticura Remedies were recommended. We started using them in May, 1909, and soon the cure was complete. You would not believe how the same child for Cuticura made his skin perfectly clear and he is entirely free from the skin disease. There has been no return this time. We still use only Cuticura. Cuticura Remedies sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston, Mass., U.S.A. "I will take some time of course," explained Miss Kissell, "to get them to regard me in a friendly way. I shall stay in one village long enough to feel acquainted. Then I shall take my 'knitting work' maybe and go to spend the afternoon with one of my neighbors. Two or three others will drop in, and we'll all sit and chat as we knit. I expect to get many points this way that would not be divulged in an ordinary interview. There are mysterious rites connected with the gathering of the regals, and many of the designs have a religious or superstitious significance. They will tell me these things, I hope, as they could not tell a man."

THE MUNICIPALITIES

NEWS OF INTEREST TO STREET BUILDERS

SYRACUSE, Nov. 9.—The first experiment in treating Syracuse streets with oil emulsion to permanently lay the dust was made Aug. 12, under the directions of Arthur R. Thompson, deputy commissioner of public works, North Geddes street, from West Genesee street to the Lakeside boulevard, and the Lakeside boulevard, from this point to the town hall at Hallowatha avenue. The stretch selected for the experiment. Mr. Thompson said that he believed this stretch of well-traveled thoroughfare would afford a thorough test of the efficacy of the oil for dust-laying purposes. If the practical test proves successful it will be extensively used here on macadam and dirt streets to the exclusion of daily sprinkling with water.

WANTS FEDERAL GOV'T TO PAVE TACOMA Wash. — Commissioner Owen Woods, of the department of public works, is at a loss to know how to persuade the United States of America to pave the streets surrounding of the new federal building. The officials to whom he has written tell him that the federal government claims that it derives no benefit from a pavement or a street as persons who go to it have to go anyway. The commissioner would be glad to hear the arguments used by any city that has succeeded in getting the government to pay.

READY TO LAY WOOD BLOCKS PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—It was expected that there would be some delay in delivering sufficient quantities of wood blocks to push the repaving of Market street, from Sixteenth to the Schuylkill river, without interruption, but the special inspector for the department of public works, Robert F. Hicks, has received a telegram from the United States Wood Block Preserving company, at Norfolk, Va., announcing that its plant is ready to proceed with the cutting and treatment of the block, and that there will be no delay. About 35,000 yards of block will be required in the section now under construction. About 57,000 yards of blocks were used in the section from Delaware avenue to Sixteenth street.

STREETS PAVED WITH GOLD PORTLAND, Ore.—Oregon has two cities whose streets are paved with gold, and neither lays claim to being the New Jerusalem, either Medford and Jacksonville or the towns with the expensive pavements. Sand used in the cement sidewalks of Jacksonville is taken from the tailings of the gold and not all the gold was extracted from them. The tailings were piled up before the construction of a cyanide plant and not all the gold was extracted from it. The tailings will run at to the ton in free gold. The same material was used in paving the Medford streets. It is estimated that Medford pavements have more than $30,000 contained in them, exclusively of the cost of these improvements to the municipality.

GREAT SWEEP

Elected Governor of New York

Elected Governor of Pennsylvania

Elected Governor of Ohio

Was Made by the Democrats Throughout Country

BOSTON, Nov. 9.—The election of Dix in New York, Harmon in Ohio, Baldwin in Connecticut, Toss in Massachusetts, Wilson in New Jersey, and the probable election of a democratic majority in the house of representatives, and the probable triumph of the "rest" of the republican ticket.

That is the result of the election of 1910 as indicated by the returns compiled early this morning.

Political leaders construe the result as a national rebuke to Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, as the democrats won in every state except New Hampshire, where the colonel spoke for the republican candidate.

It is the most humiliating and crushing rebuke ever suffered by a man who essayed, as Colonel Roosevelt has, the national leadership of his party.

In each of the stages of Ohio, New York and Connecticut, where he made personal and humble appeals for the candidates for governor, the answer of the voting public was a crushing defeat for his candidate.

His complete humiliation was effected by the defeat of his pet representative in congress, Herbert Parsons of New York city, and by the defeat in his own election district in Nassau county by his neighbors and home folks of his local candidates for whom he had appealed.

Best figures obtainable at midnight indicated that John A. Dix would be elected by a plurality in the state of approximately 60,000.

Early figures showed that he might have 100,000 but New York's great east at the last moment rallied to the support of the republican ticket and Mr. Dix's plurality which the democrats fully expected he would get in this county, was reduced to something like 35,000. Brooklyn gave an avalanche of votes for Dix. His plurality was slightly more than 23,000.

Protest Rooseveltism

Elected Governor of Connecticut

Rooseveltism just as they had threatened to do and the tremendous plurality which the republicans said Colonel Roosevelt would develop up state did not appear. The counties which made the best showing for him were those in which old guard leaders held sway and with whom it has been assumed by politicians, he made late day agreements in the hope of saving his ticket. At midnight the indications were that all the democratic ticket would be elected. In New York city, for instance, with 1600 out of 1700 districts heard from Mr. Dix was running about 12,000 ahead of the rest of his ticket. But up state the disparity in the vote was much larger and the best deductions which could be made from the figures obtainable was that the "rest" of the ticket would run something like 45,000 to 50,000 behind and would probably get through.

With 1900 out of 3000 up state districts in Colonel Roosevelt's candidate for governor had an estimated plurality, based on the total vote of 42,000 with which to meet an estimated plurality in New York city of 104,000 which meant that he would win if the ratio kept up by about 60,000. Those winds, seemed to be blowing against the republican ticket however, and it appeared that the plurality of the head of the ticket would be nearer 50,000 than 60,000.

Woodruff Machine Buried
One of the surprising and from the republicans view point, startling development was the defeat of every republican candidate for congress in all the districts of the entire city of New York. There are at present seven representatives. William S. Bennett, was beaten by Henry George and Mr. Parsons by Jefferson M. Levy. In Brooklyn the big republican districts, which the Woodruff machine always swung, were buried in the ruins.

Another feature of the election which caused worry and astonishment to the republicans was the election of democratic assemblymen and senators in many parts of the state, making it possible, but not likely that there will be a democratic majority in both houses.

This would ensure the election of a democratic senator to succeed Chauncey M. Depew. At midnight it was certain that the republicans had gained 13 members of assembly and two senators.

Representative J. Sloat Fassett ("Fighting Fassett"), who went down to defeat as candidate for governor in the last democratic campaign. In 1907, which defeated him for congress in the Chenango district, was also defeated. He is one of the Roosevelt school, and his defeat adds to the sting of the Roosevelt defeat.

Cannon Gets By
Speaker Cannon squeezed through in Illinois by a small margin.

The indications from early returns were that the house would surely be democratic by a margin possibly of 10 or 12. There were marked gains reported from Illinois, where Cook county was swept by a democratic hurricane. Five or six new democratic representatives to replace republicans were indicated by the returns from here. In New York city the gains promised to be seven. There were almost certain indications that there would be a gain of one democrat in Connecticut, three or four in New Jersey and quite a few in other western states.

It was a matter of note, and perhaps significance, that no returns were obtained which were in any way definite on congress in Missouri, Ohio, Indiana and Iowa, where hot fights were being waged. The general tidal wave of democracy which overflooded the country, however, led to the belief that there would be strong democratic gains in those sections.

Beveridge Out of Race
The final defeat of Senator Albert J. Beveridge, the "insurgent" for whom Colonel Roosevelt fought for weeks for whom he made a personal tour of the state, is insured by the election in Indiana of a republican legislature. This is but one of a score of rebuffs which were accorded to the Roosevelt activity. Definite figures were not obtainable on the result of the general result in Ohio at midnight, but the best estimates of the Harmon plurality was 30,000 with the loss of the "rest" of the ticket and the election of a republican legislature. This means that Charles Dick, present United States Senator from Ohio may be returned. It at least assures the return from Ohio of a republican to the senate.

Concedes Baldwin's Election
The election of Judge Simeone E. Baldwin in Connecticut was conceded by his opponent, Charles A. Goodwin, early in the evening and a message of congratulation was sent to the successful nominee. The defeat of the republican ticket in Connecticut is attributed by both republicans and democrats to the attacks made upon the democratic nominee by Colonel Roosevelt. These bitter assaults upon the judicial record of Judge Baldwin, who is regarded as perhaps the chief barrier to the return of the republicans, reacted heavily, and in the estimates of democrats and republicans, changed several thousand votes. It was in Connecticut that the democrats invited Colonel Roosevelt to "speak again" in Connecticut to insure beyond question the election of the democratic ticket.

It was estimated at midnight with most of the returns in that Judge Baldwin's plurality would be about 5000.

Certain of Wilson
With the polls in New Jersey remaining open until seven in the evening it was difficult at a late hour to get any accurate line on the vote, but it was the belief of all the democrats and most of the republicans that Woodruff Wilson would be elected by from 15,000 to 20,000. The bare election of Mr. Wilson would mean that a landslide swept Jersey, because while Governor Fort, republican, was elected by only 8000 the state is normally republican by 40,000 to 50,000.

"Cowboy" Joe. Dehman was elected governor of Nebraska despite the opposition of William J. Bryan. Iowa and Kansas gave their usual republican pluralities. Tennessee went republican by a small margin. A republican governor was elected in Minnesota and Mr. Bass, republican, was elected governor of New Hampshire.

Fear for 1912 Campaign
That the chief issue which brought about the democratic victories was anti-Rooseveltism, a fear that victory by the Oyster Bay resident would immediately start him on a campaign for the presidency was the belief among politicians. Second in importance was believed to be the high cost of living issue.

The results in New York state and in Ohio are of vital importance inasmuch as both will have their effect on the next presidential canvass. Two years hence the defeat of the republicans in Ohio must be interpreted as not favoring the political fortunes of President Taft. The election of Harmon also means that he will very likely be the next democratic nominee for president in New York the result is important because as New York goes so goes the nation on occasions and the republicans have admitted that the loss of the state this fall would spell hard times in 1912.

Barry Elected
The Democrats Made Sweep In Nashua

NASHUA, N. H., Nov. 9.—A democratic landslide in the result of yesterday's election in this city. The republicans lost their entire ticket in all but the first two wards.

Besides a good majority for Carr the indications with two wards missing, are that William H. Barry, democratic candidate for mayor, has been elected by a majority of about 550 over Albert J. Field, republican.

This is the largest majority ever recorded a democratic candidate in Nashua.

General Jason E. Tolles, democratic mayor several years ago, had a majority of 555, which is the nearest approach to this year's figures.

Mr. Barry will have with him 21 of the 27 members of the city council, which means a complete retinue of city officers.

Wards 1 and 2 are the only ones to elect republican ticket. Of the 20 representatives from Nashua, 15 will be democrats.

F. J. Gaffney was the only republican elected representative outside of wards 1 and 2. In ward 6 Edward H. Wason, chairman of the republican city committee, and a candidate for speaker of the house, was defeated by George E. Sheard, democrat.

In the county fight Patrick H. Sullivan of Manchester, candidate for county solicitor on the democratic ticket, was accorded a good majority over Harry Spaulding in this city.

With several towns and two wards to hear from, it is believed that Alvin J. Lander, democrat, is elected senator in the 20th district over Lotie L. Minard, republican.

Nashua has gone license by about 700 majority.

BASS REELECTED
His Plurality Is Close to 7000

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 9.—Practically complete returns from yesterday's state election slightly amplify the extent of the republican victory. The revised figures give Bass, the republican nominee for governor, a plurality of very nearly 7000. With 280 out of 290 towns and wards in the state heard from, the result stands:

Bass, republican, 42,003.
Carr, democrat, 36,540.

Currier and Sullivan, both republicans, have been returned to congress. The next legislature will be overwhelmingly republican. In the senate the republicans will have 16 members and the democrats 8. The lower house will contain a large preponderance of republicans, although a slight democratic gain is shown.

DR. JAS. B. FIELD
Addressed the Ladies' Aid Association

The regular sewing meeting of the Ladies' Aid association of the Lowell General hospital was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. Tyler Stevens, there being about 100 present.

A feature of the gathering was the reading of a paper on "Antiozing" by Dr. James B. Field. In opening he traced the history of the practice of inoculation for smallpox, which originated in China as early as the 15th century, was imported into Turkey and afterward introduced into England.

In 1798 Edward Jenner made known his discovery of vaccination with cowpox for the prevention of smallpox. The practice was introduced into this country the following year by Benjamin Waterhouse, first professor of medicine at Harvard University.

Considering the subject of hydrophobia, or rabies, the doctor said that notwithstanding the fact that there is occasionally a spurious hysterical attack in nervous people who have been bitten by a dog, yet there is such a thing as rabies, as has been demonstrated by the most modern findings in the spinal cord. On being bitten by a dog, the victim should have the dog examined by a veterinary surgeon. If hydrophobia is present, the preventive treatment discovered by Louis Pasteur should at once begin upon the patient.

Dr. Field spoke of the cure of diphtheria by antitoxin and the possibilities of similar treatment in tetanus and serum treatment in infantile paralysis. He also dwelt at considerable length on bacterial vaccines.

In conclusion, he said: "You must have noticed that nothing mentioned in the paper would have been possible without animal experimentation. To those of us who are bound to others by the ties of love and affection, the death of many animals would not seem too great a price to pay for the life of one we love. The antivivisectionist as a rule is woefully misinformed and looks at such a side of his subject."

"No profession has made such rapid strides of progress in the last 35 years as has the profession of medicine. Until recently the surgical side of our calling has given the most striking results. Preventive medicine and the purely medical side of our practice are now forging to the fore. With the prolongation of life, which is sure to come, may we and our descendants prove ourselves intellectually and morally worthy to receive it."

SAILOR BURKE
Given the Decision Over Bill McKinnon

BOSTON, Nov. 9.—Sailor Burke of Brooklyn was given the award over Bill McKinnon in their 12-round bout at the Academy A. last night. Frank Klaus of Pittsburgh was to have been Burke's opponent, but being indisposed he would not risk going against such a fellow as the sailor. The Pittsburgh man was introduced in the ring and explained his reason for not boxing.

When the referee gave his decision there was the usual howl, some claiming it should have been called a draw, others figuring McKinnon as the winner and many conceding that the decision was right.

For seven rounds McKinnon did well, using a left jab and hook that landed quite often on the sailor's face and jaw. In the second round he put the sailor down with a short left hook on the jaw. The sailor landed some stiff left jabs and rights on the face, but McKinnon always came back and generally landed a stiff counter on the face.

After the seventh round McKinnon appeared to have shot his bolt and he boxed poorly. Burke, during the last four rounds, sent some hard rights to the body and jaw. Though tired, McKinnon kept trying and landed some lefts on the face and rights on the side of the head. Several times he caught Burke in the face and on the jaw with back handed blows. In the breaks each caught the other with his guard down and landed stiff punches on the face and jaw.

It was a fast, hard fought contest and proved to be better than the fans expected.

PORTER ARRESTED

He is Charged With the Larceny of $38,800

BOSTON, Nov. 9.—Isaac H. R. Porter, treasurer of the Massachusetts Hide corporation, was arrested by officers of police headquarters yesterday afternoon, charged with the larceny of hides and notes to the value of $38,800.

Isaac H. R. Porter, representing Brown Bros. & Co., bankers, at 60 State street, was the complainant in the case.

Immediately following the arrest on a warrant, Porter appeared before Judge Bolster in the municipal court, and his case was continued until next Tuesday. Porter was admitted to bail in the sum of $25,000, which was furnished by his wife, Mrs. Carrie Abbott Porter of Somerville, his sister, and Josiah Bridge of Newton, a leather merchant of this city.

Porter, for a number of years has been treasurer of the Massachusetts Hide corporation of 13 High street. He is 35 years old and lives with his wife at the Hemmenway Chambers.

The warrant alleges four different counts within a period of a little more than three months, between May and August of this year. As a commission man Porter went to England and other places in Europe, where he purchased, through the assistance of Brown Bros. and their London office of Brown, Shipley & Co., thousands of calf skins, which were brought to this country. They were held until purchasers were found by Porter, according to the police.

A person prospective buyers were found Porter. It is alleged, reported the facts to Brown Bros., and through them obtained the release of the number of skins wanted. In order to do this, Porter in said to have signed an agreement, as a result of which he was to turn the proceeds over to the banking house. In several instances, it is charged, Porter received the money, which he diverted to his own use, or received notes and placed the skins in storage, to be used as collateral. The warrant charges that no settlement was made in any of the four cases involved.

A few days ago the case was placed in the hands of Deputy Superintendent Watts, who detailed Capts. McGarr and Armstrong to investigate. A warrant was obtained yesterday morning. In the afternoon Porter was arrested near his office.

TAKE COURAGE! INTERNAL TREATMENT WILL CURE
Piles make life unhappy and ruin the best disposition. Most sufferers have been bitterly disappointed by many failures to find a cure. A medicine in tablet form, taken internally, that avoids the unpleasant features of ointments suppositories and operations, and cures thoroughly by removing the internal cause is surely worth trying, especially as Carter & Sherburne, Lowell, Mass., guarantee it.

THE NEXT CONGRESS

May be in Control of the Democratic Party

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—While the returns indicated that the next house of representatives would be democratic, many of the republican leaders who are serving in the present congress will continue in the next house as members of the minority.

A number of the most prominent republicans went down to defeat. These included Representative Mann of Illinois, one of Speaker Cannon's closest lieutenants and the father of the railroad bill, passed in the closing days of the last session. Representative Tawney, of Minnesota, chairman of the house committee on appropriations, had been already defeated for re-nomination and his young successor at the primary, Sidney Anderson, was elected yesterday. Speaker Cannon, republican floor leader, Sen. Payne, and republican Walter I. Smith of Iowa, and W. E. Olinstead of Pennsylvania both of whom would have been candidates for speaker in the event of republican success: John D. Nelson, of Pennsylvania, a member of both the ways and means and rules committees, all of these being regular republicans close to the speaker, were returned to the next congress.

Some of the more conspicuous losers to the republican side are Madden and Moxley of Chicago, the last named holding the seat formerly filled by United States Senator Lorimer and William S. Bennett, who for a while this year was groomed for the republican nomination for governor of New York. Hamilton Fish of New York, prominent in the house "insurrection" was reported at midnight to have been defeated.

Caleb Powers of Kentucky, a conspicuous figure in the prosecution following the shooting of Governor Goebel, will be one of the interesting figures of the next congress.

Republicans recovered the thirty-second New York district, which was lost only a year ago to the democrats when James S. Havens caused a sensation by wresting it from Republican Leader Aldrich. Yesterday that district elected a republican, Henry G. Danforth who, with Farr, of the 10th Pennsylvania district, scored the only two certain republican gains in the house up to a late hour.

Early returns foreshadowed the defeat of William W. Cocks of the Oyster Bay district in congress and known as President Roosevelt's intimate personal friend.

One of the surprises in up-state New York was the defeat of Charles S. Millington, of the Utica (27th) district in congress, a member who did not take any conspicuous part in the house, but who commanded interest he represented Vice President Sherman's home town. Millington was beaten by Charles A. Talcott.

Many of the original insurgents are left in the house, including Henry A. Cooper, whom Speaker Cannon denounced from the insular affairs committee and who in the riotous scenes of last March excoriated the speaker from the floor; Irvine L. Lenroot of Wisconsin, conspicuous as United States Senator La Follette's representative in the lower branch of congress, Murdock and Madison of Kansas, Gardner of Massachusetts, and Kustermann of Wisconsin, at whose instigation the ship subsidy investigation was made last spring and summer.

The socialist gain expected by some of the Wisconsin members resulted in sending to congress Victor L. Berger of Milwaukee, in place of William H. Stafford, a lieutenant of Representative Mann in the railroad bill fight. Stafford had not been renominated.

The shift of power from the republicans to the democrats in the next house, following out the strenuous predictions of minority leader Champ Clark, who is not only an open candidate for the speakership, but has been often mentioned as a possible democratic candidate for president, in all probability will result in the republicans forcing through as much legislation as possible at the coming short session. The present congress expires on March 4.

FAIR WAS OPENED

In Vestry of St. Paul's Church

A three nights' fair opened in the vestry of St. Paul's church last night under very auspicious circumstances. There was a large attendance of parishioners and friends, an excellent entertainment program was carried out, the place was decorated in a beautiful and artistic manner and the different booths did a rushing business.

A feature of the evening was the banquet, an excellent menu being served.

The pastor, Rev. Hiram W. Hook had general charge of the affair and his guests during the evening were Rev. F. K. Stratton, Rev. and Mrs. L. W. Staples, Rev. George B. Dean and his sister, Mrs. Williamson, Rev. J. T. Carlyon and Rev. C. E. Fisher. The supper was provided by the Ladies' Aid society. The Germania orchestra played.

Tonight the T. M. T. M. club will furnish the entertainment, which is entitled "The Sweet Family." On Thursday night there will be a "Fair Drill" by the children.

The fair will be open at 4 o'clock p. m.

B. V. Searle, chairman; V. E. McIntosh, A. L. Moore, Fred Brooks, Geo. S. Clout, George H. Hinchliffe, Garfield Horn, Walter Boynton, Charles Drew.

S. Arnold, Fred B. Hammond, B. F. Cady, R. W. Van Tassel, W. W. Cleworth, Charles Naylor.

The various sales tables are large and efficient. The fancy work table has Mrs. C. H. Stowell as chairman, and her assistants are: Mrs. Fred Brooks, Mrs. Walter Boynton, Mrs. C. C. Hard, Mrs. Edw. Richardson, Mrs. Christopher Senior, Miss Helen Hinchliffe, Mrs. Walter Cleworth, Mrs. Abel Campbell, Misses Bertha Claverton, Jessie Gulliver, Blanche Martin, Alice Brown, Edith Haynes, Elizabeth Coburn, Mrs. James F. Savage, Mrs. Fred Morrison, Mrs. Wm. Moore, Miss Alice Rand, Miss Georgianna Vinton, Mrs. Bert Kenniston, Miss Ethel Brien, Miss Bertha Simpson.

Candy, nuts and flowers, Miss Emma Drew's Sunday school class.

Domestic table: Mrs. Frederick Clegg, chairman; Misses Ella Clegg, Bertha, Cora and Carrie Hacker, Flossie Daniels, Edith Haynes, Alice Hammond, Frankie Baker, Mrs. Alice Dean, Mrs. Bessie Brown, Mrs. Bertha Dunckerley, Mrs. Grace Simpson, Miss Ellen Spencer, Miss Alberta Desjardins.

Cold drinks: Mrs. Freda Light, Mrs. J. A. Boyle, Miss Margaret Roach, Mrs. Fred Brooks.

Mystery table: Miss Edith Hinchliffe, chairman, and the members of Miss Emma Bradley's Sunday school class, the Misses Newhook, Ward, Murphy, Harrison, Coburn, Hawley and Helen Hinchliffe.

Popcorn: Mr. W. D. Brown, and Mr. Searles' Sunday school class.

Ice cream: Mr. John Perry, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. G. Horne.

Handkerchief table: Miss Kyle's Sunday school class, assisted by Mrs. Ada Senior's class, Miss Margaret Ferris, acting chairman; Mrs. Arthur Allard, Mrs. C. E. Atwood, Mrs. Byron Cady, Mrs. Minnie Carson, Mrs. C. G. Chase, Mrs. C. A. Clough, Mrs. J. H. Cogger, Mrs. Frank Cox, Mrs. E. L. Farrington, Mrs. Harry Harrison, Mrs. A. Hart, Mrs. Sarah Logan, Mrs. M. J. McCarthy, Mrs. Frank Newman, Mrs. Gertrude Pollard, Stanley, Mrs. Clara Walton, Mrs. R. J. Walton, Misses Lillian Brault, Emma Clegg, Grace Cohen, Emma Jones, Gertrude MacKissock, Emma Offutt, Grace Robinson, Ada Snow, Ollista Webb, Ada Wood.

Banquet committee: Mrs. Edwin Cleworth, chairman; Mrs. S. T. Brown, Mrs. F. W. Morrison, Mrs. A. L. McRae, Mrs. Walter Boynton, Mrs. L. Coburn, Mrs. A. Coburn, Mrs. Daniel Light, Mrs. C. A. JUDSON HARMON

Was Re-elected Governor of Ohio

CLEVELAND, Nov. 9.—The democrats yesterday swept Ohio and in addition to electing Judson Harmon for a second term as governor have undoubtedly elected the remainder of their state ticket and a majority of the legislature. In consequence Senator Dick, republican, will be succeeded in 1911 by a democrat.

Sufficient returns this morning show that Harmon's plurality over Harding, republican, is the largest ever given by Ohio to a democrat. The latest estimates give Harmon a margin of 60,000.

Two hundred and ten precincts out of 369 in Cuyahoga county, which includes Cleveland, gave Harmon 27,026 and Harding 15,468, against Harmon's 33,876 and Harris, republican, 27,346 in 1908. If carried out this would give Harmon a plurality of 16,000 in Cuyahoga county. Hamilton county was given Harmon large gains over his vote two years ago.

The new Ohio congressional delegation will contain 13 and possibly 15 democrats out of the 21 as Congressman Goebel in the second district and Paul Hovland in the 20th are being hard pressed by their democratic opponents.

KIPP ELECTED

DEMOCRAT HAS DEFEATED CONGRESSMAN PRATT

SCRANTON, Pa., Nov. 9.—George W. Kipp, democrat, has probably been elected to congress from the 14th district, defeating Congressman Pratt by about 500 plurality. Kipp's election will make the Pennsylvania delegation stand: Republicans 22, democrats 9, doubtful 1.

COLONIAL THEATRE

Last evening the "Aviation Girl" was presented before a large and appreciative audience. The aeroplane is a mystery; how the machine is floated over your head has puzzled many of Lowell's best mechanics. The aviation girl is a dainty little thing whose singing alone deserves credit. Blancet and Hitter, wooden shoe dancers, are the best Lowell has seen in many a day. Their style of dancing is a little different from what you have seen before. The pictures are novel and do not flicker.

JOHN K. TENER REV. E. C. RAMETTE

New Pastor Installed Last Night

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 9.—John K. Tener's plurality for governor of Pennsylvania may be as low as 20,000 or even much less when complete figures are in. Estimates for 63 of the counties give the republican candidate a lead of about 24,000 and the missing counties, Elk, Northampton, Pike and Snyder, are expected to show pluralities for William H. Berry, the Keystone party candidate. Webster Grim, the democratic gubernatorial candidate, ran far behind his two opponents.

Philadelphia gave Tener a greatly reduced plurality, he carrying the city by 45,254 votes over Berry. Estimates show that Berry, democrat, polled sufficient independent votes to carry the state outside of Philadelphia.

Congressman Reynolds, republican, for lieutenant governor, and Henry Houck, republican, for secretary of internal affairs, were elected by pluralities about the same as Tener's.

The Pennsylvania congressional delegation, according to the latest figures, stands: republican 22, democrats 8, with two districts doubtful, as compared with the present delegation of 27 republicans and 5 democrats.

Rev. Edward C. Ramette, the new pastor of the French Baptist church in Centralville, was installed last night and given a reception of welcome by the parishioners. There was a large attendance including representative members of the Baptist churches throughout the city.

Rev. S. W. Cummings of the First Baptist church acted as chairman and extended the welcome of the Baptist community to Rev. Mr. Ramette. The welcome from the church was tendered by Deacon Isid Laporte, while the welcome from the young people's society was made by Nelson Belanger and that of the Sunday school by George Desjardins.

The following clergymen were also present to extend greetings to Mr. Ramette: Rev. A. P. Wedge, of the Worcester Street Baptist church; Rev. Oliver Brullette, of the Salem French Baptist church; Rev. Asa R. Ditts, of the Calvary Baptist church; Rev. Forrester Macdonald of the Fifth Street Baptist church, and Rev. B. H. Harris.

of the Paige Street Baptist church. Other greetings were extended by H. C. Fuller and Deacon Warren L. Floyd of the First Baptist church, and Emile Paignon. Written greetings were also read from Rev. A. P. Biouin of the Central M. E. church; J. N. Williams of Providence, former secretary of the Home Mission society; and the Chelmsford Street Free Baptist church. At the close of the evening Mr. Ramette responded feelingly to all the friendly tributes which had been so kindly extended him, and which gave him, he said, much encouragement in the taking up of his work.

Besides the speeches, there was a delightful program of music. The church orchestra played. Miss Louise Desjardins sang charmingly first in English, "The Golden Gate," and then as her second number, in French, a composition by Mr. Ramette himself, and entitled "Nom de Jesus." There was also singing by the congregation. Miss Emma Desjardins played the organ.

During the latter part of the evening refreshments were served under the direction of Mrs. D. H. Laporte, president of the committee. Assisting Mrs. Laporte were: Mrs. J. B. Menard, Mrs. Nelson Belanger and Mrs. Telesphore Desjardins.

Mr. Ramette and his wife are both natives of France, where their marriage took place, and came to America 26 years ago. Mr. Ramette has been in the ministry 20 years, having filled two pastorates during these years: the first of nine years in Providence, and the second and last, of 11 years in Worcester. He is a graduate of Newton Theological seminary.

A GRAND MEDICINE

For Coughs and Colds

"I think DR. GRADY'S PURE MALT AND RYE is a grand medicine. I have taken three bottles, and I think it is just what is required in every home. One night my wife coughed so long, I thought she would die. At last I thought of half a bottle of DR. GRADY'S PURE MALT AND RYE that I had in my medicine chest. I also got some hot water and put two spoonfuls of this grand medicine in a half glass of hot water and sweetened to taste. She went to sleep, and I don't think she ever coughed since that night. I am also taking DR. GRADY'S LIVER PILLS for sour stomach and liver trouble, and am glad to say that they have helped me more than anything that I have ever tried."

Have You Tried?

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? We can furnish positive proof that it has made many remarkable cures after all other means had failed.

Women who are suffering with some form of female illness should consider this.

As such evidence read these two unsolicited testimonial letters. We guarantee they are genuine and honest statements of facts.

Cresson, Pa.—"Five years ago I had a bad fall, and hurt myself inwardly. I was under a doctor's care for nine weeks, and when I stopped I grew worse again. I sent for a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, took it as directed, and now I am a stout, hearty woman."—Mrs. Ella E. Alkey, Cresson, Pa.

Baird, Wash.—"A year ago I was sick with kidney and bladder troubles and female weakness. The doctors gave me up. All they could do was to just let me go as easily as possible. I was advised by friends to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier. I am completely cured of my ill, and I am nearly sixty years old."—Mrs. Sarah Leighton, Baird, Wash.

Evidence like the above is abundant showing that the derangements of the female organism which breed all kinds of miserable feelings and which ordinary practice does not cure, are the very disorders that give way to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Women who are afflicted with similar troubles, after reading two such letters as the above, should be encouraged to try this wonderfully helpful remedy.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ill. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Continued

All the republican nominees in the other districts, Lawrence in the 1st, Gillett in the 2d, Wilder in the 4th, Ames in the 5th, Gardner in the 6th, Roberts in the 7th, McCall in the 8th, Weeks in the 12th and Green in the 13th got by with vanishing pluralities.

In the 14th district Judge Robert O. Harris, republican, defeated Thomas C. Thacher, democrat, by a plurality of only 158. Here, too, a recount will be asked for and may change the result.

Wilder in the 4th district where Mitchell, the democrat, was expected to run, is credited by the returns with 117 plurality, the voting being Wilder 16,951, Mitchell 16,834. A recount will undoubtedly be asked for by Mitchell.

In the 2d district Congressman Gillett's plurality is only 418 the vote being Gillett 14,423, McKeehnle 14,005.

Butler Ames' plurality divided from $900 of two years ago to a mere handful of 500 votes yesterday.

Democrats Gain in House

The election yesterday swept a number of democrats into local seats and at midnight had increased their representation in the house by about 30 additional members over last year, but not enough to control the legislature, and unless republicans decide to repudiate Senator Lodge, the chances are that he will be re-elected.

Next year's state senate will have an increased number of democrats in it over last year. Democrats were elected to the house of representatives yesterday in districts that have in some cases never sent democrats to the legislature.

The democrats gained six senators outside Suffolk county, where they elected eight out of the nine candidates, George Holden Thinhum of the Back Bay-Brighton district being the only republican senator elected in Suffolk county.

This gives the democrats 17 out of the 40 senators in the next senate.

Among the new democratic members of the next senate elected yesterday are Roger Sherman Hoar of Concord, who defeated Representative Bayley of Lexington; John H. Mack of North Adams, who defeated Senator William Tuttle of Pittsfield in the Berkshire district; Michael J. Murray of Ward 24, who defeated both Swift and Milgram by a rousing plurality in the 9th Suffolk; Martin P. F. Curley who defeated Harry H. Ham in the Dorchester-Roxbury district and Dr. Edward J. Oranger of Winthrop, who defeated Edward B. Newton of the same town.

GOV-ELECT FOSS

SAYS VICTORY VOICES MASSACHUSETTS PROTEST

BOSTON, Nov. 9.—Gov-elect Foss gave out the following statement:

"This victory voices the protest of Massachusetts against the Payne-Adair act, the present high cost of living and the broken pledges of the republican party. This was the issue which won the fight in the 14th congressional district last spring. Massachusetts, the supposed chief beneficiary of this ultra-high tariff, repudiates it. She demands from the incoming congress an immediate downward revision of the tariff, an untraced food supply, free raw materials and real prosperity with Canada. I deeply appreciate the great honor and realize the responsibility which it brings. It is a vote of confidence on the part of the people of this commonwealth. We must make good. I shall endeavor to do my part and ask the cooperation of every citizen."

GOVERNOR DRAPER

CONGRATULATES MR. FOSS ON HIS VICTORY

BOSTON, Nov. 9.—Gov. Draper last night gave out this statement:

"In a very large vote Mr. Foss seems to have been elected by a substantial plurality. I congratulate him on his election, and sincerely trust his administration will be a good one for Massachusetts and a credit to him.

"I desire to thank the people of the commonwealth who have supported me so loyally, and especially the state committee and Mr. Hatfield, the chairman, and Mr. Groves, the secretary, who did as much and as good work as any men could."

"I shall cheerfully return to the avocations of private life among the best people in the best state in the Union."

O'Connell had charge of the funeral arrangements.

DEATHS

SALMON—George Florence Salmon, the oldest fireman in the city, died yesterday at his home, 91 M. Washington street, aged 71 years.

He is survived by his wife, Anna A. two sons, Frank S. and Fred G. Salmon, one daughter, Mrs. Lillian Salmon Spence, and one brother, Edward A. Salmon.

George Florence Salmon, better known as "Smoke," was born in West Roxbury, Feb. 10, 1839. He came to Lowell with his parents in May, 1862. He started work in the Lowell Mfg. Co. as a machinist, and was there until 1869, when he went to the Lowell Hoistery Co. as master mechanic, where he remained until 1909, when he retired.

In 1854 he joined the fire department and was connected with "Fire King No. 6." Then he joined "Ocean Hydrant No. 3." Later he served with "Vanguard No. 3," hand engine. On the advent of the first steam fire engine called the "Wampanoag" he joined that company as first fireman, becoming assistant engineer and then engineer. He successfully became clerk, assistant

TWO MEN SHOT

Trouble at a Voting Place in New York City

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Two men were shot down yesterday directly opposite the polling place at No. 196 Spring street. Whether the affair was the result of an election argument is not known.

Joseph Merino, of No. 649 Fifth street, was arrested as the man who did the shooting. Anthony Gratta, of No. 195 Spring street, was shot in the nose and the neck, and Francisco Vesoloni, of the same address, was shot in the right arm. Both were taken to St. Vincent's hospital.

The magistrates' courts were jammed with voters who had to prove that they were entitled to cast their ballot. Because inspectors did not spell their names right or wrote down wrong addresses on registration day.

Most of the 500 warrants sworn out by Election Superintendent William Leary were based on such inaccuracies. The magistrates lost no time in discharging the prisoners and lecturing the election officials.

Magistrate Herriman, in the West Side court, discharged a score of such prisoners. Magistrates Cornell, Kerochian, Krotel and Preschi did likewise.

$147.50 VERDICT

In Case of Potter vs. Collins

In superior court today the jury in the case of Potter vs. Collins, returned a verdict of $147.50 for the plaintiff.

The case of E. H. Maker of Concord vs. John W. Bowdidge of Framingham occupied today's session. The plaintiff sues to recover for injuries alleged to have been received by being knocked down by a runaway horse at the outing of the Concord Council, K. of C., at the Concord race track, Sept. 6, 1909. The plaintiff while attempting George W. Wickersham, United States attorney-general, came very near arrest. His name was on the Leary challenge list for the eighth election district of the twenty-ninth assembly. Supt. Leary learned of this before Wickersham showed up to vote and gave the policeman a new list. Wickersham's vote was to be challenged on the theory that he lived in Washington.

Charles O. Brewster, a lawyer, was arraigned before Magistrate Cornell, charged with illegal voting.

"This is an outrage," declared the magistrate. "Mr. Brewster is a reputable lawyer. If I were in his place I would make some one suffer for this."

"Mr. Brewster's name is on the challenge list," said Patrolman Pearson. "I had no option but to arrest him if he voted."

Supreme Court Justices Blair and Ames issued writs against election boards who refused to permit some citizens to vote. The justices sat in the court house all day and settled technical legal disputes. Three voters from the Bowsey were aided by the court.

TO REVISE TARIFF

BOWLING GREEN, Mo., Nov. 3.—Downward revision of the tariff is the pledge made for the new democratic house of representatives by Champ Clark, congressman from the 9th district, who is a candidate for the speakership. He said:

"The first and greatest proposition the democrats should stand for is a reduction in the tariff to a revenue basis."

EUGENE N. FOSS, D., GOVERNOR ELECT.

Won a Great Victory in the Elections Held Yesterday

Yesterday's election in Massachusetts resulted in a sweeping democratic victory in the election of Eugene N. Foss for governor by a plurality of 32,987 and with large democratic gains all along the line. The democrats won two congressional seats and lost one.

Victor and vanquished sat down today with pencil and paper to figure out how they won and lost the state election yesterday, in which the democrats swept Congressman Eugene N. Foss into the gubernatorial chair, captured five out of 14 seats in the congressional delegation but missed securing control of the legislature by a narrow margin.

Revised returns for governor from the entire state were as follows: Eugene N. Foss, 220,148; Eben S. Draper, 187,161; Foss' plurality, 32,987.

Complete returns for lieutenant-governor give: Louis A. Frothingham, 199,292; Thomas F. Cassidy, 193,158; Frothingham's plurality, 5,134.

The next legislature will stand as follows: Senate: republicans 25; democrats 15.

House: republicans 128; democrats 111; socialists 1.

The new legislature will decide whether United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge shall be given another term and in the joint convention the republicans will have 153 to 126 votes for the democrats.

MARKET ST. CORNER WORTHEN,

Democratic Victory Greater Than at First Expected

The sweep of the political tidal wave which rolled over the country yesterday is further emphasized by additional returns and revised figures at hand today. The democratic majority in the house of representatives will be at least 43 and possibly more as compared with the present republican majority of 34. The morning returns showed the republican majority of 26 in the United States senate rapidly approaching the vanishing point, although the republicans are now reasonably assured of 48 senators, or one more than the necessary majority with a number of states still in doubt. The most notable changes in the figures presented last night are summed up as follows:

In Ohio a democratic legislature has been elected, insuring a democratic successor to Senator Dick, republican, and the plurality of Gov. Harmon is increased to 60,000.

The West Virginia legislature is democratic and will elect a democratic senator to succeed Senator Scott, republican.

In Indiana the legislature, which chooses a successor to Senator Beveridge, is in doubt with the democrats claiming a majority of 12 and the republicans maintaining that Beveridge will have a small margin.

601; Thacher, d., 15,489. Harris' plurality, 112.

ELECTION IN THE STATE

BOSTON, Nov. 9.—Gov. Eben S. Draper, republican, was engulfed in the great democratic tidal wave that swept over the country yesterday and Eugene N. Foss, the democratic candidate for governor, was swept into office by a plurality of 32,987, almost equaling the vote of William L. Douglas, the last democrat to be elected to the governorship of Massachusetts in 1904.

The vote for governor was: Foss, 227,142; Draper, 194,204.

In almost any other state a plurality of the size given Gov. elect Foss yesterday would have carried the rest of the state along with it, but discriminating republican Massachusetts always hesitates at voting for the rest of the democratic state ticket, although occasionally registering its protest against party policy or a nomination and voting for the democratic nominee. And this was true yesterday, when Thomas F. Cassidy, the democratic nominee for lieutenant-governor, failed of election.

Lieut. Gov. Louis A. Frothingham, republican, managed to ride the democratic tidal wave safely and landed for the third time high and dry with a plurality of about 5000.

The vote for lieutenant-governor: Frothingham, 205,841; Cassidy, 197,061.

lowa is still uncertain with both sides claiming the governorship.

The Pennsylvania legislature is safely republican and will elect a republican senator.

Washington has a republican legislature which appears to insure the election of Miles Poindexter to the senate.

The Utah legislature which elects a United States senator is also republican, while that of Montana is in doubt.

Indications point to the election of the republican candidate for governor of California, Hiram Johnston, by a heavy plurality.

Incomplete returns from Oregon indicate the election of the democratic candidate for governor by a small majority.

The Missouri legislature is believed to be safely democratic.

Aside from these main developments today results already announced remained practically unchanged. The plurality of John A. Dix, democrat, elected governor of New York, approximates 66,000. Mr. Dix carried the entire democratic state ticket with him to victory. The plurality of Woodrow Wilson, democrat, in New Jersey, is now placed at 30,000 and of Judge Baldwin, democrat, in Connecticut, at 3,500.

GERMAN CRUISER ARRIVES

BERLIN, Nov. 9.—The German cruiser Bremen arrived yesterday at Amapala, the Pacific port of Honduras, where the rebel general, Valladares, holds sway for "the protection of German interests," as it is semi-officially announced. It is understood that in addition to the American gunboat Yorktown, a French cruiser is in the harbor and that a British cruiser is expected there.

EX-TAX COLLECTOR SENTENCED

SALEM, Nov. 9.—Frederick Stanton, former tax collector of the town of Wenham, was sentenced to two years in the house of correction on a charge of embezzlement by Chief Justice Aiken in the superior court here today. Stanton was arrested last spring and indicted by the grand jury charged with the embezzlement of $5400 which it was alleged he had taken while acting as the town's tax collector. Following his arrest Stanton pleaded not guilty but last week he changed his plea in two of the counts to guilty. It was on one of the counts for larceny of $900 that he was sentenced today.

RECOMMENDS CAPITAL PUNISHMENT

TOKIO, Nov. 9.—The finding of the special court organized to try the plotters against the life of the emperor was announced today. Twenty-six persons were found guilty, including the ringleader, Kotu, and one woman, the wife of Kotu. The court recommends the severest penalty under clause 76 which provides capital punishment for plotters against the imperial family.

TAX TITLE CASES

City Solicitor William W. Dunean today filed an appeal in the tax title cases against the city of Lowell, and now the matter will go before the full bench of the supreme judicial court. The cases were three in number, namely, Denis E. Connors against the city of Lowell, Edward F. Connors against same and Joseph Walsh against same.

Several months ago the cases were heard in the superior court and the judge found in some instances for the plaintiffs and in others for the defendant. The plaintiffs have also filed appeals on all the deeds that they lost.

A TIDAL WAVE

THE REPUBLICANS WON A GREAT VICTORY IN CALIFORNIA

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—The republicans won a decisive victory in California yesterday. Owing to the length of the ticket and much scratching, the count is proceeding slowly but indications point to a heavy plurality for Hiram Johnson, the republican gubernatorial candidate, over Theodore Bell, democrat. Joseph Wilson, socialist candidate for governor, developed surprising strength in the large cities.

William Kent, republican, appears to have been elected to congress from the second district, and Julius Kahn and E. A. Hayes, republican incumbents from the fourth and fifth districts respectively, have been returned to the lower house. The Panama-Pacific exposition tax and the San Francisco fair bond amendment were ratified. The republicans made gains in both branches of the legislature.

IN MISSOURI

BOTH PARTIES MAKE CLAIM TO VICTORY

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 9.—Republican and democratic managers this morning claim to have elected their state tickets yesterday. Latest returns indicate substantial increases for the republicans and point to possible success of their candidates for supreme court justices, superintendents of schools and railroad commissioners.

St. Louis gave its largest majority in recent years, nearly 30,000 in some cases and the democrats failed to elect a single officer, according to present returns.

The defeat of prohibition by 140,000 is still claimed. In the senatorial contest the democrats nominated James A. Reed of Kansas City over David R. Francis of St. Louis. John C. McKinlay is the republican senatorial nominee.

The legislature is believed to be safely democratic.

IN ILLINOIS

REPUBLICANS HAVE SLIGHT LEAD IN LEGISLATURE

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 9.—Late returns changed the drift in the election so that the republicans were assured of a small majority in the legislature. That United States Senator Beveridge will be re-elected is the claim of Chairman Lee of the republican state committee, announced this morning.

UTAH ELECTION

STATE-WIDE PROHIBITION WAS REJECTED

SALT LAKE, Utah, Nov. 9.—Utah yesterday elected Joseph Howell, republican, to congress and rejected state-wide prohibition as demanded by the democratic platform.

State returns are incomplete but it seems that Howell will have a total plurality of more than 10,000 against 15,000 two years ago. The legislature is republican, which means the return of George Sutherland to the United States senate.

early today. The earthquake was estimated to have occurred 3100 to 4000 miles northwest of Washington.

THREE DEMOCRATS

WERE ELECTED TO CONGRESS FROM WEST VIRGINIA

WHEELING, W. Va., Nov. 9.—Revised returns from all counties in West Virginia give the following unofficial pluralities for congress: First district—John W. Davis, dem., 3,271. Second district—W. G. Brown, dem., 3,360. Third district—Adam Littlepage, dem., 4,767.

REPUBLICAN ELECTED

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 9.—Although the returns from the fifth congressional district were still incomplete this morning, the election of Thomas Parran, republican, is conceded. The remaining five districts went democratic, a gain of two seats for that party.

DELEGATE TO CONGRESS

HONOLULU, Nov. 9.—J. K. Kalaniana'ole was re-elected delegate to congress from Hawaii.

FOSS ELECTED

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—The reports that in the elections in Illinois' George M. Foss was defeated for re-election were overturned later when the complete unofficial figures were compiled. The complete returns gave Foss 16,696 and Richard Finnegan, Dem., 15,158.

REPUBLICAN VICTORY

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 9.—The republicans of Washington won a sweeping victory in yesterday's election, choosing five supreme court justices by a plurality of about 50,000 and electing all three congressmen, William B. Humphrey, Stanton Washburn and William LaFollette. The republican majority in the legislature will be more than 100, insuring the election of Miles Poindexter as United States senator.

COL. ROOSEVELT

Will Not Discuss the Election Result

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Nov. 9.—Theodore Roosevelt has not a word to say today as to the results of the election. It was said at Sagamore Hill that he had nothing to say and that no statement was forthcoming, at least for an indefinite period.

Col. Roosevelt has shut himself off from the outside world. When an attempt was made to reach him today he sent out word that he would see no reporters at Oyster Bay.

Colonel Roosevelt said several days ago that he would stay at home to rest for some time and that he would not go to New York until Nov. 17.

GREAT VICTORY

Scored by the Democrats in Illinois

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—The result of the election in Illinois furnished one of the greatest surprises in the country yesterday. Although pictured as one of the best states in middle west from a republican standpoint, nowhere was the democratic landslide more pronounced. The democrats made a clean sweep in Cook county. For the first time in fourteen years the party regains supreme here. With pluralities ranging from 15,000 to 25,000 the democrats captured county offices. For the first time in its history a democratic majority is on the board of review. Local republican leaders were staggered by the results. The election also was immensely important to the democrats as indicating their chances of electing a mayor of Chicago next spring.

JUDGE PARKER

May be Elected United States Senator

ALBANY, Nov. 9.—On January 3 next in John A. Dix, New York state will have what it has not had since the election of Roswell P. Flower in 1891—a democratic governor. The new chief executive will have a legislature safely democratic in both branches and democratic associates in the various elective state offices. One of the most important duties of the new legislature will be to elect a successor to U. S. Senator Chauncey M. Depew, whose term expires on March 3 next. Alton B. Parker, ex-chief judge of the court of appeals, Edward M. Shepard, Thomas H. Osborne and John B. Stanford are among the names suggested here today as possible candidates. According to returns at present available the senate will have thirty democrats, twenty republicans and one independent republican, 26 votes being necessary to control. The last senate had 35 republicans and sixteen democrats.

Seventy-six members are needed to control the assembly. The democrats elected eighty-seven and the republicans sixty-three. The last assembly numbered 94 republicans, 54 democrats, one United Citizens league member and 1 elected by the Independence league.

The White Store is selling out.

MAJORITY OF 25

For the Democrats in Congress

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—Democrats elected 221; republicans elected 177. Socialist elected, 1. Missing 12. Total, 391.

Gain by democrats, 55; gain by republicans, 6. Not gain for democrats, 49.

THE ELECTED

Col. Butler Ames, R, Fifth Congressional District.

Hon. Frank P. Bennett, Jr., R, Seventh Senatorial District.

Edward Fisher, D, 11th Representative District.

George H. Stephens, R, 14th Representative District.

Thomas S. Cuff, D, 19th Representative District.

John J. Higgins, R, District Attorney.

John R. Fairbairn, R, High Sheriff.

Charles H. Richardson, R, County Commissioner.

The landslide that swept over Massachusetts yesterday landed broadside against Lowell and democratic candidates right and left carried the city.

Here are some of the majorities and pluralities:

For governor—Foss, D, 3422.

Lieut. Governor—Cassidy, D, 1493.

Secretary of state—Mariel, D, 1911.

Congress—Carmichael, D, 93.

County commissioner—Whittemore, D, 381.

County commissioner—Fairbanks, D, 1522.

Asso. Commissioner—Marin, D, 2465.

Asso. commissioner—Colahan, D, 1458.

District attorney—Irwin, D, 398.

Sheriff—Tuck, D, 813.

The most regrettable feature of yesterday's election in Lowell was the small majority of Col. Carmichael even if he did have a net gain of 1693 over Ames' vote two years ago, but of the congressional election more is said below.

The Gubernatorial Vote

Lowell was a Foss city from the start and yet none dreamed how strong the returns would show it to be, except one, J. L. Chalfoux, who while riding with Mr. Foss in this city a few evenings ago ventured the prediction that Foss would carry Lowell by 3500. Mr. Foss was highly delighted but thought that Mr. Chalfoux was allowing his enthusiasm to run away with his judgment. Mr. Foss at that time said: "I feel confident that I will get a handsome plurality in Lowell for Lowell has been with me from the start. If I get two-thirds of what you predict, Mr. Chalfoux, I will consider that Lowell has done her full duty by me."

Mr. Cassidy, for lieutenant-governor, carried the city by 1493 and it is the opinion that he suffered throughout the state by being listed as a candidate on democratic nomination papers rather than as a regular democrat. The French-American voters paid a nice compliment to Mr. Charles J. Mariel, democratic candidate for secretary of state, who carried the city by 1911.

Congressional Contest

On Monday night Hon. Joseph J. Flynn said to a reporter of The Sun: "If Carmichael is defeated it will not be the fault of Lawrence, but of Lowell. I will guarantee you that Carmichael will carry Lawrence by at least 1500 votes. It remains for Lowell to do as well." Mr. Flynn made good his assurance for Lawrence gave Carmichael a majority of 3685; Lowell produced a majority of 93. Practically every country town gave Carmichael a net gain even to Little Tynessboro where

WOMAN SUES

FOR COSTLY FURNISHING IN HER HOUSE

MONTCLAIR, N. J., Nov. 9.—Mrs. W. C. Stewart, who was ejected from her home, 208 South Mountain avenue, on Sept. 26 last, has begun a suit in the county court to recover practically all the furnishings in the house. The value of the furnishings is said to be about $60,000. A writ has been served on Mary Kennedy, in whose charge the mansion has been left by the legal representatives of Mrs. W. B. Leeds, stepdaughter of Mrs. Stewart, the owner of the house.

Mrs. Stewart gives a detailed list of the articles in the house which she says belong to her. The enumeration of the list takes up sixteen typewritten pages. Mrs. Stewart at the time of her eviction from the house said that a large part of the furnishings were purchased in New York stores, where Mrs. Leeds directed that she have carte blanche in ordering articles for the rehabilitation of the interior of the mansion which the widow of the tinplate man had bought for the use of her father, W. C. Stewart, and his wife.

Judge Adams of the Essex county court has directed that service in the replevin suit of Mrs. Stewart be made on Mrs. Leeds by mail. It is said that Mrs. Leeds is in Trouville, France.

Officer Rourke Shows Leniency to Prisoner Who Assaulted Him

Martin Curtin appeared before Judge Hadley in police court this morning on complaints charging him with drunkenness and assault upon Patrolman, Michael Rourke. Through his counsel, Daniel J. Donahue, pleas of guilty were entered and the clemency of the court requested. Inasmuch as the defendant has a wife and two children dependent upon him the officer did not care about pressing the assault charge and agreed to have the matter continued for one week in order that Curtin might make restitution for his loss of time, medical expenses and damage done to his clothing.

Monday night while Patrolman Rourke was passing through Agawam street Mrs. Curtin and her two children met him and the woman informed him that her husband was drunk and after threatening to do them bodily harm put them out of the house. The officer went to the Curtin house only to find that Curtin had left. He remained in the vicinity for about 15 minutes and was about to leave when Curtin entered the yard and after using vile language asked the officer what he was doing there.

Patrolman Rourke told Curtin that a complaint had been made and that unless he behaved himself he would be sent to the station. As the officer turned his back on Curtin to leave the yard the latter struck him over the head, breaking his helmet. This followed a rough and tumble fight in which the guardian of the peace got the better of the argument without resorting to any excessive use of force.

Curtin was brought to the patrol box at the junction of Agawam and Lawrence streets. While Patrolman Rourke was attempting to put in a call Curtin grabbed his right hand and getting three of the officer's fingers in his mouth chewed them severely. A blow on the side of the face caused Curtin to let go but he still continued to fight and the officer in spite of his injured hand got the better of his man and finally landed him at the police station.

When the case was called in court yesterday it was continued till this morning. When the patrolman stated his side of the case to the court the latter said that he had a right to prosecute the man if he wished to do so, but Patrolman Rourke said that on account of the man's family he would not wish to see the man go to jail.

Drunken Offenders

Mary Mann, charged with being drunk, was ordered to pay a fine of $5. Two first offenders were fined $2 each while two simple drunks were released.

EXPRESS STRIKE RIOT

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—An important conference was held today by representatives of the express companies whose drivers and helpers are on strike and a delegation of strikers, together with officers of the drivers' union to bring about a settlement of the present labor dispute which threatens to develop into a general strike to "everything on wheels." The question of a "closed shop" is the rock upon which the companies and their men have split.

The labor delegates to this conference will report to a meeting of the joint executive council of the Brotherhood of Teamsters, where the question of the necessity for a general strike in order to assure success for the union will be discussed in the light of the result of the day's conference. If it is decided that a general strike has become necessary a monster mass meeting will be called for tomorrow when the question will be put to the rank and file for a vote.

One of the worst riots in the express strike occurred this afternoon in 5th avenue near the garage of the New York Taxicab Co. Drivers of four machines which were sent out were attacked by a mob, pulled off the machines and badly beaten. Police reserves finally beat off the mob. Several arrests were made.

INQUEST ORDERED INTO THE DEATH OF PRIVATE McFADDEN

NEWPORT, R. I., Nov. 9.—Medical Examiner Eeroy today ordered an inquest into the death of Private Thos. McFadden of the 109th coast artillery, who was found dead in a room at the Army and Navy Y. M. C. A. earlier in the day. It is believed, however, that death was due to natural causes. McFadden was 29 years old and enlisted from Haverhill, Mass.

A NOVEL FEATURE

LONDON, Nov. 9.—Sir Vasey Strong, London's first professional lord mayor, was inducted into office today, the civic pageant including one novel feature. The procession from the guildhall through the streets of the city to the law courts where the oath was administered and thence back to the Mansion house was devoted to the representation of four scenes from Shakespeare connected with important events in the history of London.

DR. ELLIOTT DEAD

BALTIMORE, Nov. 9.—Dr. Marshall Elliott, doctor of romance languages at Johns Hopkins university and one of the foremost scholars of the world in that field of literature, died here today, aged 64. Dr. Elliott had been a member of the faculty of Johns Hopkins university since its founding in 1876.

MANY APPLICANTS ARE SEEKING AID FROM THE CITY

The number of applicants for relief from the board of charities is on the increase. As a general rule the influx of people for aid commences about this time of the year and continues until the latter part of the spring.

There are many who have been securing aid from the city for years and they are considered "regulars" and then there are a number of new applicants who appear at the office at city hall.

As is usual there is a considerable demand for wood and coal owing to the cold weather and also an increase in the demand for provisions.

PRIZE OF $2500

BALTIMORE, Nov. 9.—Resides the regular program of hourly distance, duration and altitude flights scheduled for this afternoon at the aviation meet, it is announced that there will be an attempt for the grand altitude prize of $2500 offered by the Baltimore American and Star. A seven mile breeze was blowing this forenoon and the thermometer registered 49 degrees.

CASE DISMISSED

When the case against Ernest P. Parsons was called in police court an explanation was made to the court and the case was promptly dismissed.

Mr. Parsons states that during his absence from the city, a check which he had given overdraw his account, and the cashier of the bank which honored the check, not being acquainted with him, proceeded against him. As soon as he knew that his account was overdrawn he rectified the matter, and yesterday the court took immediate action when the circumstances were presented. Mr. Parsons was represented by Lawyer James P. O'Donnell.

is familiarly called "Pete," is a son of the late Alvah Fisher, who in life was one of Westford's foremost citizens. He is a brother of Judge Frederick Fisher and is associated with him in the practice of law. In this city, Mr. Fisher's campaign was ably managed by Ex-Secretary James P. Dunigan of North Chelmsford.

The vote of the district was as follows:

Fisher, D.	Wilkins, R.
Acton	105
Ayer	249
Carlisle	81
Chelmsford	345
Littleton	103
Westford	240
Totals	1076

LYNCH NEGROES SOUGHT DEATH

Two Hanged to the Same Pole

MONTEZUMA, Ga., Nov. 8.—Two negroes, instead of one as first reported, were hanged from a telegraph pole Monday night in Flint river swamps, less than a mile from the center of the city.

William Barnes and John Walker were held for the murder of Night Policeman Bush of Montezuma. Walker was forcibly taken from the jail at Oglethorpe by a mob. Barnes was arrested Monday and after being taken to Oglethorpe was brought back to the workhouse here. He is said to have made a full confession.

At 9 o'clock Monday night people here heard a number of pistol shots and investigating found the body of Barnes hanging from the telegraph pole and riddled with bullets. At midnight more pistol shots were heard, and yesterday morning the body of Walker was seen hanging from the same pole.

NEARLY DROWNED.

MAN WAS CAUGHT IN A FLOOD OF MILK

MIDDLEBURY, Vt., Nov. 8.—Marcel Currier, employed as manager of the local milk station of the Boston Dairy company, had a narrow escape from being drowned in milk Monday when a truck load of filled cans fell onto him.

He had loaded the truck with cans containing 450 gallons of milk preparatory to loading them into the car. The truck broke down, throwing Mr. Currier to the ground. The cans fell on top of him and the covers of every one of them came off, deluging him with the milky fluid intended for the breakfast cereal and coffee of the residents of Boston.

Mr. Currier was gasping for breath when rescued by bystanders. Aside from his drowning, his chest and legs were bruised by the heavy cans.

ASK YOUR GROCER

YOUTH WAS TOLD WHAT COUGH MEANT

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—The fragile figure of a half-grown lad sat huddled on an open bench opposite the Twenty-third street ferry house late last night. A chill wind from off the Hudson cut through his thread-bare clothes and a big policeman noticed that the boy's big brown eyes glowed with the light of fever. As the policeman strolled away there was a shot.

"Let me die," the boy was telling the patrolman. "I'm too tired to live. I'm sick. I have nothing to live for."

The bullet had only grazed his head. They said of 16-year-old Sam Sabornia at Bellevue yesterday that he came here to America to escape the dull poverty of his little Italian home and obtain an education. The Italian boy went to work in a "sweat shop." The long days of toil were followed by nights of study. His chest became hollow, his voice husky and then the cough came. A physician told him what it meant and last night the lad tried to end it all. In the hospital yesterday he had the first care and comfort he had known since he landed an ambulatory newcomer to America over a year ago.

STETSON SHOT

Received Full Charge From Friend's Gun

DAMARISCOTTA, Me., Nov. 8.—Abner Stetson of this town, while hunting rabbits in the neighboring woods yesterday morning, was the victim of a shotgun wound made by his friend and companion, Charles Sherman.

While the accident happened so suddenly that even Sherman is unable to give a complete account of it, it appears that Stetson was some 20 feet in the lead and both raised their guns evidently to fire at the same animal. Stetson fired and Sherman believes that in his excitement he suddenly stepped to one side just at the moment to catch in his right shoulder the full force of the fire from Sherman's gun.

The wound caused Stetson to faint away. Sherman bandaged the wound as best he could, then made Stetson comfortable and went in search of help to get the young man home.

A surgeon later removed more than 20 pieces shattered bone from the shoulder besides a quantity of shot. It is not believed the wound will prove fatal although Stetson will be likely to suffer from its effects for many months.

Sherman was grief-stricken over the affair, but his friends do not hold him responsible for the accident.

MILLS DESTROYED

Loss Is Estimated at $10,000

BRUNSWICK, Me., Nov. 8.—The second big fire loss for the week occurred last evening when the stocking factory of the Brunswick knitting mills was destroyed.

The fire was discovered by Arthème Belanger, Jr., a Western Union messenger boy, who gave the alarm from box 61 at 7:05 o'clock. The fire was first seen on the roof and was caused by sparks. It is said, from the evening trade to Lewiston on the Maine Central railroad.

When the firemen arrived the flames had a big start and as the three-story wooden building was as dry as tinder they were unable to save the mill or the boiler room, although a portion of the old part of the mill, in which there was no machinery, remains standing, although damaged.

The officers of the Brunswick knitting mills are Turner C. Hutton president and John P. Winchell treasurer. The mill had just been overhauled and was running on full time with orders on hand which would keep it busy all winter. The loss is between $10,000 and $11,000 with 80 per cent insurance.

A NEW DECREE

Has Been Issued By the Vatican

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—The Herald prints today a special cable dispatch dated at Rome, yesterday, as follows: "A decree of the utmost importance to all bishops and prelates in the United States has been issued by the consistorial congregation. Up to the present the bishops have been the sole arbiters in determining the removal of rectors of parishes, of which there are about 8000 in the United States. The new decree completely changes this system and establishes a rigorous procedure, regulating all such removals."

In the first place, the number of causes which can justify the removal of a rector against his will are clearly specified under nine heads, including perpetual insanity, grave physical or mental incapacity, loss of reputation, imminent danger of scandal, rooted hostility of the people, bad administration, gross neglect of parochial duties and confirmed disobedience, but even when any of these charges is obviously present the bishop cannot remove the offending rector on his own initiative.

In every diocese a number of examiners and consultants will be appointed. When a case of removal is to be discussed the bishop must call the two senior examiners, and with them institute a formal examination of the case. Then the bishop and the two examiners vote. If a majority of two is in favor of removal, the rector is formally invited to resign.

If he declines he has the right of presenting evidence to show that the decision was wrong, and the tribunal of three examines all the evidence he can bring. Then they vote again with the obligation of conscience not to decree his removal unless convinced of its justification and necessity. A majority of two again is necessary.

If this formal decision is again in favor of removal the rector may appeal. The bishop then summons the two senior consultants of the diocese and with them considers the appeal. If they confirm the decision the rector may present fresh evidence. If his removal is eventually decreed the bishop makes suitable provision for him.

The present decree is to apply to the entire church. It constitutes the first installment of the new code of ecclesiastical law which is to govern the Catholic church in all countries. It greatly diminishes the powers of bishops in most English-speaking countries and grants rectors of missions sixty of tenure and a legal guarantee which they have never before enjoyed. At the same time it will be welcomed by the bishops as relieving them of a very grave responsibility.

The decree also is most important as indicating the character of the new code of Pius X, which is the first complete attempt ever made to codify the legislation of the church. A commission of cardinals and 45 consultants, chosen from among the most learned experts in canon law, has been at work on this gigantic undertaking for seven years, and has only now completed its work.

At the beginning of the new year the first draft of the new code will be sent, with the strictest obligation of secrecy, to all the bishops in the world. They will be required to study it and suggest such changes as they may think advisable. Three months will be allowed for this work.

When all the copies of the draft, with the submitted observations, are returned to Rome, the pontifical commission for the codification of the canon law will examine and revise the entire work. The promulgation of the code will take place early in 1912, unless unforeseen events prevent it.

There was some idea of reopening the Vatican council for the solemn promulgation and the settlement of various important questions connected with the Scriptures, but this plan has been definitely abandoned.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

A few more days and Gertrude Elliott (Mrs. Forbes-Robertson) comes to the Opera House to accomplish the easy task of making the same deep searching impression with her portrayal of Glad, the wife of London's slums in "The Dawn of Tomorrow," that she has made with it here and wherever else she has appeared in Mrs. Burnett's splendid play. The task is an easy one, for in "The Dawn of Tomorrow" Miss Elliott possesses a truly remarkable vehicle as fine a thing as its justly celebrated author ever wrote. Not only is the play one of unusual and extraordinary merit, but the young artist's part therein is entirely worthy of her acknowledged creative powers. Miss Elliott's Glad is as finely executed a stage picture as may be found anywhere upon the boards today, and being as it is, part and parcel of a performance noteworthy in many another respect, there is small wonder the attraction has proven one of the most popular of the 11th. The date here is Friday, Nov. 11th.

SOUZA AND HIS BAND

Next Sunday afternoon at the Opera House, Souza and his famous band are scheduled to appear for one performance. This famous bandmaster is now on a farewell tour of the United States previous to a long European trip which is to begin in January. The band will give a concert here in the afternoon at the Boston theatre at night and the same excellent program will be heard here as in Boston. Seats for the engagement are now on sale and the demand for tickets indicates an unusual interest in the engagement.

NEW OPERA COMPANY

The management of the Opera House has been receiving an unusual number of inquiries concerning the forthcoming appearance here of the New Opera company. This company, which is now on a limited tour in connection with its New York and Chicago season, is composed of an unusually distinguished list of grand opera singers. Among them is Christian Hansen, the tenor who opened the new Boston Opera House last season and also appeared at the Metropolitan Opera House in New York. Another is Frances Hewitt Byrnes, soprano prima donna, an American widely known for her work at the Paris Opéra-Comique. William A. Kanten, tenor, is the man who created the role of Robin Hood with the Bostonians, one of the best known men on the American operatic stage. Vera Roberta, contralto, is another American woman who has won hard-earned operatic victories abroad, especially in Cologne, Vienna and Danzig.

Adams Sawyer, the essential features of Charles Felton Plagins' famous New England novel of the same name have been followed, and they are said to have been handled, to extremely clever advantage. It is a distinctly enjoyable piece, both in itself and in the ingeniously natural work of the people presenting it. The production is to be seen here soon. There is a laugh almost everywhere despite the tender seriousness pertaining to Alice Pettigill's pathetic figure as the much loved blind girl and to her value as the central figure of the love story. It is a most entertaining picture of rural life, and presented on quite a different plan from any other bucolic drama. Its features and typical characters are said to be exceptionally well presented. The engagement here is for next Monday and Tuesday, with daily matinees.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

For just a straight couple of hours of amusement of the sort to appeal to everybody, one wants to pay a visit to the Merrimack square theatre this week, for there if anywhere, such a bill is being presented.

There are for instance, Miss Gertrude LeClair and her pickaninnies appearing for the first time in this city. Miss LeClair is herself a singer and dancer of unusual ability, and her little army of dorkies do some of the unexpected dancing and singing you ever saw. They have all the latest hits in their repertoire and their act is a medley of songs and steps which will make a sure-fire hit.

The scenic stock company is presenting a delightful little farce in "The Village Widow." This is an intensely amusing bit from the pen of a well known playwright, presented in a capable manner. It is well worth seeing.

Miss Bijou Russell is the and dancer of the vaudeville stage, with emphasis on the "the." She is really a wonderful dancer, and besides her abilities in this line, is a singer of unusual accomplishments. Miss Russell presents an appealing act which everybody is sure to like. The Willards, two young men, present a really unusual exhibition of athletic stunts on the horizontal bars. There is a subdued vein of comedy in the act which makes it extremely amusing aside from its other

Today, will afford Lowell people the last chance to see the great boy scout picture at the Theatre Voyons, and all interested in this great movement should avail themselves of this opportunity. It will also be the last day of the showing of "Riders of the Plains," depicting the daily life of the members of the Royal Mounted Police of the Canadian Northwest. This picture is a thrilling and instructive one, taken near Cleghary, and the actors are genuine members of this great body of troops. Tomorrow the feature will be "Abraham Lincoln's Clemency," the greatest Civil war picture ever shown, introducing as one of its principal characters the martyr president. The accompanying bill is exceptional in every way and not one weak number appears on it.

HATHAWAY THEATRE

You won't be satisfied with one trip to Hathaway's theatre this week. The show is so good, there are so many really uptop points to it, that a second visit will really be needed to see everything. Take, for instance, the musical comedy, "The Silver Bottle," which Pauline Perry and company are giving. It's a real musical mixture, pretty girls, comedians, stunning costumes and catchy music. Miss Perry possesses an excellent voice and her appearance is calculated to please the most fastidious.

LADIES' HOSE

Other acts on this wholly good bill are: "Election Night," a very funny sketch, featuring John J. McCowan; the Alexandroff troupe of Russian folk dancers; H. T. MacConnell and others.

LADIES' HOSE

EMPIRE THEATRE

Owing to the many requests of our patrons the Moulin Rouge Orchestra which proved to be the chief attraction last week, will remain at the Empire for three more days. Very seldom in the history of popular vaudeville, has it been noted that an act has been kept for more than a week, but this wonderful organization of expert musicians, rendering as a program of wide range and excellence, did not afford all who were desirous of hearing them an opportunity of doing so, as the house was packed to the doors at every performance, consequently the music loving public must avail itself of this last opportunity as the engagement will positively close on Wednesday.

Our new features will consist of Shaw and Everts in a comedy skit, "The Captain and the Tarr," Crawford and Patterson a refined singing and dancing duo; Brooks and Kingman novelty acrobats, and the latest moving pictures.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

There will be an entire change of bill at the Academy tomorrow, which will include the three Dancing Allstars with the Black Prince; Mr. and Mrs. Lavinia in a comedy sketch entitled "Hobby's Dream," and Adams & Mack, comedy magicians, also new moving pictures. Admission 5 and 10 cents. Amateurs tonight. Watch for bargain day at the Academy.

LOCAL ELECTION

he made a net gain of 13 votes. But he went awfully bad in wards two, four and five of this city, the three democratic wards, and there was where his defeat came from. In each of the three democratic wards, Carmichael received a smaller vote than Flynn received two years ago.

The net gains made by Col. Carmichael in Lowell by wards are as follows:

Ward one, 272; ward two, 87; ward three, 318; ward four, 25; ward five, 13; ward six, 331; ward seven, 253; ward eight, 244; ward nine, 140; total, 1693. It will be noticed that Carmichael's net gain in wards two, four and five together was less than in any one of the other wards. The total gain in these three wards was 135, while ward nine, Col. Ames' own ward, did better than the three democratic wards with a net gain of 140. The congressional result was in doubt until the last returns were in. With Dracut and precinct three of ward one to be heard from the Ames' forces were claiming victory by about 300. The final corrected figures gave him a plurality of 654. His plurality two years ago was 5579, showing a remarkable change in sentiment even if victory did pause on the threshold. The Ames people, particularly Secretary Legare, received the surprise of the campaign when they looked over the vote in ward six. "The known vote will save him," said a well known republican at city hall when the result appeared to be in doubt. Col. Carmichael carried ward six by 122, while Senator Hibbard carried it by 94. In ward seven Ames carried the ward by 28, while Hibbard carried it by 147. Col. Carmichael's greatest net gain, 331, was made in ward six, a large proportion of the French-American voters reside in these two wards. Col. Ames carried his own precinct in ward nine by 8 votes, Col. Carmichael carried his own precinct in ward seven by 143. Frothingham carried Col. Ames precinct by 41 votes while Cassidy carried Col. Carmichael's precinct by 121.

The County Votes

Every democratic county candidate carried the city by a substantial majority, while Joseph L. Marin, the democratic candidate for associate commissioner, although he was a stranger to politics, received a remarkable vote, carrying the city by 2466, running second to Mr. Foss in this city. It is evident from the vote for district attorney that Mr. Higgins, the present incumbent, received a considerable amount of democratic support.

The Senatorial Contests

Mr. Philip Kieley of Lynn was defeated by Senator Bennett. In the seventh district, which includes two wards of Lowell, one ward of Lynn, and the Lord knows where else, but he certainly made Senator Bennett realize that he had been in a tight. Mr. Kieley carried ward five by 608 and ward nine by 119, a total in Lowell of 727, while he carried ward six of Lynn by 648. But the way stations between, 15 of them, stretching from Ayer Junction to the sea and narrowly escaping Henry Cabot Lodge's stronghold at Nahant and Egg Rock, did the business and Kieley went down by the comparatively narrow margin of 205.

In the eighth district Senator Hibbard carried the seven wards in Lowell, which are in his district, by 789, and the entire district by 1376. The district is estimated to be 1500 republican, and hence Hon. Fisher T. Pearson, the democratic candidate, made a good showing although defeated.

Rogers Came Strong

The republicans received a shock in the 14th district where James H. Rogers, the democratic candidate for representative, brought way down the vote of Rep. Stevens. Republican headquarters men laughed at the idea of Rogers coming anywhere near Rep. Stevens, but he did, and Stevens got by with only 167 to the good.

In the 15th, 16th and 18th districts the republicans won by a landslide.

In the 17th what looked to be a battle-royal before the votes were counted was on with Reps. Barlow and Stephen Monahan and Thomas F. Golden on the democratic. The results showed the republicans to be winners by increased majorities.

Cuff Increases Majority

That the voters of the 19th district were satisfied with the record of Rep. Thomas S. Cuff during the past year was evidenced by the fact that although opposed by a strong candidate in Frederick P. Marble he won out by an increased vote. During the year Rep. Cuff got through the bill to reimburse Tewksbury and other towns having state institutions for the loss of taxes, a bill which means money annually to Tewksbury, and the town rewarded him by giving him 99 large votes against 58 last year. Rep. Cuff carried the district by 197, an increase over last year.

THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR. TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER MONTH

The sworn daily average circulation of The Lowell Sun for the year 1909 was

16,828

Sworn to by John H. Harrington, proprietor, Martin H. Reidy, business manager, and Alfred Pilotte, pressman, of The Sun, before me, January 1, 1910. J. JOSEPH HENNESSY, Notary Public.

This is by far the largest average circulation of any newspaper in Lowell.

THE CONGRESSIONAL CONTEST

The city of Lowell is responsible for the defeat of Colonel Carmichael, who made such a splendid run outside Lowell against Congressman Ames. It is rather a peculiar commentary upon our local democracy that Colonel Carmichael lost most heavily in the democratic wards. He carried Lawrence by a majority of 1900, and his own city only by 93. The contrast is striking. It may be mentioned also that most of the other democratic candidates carried the city by large majorities.

On the whole, however, Colonel Carmichael is to be congratulated upon his splendid fight, and upon his vote outside of Lowell.

THE ELECTION OF FOSS

The election in the state of Massachusetts was next to New York, the most important to be decided throughout the entire country. Eugene N. Foss for many years has been a strong tariff reformer, and especially an advocate of Canadian reciprocity by which the cost of living can be reduced, and a great many advantages secured to the people of this country. His election yesterday by a sweeping majority has served notice to the republican party throughout the country that the people of this state are discontented, and are in open revolt against republican misrule.

As governor of Massachusetts Mr. Foss will be a prominent figure in the eyes of the nation for the next year, and it would not be at all surprising to find that he may also be prominent as a candidate for president in 1912.

The other results throughout the state show strong democratic gains, although the democrats have been disappointed in having added but one to their congressional delegation.

THE STATE COTTON STOREHOUSE

The state of Louisiana is building a great cotton storehouse at New Orleans, the purpose of which is to afford the cotton producers a place in which they can store their cotton in safety and relieve them from the extortion of private storehouses.

There is a good deal of discussion over this new departure by the state, as some of the opponents of the movement are claiming that it is socialistic, and that the state has no right to provide storage for merchandise in that way.

The state intends, however, to go right along with the project, and to issue certificates for the cotton held in storage that will be negotiable financially just as a government bond would be negotiable. The enterprise seems to be one that will commend itself to other states as a means of helping certain industries and protecting them against imposition by speculators.

In regard to fire-proof cotton storehouses we might mention that one of the largest in the state will soon be completed in this city by the Massachusetts Manufacturing company. It is of reinforced concrete construction, and will undoubtedly hold enough cotton to last the mill for several years. In this way it will protect the company from the fluctuations of the cotton market without paying the cost of storage as heretofore.

The other large general storehouse recently erected in Lowell will serve in a similar way for general merchandise, and will thus be a great benefit to the traders of the city.

We do not see any reasonable objection to either public or private storehouses. If wealthy manufacturing concerns can erect large storehouses of their own, it is but reasonable that the state should provide for concerns who cannot build their own storehouses, and who do not wish to pay exorbitant prices for the cost of storage.

SEVERE REBUKE TO ROOSEVELT

The election results of yesterday while not indicating a general democratic sweep brought sufficient reverses to the republican party to convince even the most unbending standpatter that the people of this nation resented the party's misrule in regard to the tariff, the special privileges for certain interests, and the general policy of sacrificing everything to perpetuity in office.

The results of the election show that the next house of representatives will be democratic, and that the republican strength in the senate will be reduced.

But perhaps an equally important result of yesterday's voting was the severe rebuke to Theodore Roosevelt, the self-constituted political boss and national dictator of republican policies. Practically every contest in which he figured was won by the democrats, and in the state of New York where he had staked his prestige upon the result the democrats swept the state, electing their candidate by a plurality of 100,000, and thus administering to Mr. Roosevelt one of the worst rebukes of his political career.

Indeed it might reasonably be expected that the results of yesterday's election would relieve the country of this dangerous public agitator who seems to imagine that the country will go to smash unless everybody does just as he directs.

The people of this country have taken steps to convince Mr. Roosevelt that they will not submit to any dictatorship from him, and the result of this election will probably settle the question of his candidacy for president in 1912.

When asked on Monday what the result would be in New York state he said: "We will knock them through the ropes." Mr. Roosevelt himself, to use his own slang phrase, has not only been knocked through the ropes, but "beaten to a frazzle."

SEEN AND HEARD

Appreciation among British collectors of the genius of Edgar Allan Poe is on the increase, as shown by the record price of $100 paid recently at a London auction for a copy of the first edition of "The Raven" and "Other Poems," published in New York in 1845. Its high value is doubtless due to the fact that it has an autograph inscription from Poe to Mrs. Elizabeth Barrett Browning, the distinguished English poet, previous to her marriage to Robert Browning.

The inscription reads, "To Miss Elizabeth Barrett, with the respects of Edgar A. Poe." The American record is higher still, $510 having been paid at the Thomas J. McKee sale in 1900 for a presentation copy of the same work from Poe to Sarah Helen Whitman, who wrote the small work defending Poe against the savage attacks made upon his character. This McKee copy also contained a presentation inscription of Sarah Helen Whitman to C. Fiske Harris.

This latest London price for a Poe rarity is far above what similar things have fetched in the British market in former years. In the Crompton library sale in 1891, a presentation copy from Poe to M. L. Houghton of a copy of "The Raven" brought only $7.50. At a sale in 1897, however, another copy realized $150. The price now paid is three times that amount, but is accounted for by the association of the names of two such distinguished authors as Poe and Mrs. Browning.

INDIAN SUMMER
A flood of gold and crimson
Sweeping across the sky,
And a touch of mystic sweetness
Lingers where the brown leaves lie;
Hushed hills and meadows
Half veiled in tender haze,
The crown of drear November
These "Indian Summer" days.

How sweet the fading glory,
And I fancy long ago
The Indians loved the beauty
Of this strange departing glow;
And suddenly a "future comes,"
Repeating olden tales,
Of ruddy fires and circling camps,
Dotted the sunny valleys.

Perhaps, 'tis but a vague romance,
Yet who, indeed, can tell?
We only know these "Indian" days
Hold an enchanting spell.

White clouds above a amber sky,
Soft mists upon the sea,
And a touch of wistful wonders,
And shadowy mystery.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Miss Mary Lois Kissell has started on an extended trip among the Indians of the southwest, where she will study basketry on its native heath. She is the first woman ever sent out by the American Museum of Natural History in New York for purposes of original research. The museum has a fine collection of Indian baskets, of all shapes and sizes and uses, covered with intricate designs in significant colors. Some of the facts of their construction are known, but the scientists are aware of many mysteries which await solution. "Mere Man"—even a scientific man—cannot get at these secrets. He tries, and the lacium old square mutters "He knows." Mene man discovers that the Indian woman is bound by rules of religious observance not to discuss her work with men. Even the braves of

ADVICE ABOUT THE SKIN

In the treatment and cure of eczema and other skin diseases, two conditions are necessary. One is to exclude dust, germs and air from the diseased parts, and the other is to set up the healing process at the same time. The new medical compound, Cadum, accomplishes both these results so effectively that the itching is stopped soon after it is applied, and the sore parts heal up quickly. Cadum is just as effective in the cure of pimples, blotches, acne, herpes, eruptions, chafings, psoriasis, sores, etc. 10c and 25c per box.

A RASH BECOMES MASS OF HUMOR

On Baby's Face, Head and Shoulders—Parents Decided He Could Not be Cured—Cuticura Made His Skin Perfectly Clear.

"Our boy was born in Toronto on Oct. 13, 1908, and when three months old a slight rash appeared on his cheek. What appeared to be a water blister would form. When it broke, matter would run out, starting new blisters until his face, head and shoulders were a mass of scabs and you could not see a particle of clear skin. Other parts of his body were affected, but not to such an extent. We did not know what to do for him and tried almost every advertised remedy without avail. Indeed some of them only added to his suffering and one in particular, the Kennedy, almost put the infant into a coma. The family doctor prescribed for him and told us to keep him in bed. We took him to a hospital. He was treated as an out-patient twice a week and he got worse, if anything. We then called in another doctor and inside of a week the boy was, to all appearances, cured and the doctor said his work was done. But the very next day it broke out as bad as ever."

"We decided that it could not be cured and must run its course and so we just kept his arms bandaged to his side to prevent his tearing his flesh. We had, Toronto, and shortly after our arrival in Duluth, the Cuticura Remedies were recommended. We started using them in May, 1909, and soon after the rash completely disappeared. I don't think he was the same child for Cuticura made his skin perfectly clear and he is entirely free from the rash. We had to stop using Cuticura for baby's bath, Robert Mann, Proctor, Minn., May 3, 1910."

THE MUNICIPALITIES

NEWS OF INTEREST TO STREET BUILDERS

SYRACUSE, Nov. 9.—The first experiment in treating Syracuse streets with oil emulsion to permanently lay the dust was made Aug. 12, under the directions of Arthur R. Thompson, deputy commissioner of public works, North Geddes street, from West Genesee street to the Lakeside boulevard, and the Lakeside boulevard, from this point to the new boulevard at Elmhurst avenue, is the stretch selected for the experiment. Mr. Thompson said that he believed this stretch of well-traveled thoroughfare would afford a thorough test of the efficacy of the oil for dust-laying purposes. If the practical test proves successful oil will be extensively used here on macadam and dirt streets to the exclusion of daily sprinkling with water.

WANTS FEDERAL GOV'T TO PAVE

TACOMA, Wash. — Commissioner Owen Woods, of the department of public works, is at a loss to know how to persuade the United States of America to pave the streets surrounding the new federal building. The officials to whom he has written tell him that the federal government claims that it derives no benefit from a pavement or a street as persons who go to it have to go anyway. The commissioner would be glad to hear the arguments used by any city that has succeeded in getting the government to pay.

READY TO LAY WOOD BLOCKS

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. — It was expected that there would be some delay in delivering sufficient quantities of wood blocks to push the repaving of Market street, from Sixteenth to the Schuylkill river, without interruption, but the special inspector for the department of public works, Robert L. Hicks, has received a telegram from the United States Wood Block Preserving company, at Norfolk, Va., announcing that its plant is ready to proceed with the cutting and treatment of the block, and that there will be no delay. About 25,000 yards of block will be required in the section now under construction. About 17,000 yards of blocks were used in the section from Delaware avenue to Sixteenth street.

STREETS PAVED WITH GOLD

PORTLAND, Ore.—Oregon has two cities whose streets are paved with gold, and neither lays claim to being the New Jerusalem, either. Medford and Jacksonville are the towns with the expensive pavements. Sand used in the cement sidewalks of Jacksonville is taken from the tailings of the gold and not all the gold was extracted from them. The tailings were piled up before the construction of a cyanide plant and not all the gold was extracted from it. The tailings will run $1 to the ton in free gold. The same material was used in paving the Medford streets. It is estimated that Medford pavements have more than $30,000 contained in them, exclusive of the cost of these improvements to the municipality.

GREAT SWEEP

Elected Governor of New York

Elected Governor of Pennsylvania

Elected Governor of Ohio

Was Made by the Democrats Throughout Country

BOSTON, Nov. 9.—The election of Dix in New York, Harmon in Ohio, Baldwin in Connecticut, Foss in Massachusetts, Wilson in New Jersey, and the probable election of a democratic majority in the house of representatives, and the probable triumph of the "rest" of the republican ticket.

That is the result of the election of 1910 as indicated by the returns compiled early this morning.

Political leaders condemn the result as a national rebuke to Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, as the democrats won in every state except New Hampshire, where the colonel spoke for the republican candidate.

It is the most humiliating and crushing rebuke ever suffered by a man who has been as Colonel Roosevelt has, the national leadership of the party.

In each of the states of Ohio, New York and Connecticut, where he made personal and humble appeals for the candidates for governor, the answer of the voting public was a crushing defeat for his candidate.

His complete humiliation was effected by the defeat of his pet representative in congress, Herbert Parsons of New York city, and by the defeat in his own election district in Nassau county by his neighbors and home folks of his local candidates for whom he had appealed.

Best figures obtainable at midnight indicated that John A. Dix would be elected by a plurality in the state of approximately 60,000.

Early figures showed that he might have 100,000 but New York's great east at the last moment rallied to the support of the republican ticket and Mr. Dix's plurality which the democrats fully expected he would get in this county, was reduced to something like 65,000.

Brooklyn gave an avalanche of votes for Dix. His plurality was slightly more than 23,000.

Protest Rooseveltism

Everywhere throughout the state the business men rallied to the support of Dix. They registered their protest to with which to meet an estimated plurality in New York city of 104,000 which meant that he would win if the ratio kept up by about 60,000. Those winds seemed to be blowing against the republican ticket however, and it appeared that the plurality of the head of the ticket would be nearer 50,000 than 60,000.

Woodruff, Machine Buried

One of the surprising and from the republican view point, startling developments was the defeat of every republican candidate for congress in all the districts of the entire city of New York. There are at present seven representatives. William S. Bennett, was beaten by Henry George and Mr. Parsons by Jefferson M. Levy. In Brooklyn the big republican districts which the Woodruff machine always swung, were buried in the ruins.

Another feature of the election which caused worry and astonishment to the republicans was the election of democratic assemblymen and senators in many parts of the state, making it possible, but not likely that there will be a democratic majority in both houses.

This would ensure the election of a democratic senator to succeed Chauncey M. Depew. At midnight it was certain that the republicans had gained 13 members of assembly and two senators.

Representative J. Sloan Fassett ("fighting Fassett"), who went down in defeat as candidate for governor in the last democratic clean-up in 1901, which defeated him for congress in the Chemung district, was also defeated. He is one of the Roosevelt school, and his defeat adds to the sting of the Roosevelt defeat.

Cannon Gets By

Speaker Cannon squeezed through in Illinois by a small margin.

The indications from early returns were that the house would surely be democratic by a margin possibly of 10 or 12. There were marked gains reported from Illinois, where Cook county was swept by a democratic hurricane. Five or six new democratic representatives to replace republicans were indicated by the returns from here. In New York city the gains promised to be seven. There were almost certain indications that there would be a gain of one democrat in Connecticut, three in New Jersey and quite a few in other western states.

It was a matter of note, and perhaps significance, that no returns were obtained which were in any way definite on congress in Missouri, Ohio, Indiana and Iowa, where hot fights were being waged. The general tidal wave of democracy which overflooded the country, however, led to the belief that there would be strong democratic gains in those sections.

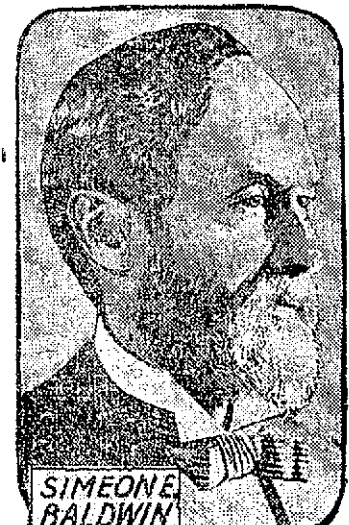

Beveridge Out of Race

The final defeat of Senator Albert J. Beveridge, the "insurgent" for whom Colonel Roosevelt fought for weeks for whom he made a personal tour of the state, is insured by the election in Indiana of a republican legislature. This is but one of a score of rebuffs which were accorded to the Roosevelt activity.

Definite figures were not obtainable on the result of the general result in Ohio at midnight, but the best estimates of the Harmon plurality were 30,000 with the loss of the "rest" of the ticket and the election of a republican legislature. This means that Charles Dick, present United States Senator from Ohio may be returned. It at least assures the return from Ohio of a republican to the senate.

Concedes Baldwin's Election

The election of Judge Simeon E. Baldwin in Connecticut was conceded by his opponent, Charles A. Goodwin, early in the evening and a message of congratulation was sent to the successful nominee. The defeat of a republican ticket in Connecticut is attributed by both republicans and democrats to the attacks made upon the democratic nominee by Colonel Roosevelt. These bitter assaults upon the judicial record of Judge Baldwin, who is regarded as perhaps the chief barrier of the Nutmeg State, ranted heavily, and in the estimates of the democrats and republicans, changed several thousand votes. It was in Connecticut that the democrats invited Colonel Roosevelt to "speak again" in Connecticut to insure beyond question the election of the democratic ticket.

Elected Governor of Connecticut

Rooseveltism just as they had threatened to do the tremendous plurality which the republicans said. Colonel Roosevelt would develop up state did not appear. The counties which made the best showing for him were those in which old guard leaders held sway and with whom it has been assumed by politicians, he made late day agreements in the hope of saving his ticket.

At midnight the indications were that all the democratic ticket would be elected. In New York city, for instance, with 1500 out of 1700 districts heard from Mr. Dix was running about 12,000 ahead of the rest of his ticket. But up state the disparity in the vote was much larger and the best deductions which could be made from the figures obtainable was that the "rest" of the ticket would run something like 40,000 to 50,000 behind and would probably get through.

With 1900 out of 2000 up state districts in Colonel Roosevelt's candidate for governor had an estimated plurality, based on the total vote of 42,000

It was estimated at midnight with most of the returns in that Judge Baldwin's plurality would be about 5000.

Certain of Wilson

With the polls in New Jersey remaining open until seven in the evening it was difficult at a late hour to get any accurate line on the vote, but it was the belief of all the democrats and most of the republicans that Woodrow Wilson would be elected by from 15,000 to 20,000. The bare election of Mr. Wilson would mean that a landslide swept Jersey, because while Governor Fort, republican, was elected by only 8000 the state is normally republican by 10,000 to 50,000.

"Cowboy" Dabman was elected governor of Nebraska despite the opposition of William J. Bryan. Iowa and Kansas gave their usual republican pluralities. Tennessee went republican by a small margin. A republican governor was elected in Minnesota and Mr. Bass, republican, was elected governor of New Hampshire.

Fear for 1912 Campaign

That the chief issue which brought about the democratic victories was anti-Rooseveltism, a fear that victory by the Oyster Bay resident would immediately start him on a campaign for the presidency was the belief among politicians. Second in importance was believed to be the high cost of living issue.

The results in New York state and in Ohio are of vital importance inasmuch as both will have their effect on the next presidential canvass two years hence. The defeat of the republicans in Ohio must be interpreted as not favoring the political fortunes of President Taft. The election of Harmon also means that he will very likely be the next democratic nominee for president. In New York the result is important because New York goes so goes the nation on occasions and the republicans have admitted that the loss of the state this fall would spell hard times in 1912.

TAMMANY LEADER

SAYS VICTORY IS A TRIUMPH FOR DECEY

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany hall, gave out the following statement at the wigwag last night when Mr. Dix's election was assured:

"The election of the entire Democratic ticket in the state is a signal triumph for decency and common sense. It marks the return to sanity and healthy conditions in our public life, and incidentally shows that the false prophets of doom and of fifth in spite of all their joint efforts to deceive and fool the people, are buried together in the same grave.

"I hope they may not greatly disturb each other there in deciding between themselves which was the more responsible for their memorable defeat.

"The victory is decisive enough to be shared by all decent citizens and places upon the democratic party a responsibility to which I feel assured they will respond in a manner to satisfy the best interests of progressive and good government in New York state."

BARRY ELECTED

The Democrats Made Sweep In Nashua

NASHUA, N. H., Nov. 9.—A democratic landslide is the result of yesterday's election in this city. The republicans lost their entire ticket in all but the first two wards.

Besides a good majority for Carr the indications, with two wards missing, are that William H. Barry, democratic candidate for mayor, has been elected by a majority of about 650 over Albert J. Field, republican.

This is the largest majority ever accorded a democratic candidate in Nashua.

General Jason E. Tolles, democratic mayor several years ago, had a majority of 699, which is the nearest approach to this victory.

Mr. Barry will have with him 21 of the 27 members of the city council, which means a complete retinue of city officers.

Wards 1 and 2 are the only ones in which republican ticket. Of the 20 representatives from Nashua, 15 will be democrats.

F. J. Gaffney was the only republican elected representative outside of wards 1 and 2. In ward 6 Edward H. Wason, chairman of the republican city committee and a candidate for speaker of the house, was defeated by George E. Shedd by 15 votes.

In the county fight Patrick H. Sullivan of Manchester, candidate for county solicitor on the democratic ticket, was accorded a good majority over Harry Spaulding in this city. With several towns and two wards to go, it is believed that Alvin J. Lufier, democrat, is elected senator in the 20th district over Lotie L. Minard, republican.

Nashua has gone license by about 700 majority.

BASS REELECTED

His Plurality Is Close to 7000

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 9.—Practically complete returns from yesterday's state election slightly amplify the extent of the republican victory. The revised figures give Bass, the republican nominee for governor, a plurality of very nearly 7000. With 280 out of 290 towns and wards in the state heard from the result stands:

Bass, republican, 42,503.

Carr, democrat, 35,549.

Currier and Sullivan, both republican, have been returned to congress.

The next legislature will be overwhelmingly republican. In the senate the republicans will have 15 members and the democrats 8. The lower house will contain a large preponderance of republicans, although a slight democratic gain is shown.

A feature of the gathering was the reading of a paper on "Antitoxins" by Dr. James B. Field. In opening he traced the history of the practice of inoculation for smallpox, which originated in China as early as the 16th century, was imported into Turkey and afterward introduced into England.

In 1788 Edward Jenner made known his discovery of vaccination with cowpox for the prevention of smallpox. The practice was introduced into this country the following year by Benjamin Waterhouse, first professor of medicine at Harvard university.

Considering the subject of hydrophobia, or rabies, the doctor said that notwithstanding the fact that there is occasionally a spurious hysterical attack in nervous people who have been bitten by a dog, yet there is such a thing as rabies, as has been demonstrated by the most recent findings in the spinal cord. On being bitten by a dog, the victim should have the dog examined by a veterinary surgeon. If hydrophobia is present, the preventive treatment discovered by Louis Pasteur should at once begin upon the patient.

Dr. Field spoke of the cure of diphtheria by antitoxin and the possibilities of similar treatment in tetanus and serum treatment in infantile paralysis. He also dwelt at considerable length on bacterial vaccines.

In conclusion, he said: "You must have noticed that nothing mentioned in this paper would have been possible without animal experimentation. To those of us who are bound to others by the ties of love and affection, the death of many animals would not seem too great a price to pay for the life of one we love. The antivivisectionist as a rule is woefully misinformed and looks at but one side of his subject."

"No profession has made such rapid strides of progress in the last 25 years as has the profession of medicine. Until recently the surgical side of our calling has given the most striking results. Preventive medicine and the purely medical side of our practice are now forging to the fore. With the prolongation of life, which is sure to come, may we and our descendants prove ourselves intellectually and morally worthy to receive it."

SAILOR BURKE

Bill McKinnon

BOSTON, Nov. 9.—Sailor Burke of Brooklyn was given the award over Bill McKinnon in their 12-round bout at the Boston Athletic Association.

Klaus of Pittsburgh was to have been Burke's opponent, but being indisposed he would not risk going against such a fellow as the sailor. The Pittsburgh man was introduced in the ring and explained his reason for not boxing.

When the referee gave the decision there was the usual howl, some claiming it should have been called a draw, others figuring McKinnon as the winner and many conceding that the decision was right.

For seven rounds McKinnon did well, using a left jab and hook that landed quite often on the sailor's face and jaw. In the second round he put the sailor down with a short left hook on the jaw. The sailor landed some stiff left jabs and rights on the face, but McKinnon always came back and generally landed a stiff counter on the face.

After the seventh round McKinnon appeared to have shot his bolt and he boxed poorly. Burke, during the last four rounds, sent some hard rights to the body and jaw. Though tired, McKinnon kept trying and landed some lefts on the face and rights on the side of the head. Several times he caught Burke in the face and on the jaw with back handed blows. In the breaks each caught the other with his guard down and landed stiff punches on the face and jaw.

It was a fast, hard fought contest, and proved to be better than the fans expected.

THE NEXT CONGRESS

May be in Control of the Democratic Party

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—While the returns indicated that the next house of representatives would be democratic, many of the republican leaders who are serving in the present congress will continue in the next house as members of the minority.

A number of the most prominent republicans went down to defeat. These included Representative Mann of Illinois, one of Speaker Cannon's closest lieutenants and the father of the railroad bill, passed in the closing days of the last session. Representative Tawney, of Minnesota, chairman of the house committee on appropriations, had been already defeated for re-nomination and his young successor at the primaries, Sidney Anderson, was elected yesterday. Speaker Cannon, republican floor leader, Sen. Payne, and republican whip Dwight, both of New York; Walter I. Smith of Iowa, and W. E. Gilreath of Pennsylvania, both of whom would have been candidates for speaker in the event of republican success; John Dalzell, of Pennsylvania, a member of both the ways and means, and rules committees, all of these being regular republicans close to the speaker, were returned to the next congress.

Some of the more conspicuous losers to the republican side are Madden and Moxley of Chicago, the last named holding the seat formerly filled by United States Senator Lorimer, and Herbert Parsons of New York and William S. Bennett who for a while this year has grown for the republican nomination for governor of New York.

Hamilton Fish of New York, prominent in the house "insurrection" was reported at midnight to have been defeated. Caleb Powers of Kentucky, a conspicuous figure in the prosecution following the shooting of Governor Goebel, will be one of the interesting figures of the next congress.

Republicans recovered the thirty-second New York district, which was lost only a year ago to the democrats when James S. Havens caused a sensation by wresting it from republican leader Aldrich. Yesterday that district elected a republican, Henry G. Danforth, who, with Farr, of the 10th Pennsylvania district, scored the only two certain republican gains in the house up to a late hour.

Early returns foreshadowed the defeat of William W. Cocks of the Oyster Bay district in congress and known as President Roosevelt's intimate personal friend.

One of the surprises in up-state New York was the defeat of Charles S. Millington, of the Ulster (27th) district in congress, a member who did not take any conspicuous part in the house, but who commanded interest in the represented Vice President, Sherman's home town. Millington was beaten by Charles A. Talcott.

Many of the original insurgents are left in the house, including Henry A. Cooper, whom Speaker Cannon deposed from the insular affairs committee and who in the riotous scenes of last March excoriated the speaker from the floor; Irvine L. Lenroot of Wisconsin, conspicuous as United States Senator La Follette's representative in the lower branch of congress.

Murdock and Madison of Kansas, Gardner of Massachusetts, and Kustermann of Wisconsin, at whose instigation the ship subsidy investigation was made last spring and summer.

The socialist gain expected by some of the Wisconsin members resulted in sending to congress Victor L. Berger of Milwaukee in place of William H. Stafford, a lieutenant of Representative Mann in the railroad bill fight. Stafford had not been renominated.

The shift of power from the republicans to the democrats in the next house, following out the strenuous predictions of minority leader Champ Clark, who is not only an open candidate for the speakership, but has been often mentioned as a possible democratic candidate for president in all probability will result in the republicans forcing through as much legislation as possible at the coming short session. The present congress expires on March 4.

FAIR WAS OPENED

In Vestry of St. Paul's Church

A three nights' fair opened in the vestry of St. Paul's church last night under very auspicious circumstances. There was a large attendance of parishioners and friends, an excellent entertainment program was carried out, the place was decorated in a beautiful and artistic manner and the different booths did a rushing business.

A feature of the evening was the banquet, an excellent menu being served.

The pastor, Rev. Hiram W. Hook had general charge of the affair and his guests during the evening were Rev. F. K. Stratton, Rev. and Mrs. L. W. Staples, Rev. George B. Dean and his sister, Mrs. Williamson, Rev. J. T. Carlyon and Rev. C. B. Fisher. The supper was provided by the Ladies' Aid society. The Germania orchestra played.

Tonight the T. M. T. M. club will furnish the entertainment, which is entitled "The Sweet Fanny." On Thursday night there will be a "Fair Drill" by the children.

The fair will be open at 4 o'clock p. m.

B. V. Searle, chairman; V. E. Melser, A. L. Macrae, Fred Brooks, Geo. Searloll, George H. Hinchcliffe, Garfield Horn, Walter Boynton, Charles Drew,

JUDSON HARMON

Was Re-elected Governor of Ohio

CLEVELAND, Nov. 9.—The democrats yesterday swept Ohio and in addition to electing Judson Harmon for a second term as governor have undoubtedly elected the remainder of their state ticket and a majority of the legislature. In consequence Senator Dick, republican, will be succeeded in 1911 by a democrat.

Sufficient returns this morning show that Harmon's plurality over Harding, republican, is the largest ever given by Ohio to a democrat. The latest estimates give Harmon a margin of 60,000.

Two hundred and ten precincts out of 369 in Cuyahoga county, which includes Cleveland gave Harmon 27,026 and Harding 15,436, against Harmon's 33,876 and Harris, republican, 27,346 in 1908. If carried out this would give Harmon a plurality of 16,000 in Cuyahoga county. Hamilton county was given to Harmon large gains over his vote two years ago.

The new Ohio congressional delegation will contain 13 and possibly 15 democrats out of the 21 as Congressman Goebel in the second district and Paul Howard in the 20th are being hard pressed by their democratic opponents.

DEMOCRAT HAS DEFEATED CONGRESSMAN PRATT

SCRANTON, Pa., Nov. 9.—George W. Kipp, democrat, has probably been elected to congress from the 14th district, defeating Congressman Pratt by about 800 plurality. Kipp's election will make the Pennsylvania delegation stand:

COLONIAL THEATRE

Last evening the "Aviation Girl" was presented before a large and appreciative audience. The aeroplane is a mystery; how the machine is floated over your head has puzzled many of Lowell's best mechanics. The aviation girl is a dainty little thing whose singing alone deserves credit. Tonight is the last time you will have to see this remarkable act.

Bunkett and Rittler, wooden shoe dancers, are the best Lowell has seen in many a day. Their style of dancing is a little different from what you have seen before. The pictures are novel and do not flicker.

Elected by Plurality of About 20,000

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 9.—John K. Tener's plurality for governor of Pennsylvania may be as low as 30,000 or even much less when complete figures are in. Estimates for 63 of the counties give the republican candidate a lead of about 28,000 and the missing counties, Elk, Northampton, Pike and Snyder, are expected to show pluralities for William H. Berry, the Keystone party candidate. Webster Grim, the democratic gubernatorial candidate, ran far behind his two opponents. Philadelphia gave Tener a greatly reduced plurality, he carrying the city by 45,254 votes over Berry. Estimates show that Berry, democrat, polled sufficient independent votes to carry the state outside of Philadelphia.

Congressman Reynolds, republican, for lieutenant governor, and Henry Rouch, republican, for secretary of internal affairs, were elected by pluralities about the same as Tener's.

The Pennsylvania congressional delegation, according to the latest figures, stands: republican 22, democrats 8, with two districts doubtful, as compared with the present delegation of 27 republicans and 5 democrats.

of the Falge Street Baptist church. Other greetings were extended by H. C. Fuller and Deacon Warren L. Floyd of the First Baptist church, and Emile Deignon. Written greetings were also read from Rev. A. P. Blouin of the Central M. E. church; J. N. Williams of Providence, former secretary of the Home Mission society; and the Chalmers Street Free Baptist church.

At the close of the evening Mr. Ramette responded feelingly to all the friendly tributes which had been so kindly extended him, and which gave him, he said, much encouragement in the taking up of his work.

Besides the speeches, there was a delightful program of music. The church orchestra played. Miss Louise Desforges sang charmingly first in English, "The Golden Gate," and then as her second number, in French, a composition by Mr. Ramette himself, and entitled "Nom de Jesus." There was also singing by the congregation. Miss Emma Desforges played the organ.

During the latter part of the evening refreshments were served under the direction of Mrs. D. H. Laporte, president of the committee. Assisting Mrs. Laporte were: Mrs. J. B. Menard, Mrs. Nelson Belanger and Mrs. Telephone Desforges.

Mr. Ramette and his wife are both natives of France, where their marriage took place, and came to America 26 years ago. Mr. Ramette has been in the ministry 20 years, having filled two pastorates during these years, the first of nine years in Providence, and the second and last, of 11 years in Woonsocket. He is a graduate of Newton Theological seminary.

A GRAND MEDICINE

For Coughs and Colds

"I think DR. GRADY'S PURE MALT AND RYE is a grand medicine. I have taken three bottles, and I think it is just what is required in every home. One night my wife coughed so long, I thought she would die. At last I thought of half a bottle of DR. GRADY'S PURE MALT AND RYE that I had in my medicine chest. I also got some hot water and put two spoonfuls of this grand medicine in a half glass of hot water and sweetened to taste. She went to sleep, and I don't think she ever coughed since that night. I am also taking DR. GRADY'S LIVER PILLS for sour stomach and liver trouble, and am glad to say that they have helped me more than anything that I have ever tried."

Yours truly, JAMES HARRISON, 45 East Merrimack St., Lowell, Mass.

Have You Tried?

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? We can furnish positive proof that it has made many remarkable cures after all other means had failed.

Women who are suffering with some form of female illness should consider this.

As such evidence read these two unsolicited testimonial letters. We guarantee they are genuine and honest statements of facts.

Cresson, Pa.—"Five years ago I had a bad fall, and hurt myself inwardly. I was under a doctor's care for nine weeks, and when I stopped I grew worse again. I sent for a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, took it as directed, and now I am a stout, hearty woman."—Mrs. Ella E. Atkey, Cresson, Pa.

Baird, Wash.—"A year ago I was sick with kidney and bladder troubles and female weakness. The doctors gave me up. All they could do was to just let me go as easily as possible. I was advised by friends to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier. I am completely cured of my illness, and I am nearly sixty years old."—Mrs. Sarah Leighton, Baird, Wash.

Evidence like the above is abundant showing that the derangements of the female organism which breed all kinds of miserable feelings and which ordinary practice does not cure, are the very disorders that give way to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Women who are afflicted with similar troubles, after reading two such letters as the above, should be encouraged to try this wonderfully helpful remedy.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.
